German Militarism.

New York Outlook: During the past summer three events have taken place in Germany which indicate a condition of Military dominance analogous to that in France. Two of these cases involved the imprisonment of civilians for periods of from four days to three weeks for speaking disrespectfully to army officers. The civilians had just cause for their comments. The third case, far more serious, involves the execution of a sergeant accused of the murder of his chief, although the accused had been acquitted by a regularly constituted court. The prisoner's name is Marten; he was accused of the murder of Major von Krosigk at Gambinnen in East Prussia. At the court-martial, whenever evidences of the Major's brutal behavior to his men were given, the court excluded publicity. Only purely circumