For Violation of the Game Law.

On Wednesday last Augustus Violette, of the Parish of Drummond, Victoria County, was convicted before magistrate Edward Abilgarde, of the Danish Colony, of having taken a cow moose, and was sentenced to pay a fine of $100.00 and costs or to be confined in jail for two months. In default of payment he was sent to jail. On the trial it appeared that two game wardens, George Price and Reme Ouilette met Violette in the woods in the month of October where he was baiting a bear trap with a large piece of moose meat; the remainder of the carcass and the hide were hanging up near by. The head of the animal was not to be found, but on search the wardens found the udder under a stump. On the trial Violette swore that he had not killed the moose but had found it dead in the woods and proceeded to skin it. The magistrate held that even if he had not killed it, the mere fact of taking possession of it was a violation of the game law, for which Violette is now paying the penalty. L. B. Knight, chief game commissioner of the Province was at the trial and Stephen B. Appleby, K. C., appeared on behalf of the prosecution. J. J. Gallagher appeared for the defendant. Mr. Knight is determined to put an end to violations of the game law.

Armstrong-De Yone.

Despite the rough roads and stormy weather an extremely pretty wedding took place at John De Yone's, Red Rapids, on Wednesday November 27th, when his youngest daughter Annie was united in marriage to Marshall only son of Albert Armstrong, of Perth. Rev. M. A. O'Keefe, of Grand Falls, performed the ceremony. The bride entered the parlor on her father's arm. Miss Eulia Langen was bridesmaid and Mr. Fuler-ton best man. The bride wore a handsome tailor made costume of navy-blue broad-cloth and the bridegroom was attired in white bed-ford cord. Miss Emily Langen played the wedding march. Guests immediately after the ceremony sat down to a beautiful repast, after which Mr. and Mrs. Armstrong took their departure for their future home in Perth. The presents were costly and too numerous to mention.

Burglars at Brown's Flats.

The summer residences of the Rev. G. M. Ballentine, of Mendota, Ill., and the Rev. G. W. Macdonald, of this city, and the house of Capt. Charles Gorham, at Brown's Flats, were broken into on Sunday and many things of value stolen. Capt. Gorham was away on his woodboat, and on his return last night found his house broken open and many things missing. The Rev. Mr. Macdonald had left a great deal of silverware and other household goods in his cottage. Every portion of the house was ransacked and turned topsy-turvy. The thieves gained admittance by prying the shutters off the windows. Mrs. Belyea, whose husband keeps the hotel at Brown's Flats, first discovered that some persons were in the summer cottages on the camp grounds. Her husband was away at the time and immediately on his return informed him she believed thieves were at work. He at once proceeded to investigate, but the miscreants had left when he reached the cottages. Certain persons, who have before been guilty of breaking into summer houses at the camp grounds, are strongly suspected.

The executive of the Reformed Baptist Alliance will issue a circular offering a large reward for information leading to the arrest and punishment of the offenders.

Nearly every cottage at Brown's Flats has within a short time been broken into and the owners think it is time the offenders were brought to justice.—St. John Globe.

The crew of stone cutters and masons consisting of ten men, working on the abutments of the C. P. R. bridge across the Meduxnakeag, having finished the three piers that had been started, left town on Tuesday morning for Moore's Mills, Charlotte Co., where Mr. McVay, the contractor has another contract. He will be back in the spring to build the other pier and the two abutments for the Meduxnakeag bridge. Before leaving town Mr. McVay, the contractor, Mr. Candle, the foreman, and Mrs. Candle, Mr. Hall foreman of masonry and the rest of the party presented Mrs. Colin Campbell, the wife of the proprietor of the Riverside Hotel, at which they stopped, with an address expressing their appreciation of the great kindness with which they had been treated at the Riverside Hotel.

FRANK E. SHEA has severed his connection with the Baird Co., and will go to Boston, where he will open a drug store. J. Fred Sanborn has taken Mr. Shea's place in the wholesale department of the Baird Co.

MOTT GRAHAM, son of James Graham, died at his father's home here, on Monday morning, of appendicitis, in the 12th year of his age. The remains were taken to Hawke-shaw this morning, for interment.

HOME FROM THE WEST.

John Whitney, an Avondale man, 65 Years Old, Braves the Elements at the Edge of the Arctic Circle and Comes Back Looking Well.

John Whitney, of Avondale, Carleton County, a well known gentleman, has just returned from Alaska, where, though he is over sixty three years of age, he took his share of the hardships of life and has returned looking as young and active as he was twenty years ago.

Mr. Whitney and John Walton left Woodstock in April 1898 for the Yukon, taking with them a patent steam drill and thawing machine from which they expected great results. They went to Vancouver, Dawson, down the Yukon till they struck the mouth of the Stewart river. They were accompanied by E. Cox, of Millville, York Co., who is now Mr. Whitney's partner. They spent the months of July and August on the Stewart when they sold their thawing machine (because it was not up to its work in frozen gravel) and returned to Dawson.

Mr. Whitney says he did not find the climate nor the work severe. At Dawson the thermometer would drop to 60° below zero, but it was a dry climate and there were no winds. He crossed the Chilcoot pass in May on his first trip into the country. He carried a valise with him, his other stuff going in by carriers. The Chilcoot was like a flight of stairs several thousand feet high but not particularly hard to climb.

He located some claims at Dawson and then in June of last year he took a steamer on the Yukon for St. Michaels, a distance of over 2000 miles. From St. Michaels he went to Nome and thence to Teller which is 90 miles north west of Nome. From Teller it is just 150 miles across the Strait to Siberia. Mr. Whitney says it is generally believed that Russia will throw Siberia open next year and if she does there will be a big rush for that country, via Alaska, for the miners look upon Siberia as extremely rich in gold.

He staked some claims at Teller and at Nome and later he took a vessel at Teller and sailed to Seattle, a distance of about 2700 miles.

Mr. Whitney says that Dawson is the best regulated mining town he was ever in. The condition of the Canadian country a credit to the Mounted Police and is in sharp contrast to that of Alaska. He says that at Dawson and Nome the Salvation Army is doing a charitable and rescue work that is very much needed.

Mr. Whitney and his partner Mr. Cox have nine mining claims in that country, two of which are being worked. He speaks very modestly about them, says he doesn't really know if they are valuable but rather thinks they are some good and hopes they will pan out well. He brings back with him some valuable nuggets and some gold dust that is interesting to people who have not prospected for themselves. This was not by any means Mr. Whitney's first mining experience, for in 1877 he and Mr. George Smith of this town prospected and mined in the Black Hills.

COME IN AND BUY.

The Town Council Repeals the By Law Requiring Non Resident Produce Buyers to Take out a License—The Property Owners Must Keep Clean the Sidewalk Before Their Stores.

At the regular monthly meeting of the town council on Monday evening Mayor Belyea was in the chair, all the councillors were present.

The town treasurers report for November showed a debit bank balance of $5298.17; expenditures in November $1331.31; receipts in November $1845.03. The report was referred to the usual committee.

The town marshal's report was deferred until Friday night.

The police magistrate's report showed a collection of fines in November of $50.00. Referred to committee.

On motion it was decided to place $350 insurance on the pest house.

Coun. Lindsay informed the council that he had been approached by ratepayers who complained to him that they were buying farm produce in town and that strangers had come in here and competed with them without paying taxes or a license. He said he informed the Marshal and had instructed him to take measures to fine these strangers for a violation of that town by-law which provides that no man, not a ratepayer, shall buy farm produce in town without paying for a license. The Marshal had ignored his instructions. Coun. Lindsay thought that the by-laws should be enforced or repealed, and in order to bring the matter before the board he moved that it be repealed.

Coun. Dibblee in seconding the motion said it certainly should be replaced. It was the most obnoxious by-law ever passed. It was a most absurd business policy for us to turn away from our town men who came here to buy our products. A farmer had complained to him a few days ago that he had brought pork to town to sell, but he could not find a market for it, as the Quebec buyer who had been taking all the pork that came, had been driven away from town by the demand for a license fee. The farmer said the Quebec buyer had gone to Hartland to buy and he would have to go there to sell.

Coun. Dibblee called attention to the fact that H. H. McCain, M. P. P. had spent $1400.00 for pork in town on at least two occasions this winter and he asked if it would be a wise thing to drive Mr. McCain away from town. With the Hartland bridge above us we were required to do what we could to attract buyers to our town rather than drive them away, for the buyers could go to Hartland and draw the farmers there easily.

The by law was unanimously repealed.

Coun. Carr directed the attention of the board to the fact that the by law requiring property holders to keep the side walks in front of their places clean of snow was being disregarded, particularly on the north side of Queen Street. On that street the sidewalks were in a wretched condition and were dangerous on account of the snow slides from the roofs. A man might meet his death on the north side of Queen St. from a falling icicle or snow slide. He moved that the Marshal be instructed to call the attention of the property holders to the by law bearing on this and insist that it be observed. The motion was seconded by Coun. Dibblee and carried.

Death of Mrs. C. N. Killam.

Mrs. Killam, wife of Charles N. Killam the well known contractor and builder of Woodstock, died at her home here on Thursday morning of last week, leaving a husband, one son and one daughter and a large circle of friends to mourn their loss. Mrs. Killam was only 29 years of age. The funeral took place on Monday afternoon. The service was conducted by the Rev. Mr. Fash of the Albert Street Baptist church. Mrs. L. A. Jonah of Petitcodiac, sister of Mr. Killam, was in Woodstock attending the funeral.

Death of Samuel Freeman.

Samuel Freeman, of Hartford, a well-known figure on the streets of Woodstock, died suddenly at his home, on Sunday morning, in the 81st year of his age. He was in town on Saturday afternoon, with his son, Frank, in as good health as usual. He went home at about 6.30, had supper and went to bed. At four o'clock he awoke, rose up and attempted to get out of bed, when he fell dead to the floor. Heart disease was the cause.

THE gold mine at Biggar Ridge, owned by Miller, McPhail & Brown, promises to "pan out" richly. The contractor for the preliminary work, says the steam drill has reached a depth of 70 feet. At 28 feet gold in the leaf form has been struck; it has a dark yellow cast, is as thin as fine writing paper and pliable as lead, very much like the California gold. At 60 feet the same kind of metal was found, only a brighter yellow and the latter is found continually. About $800 has been expended.
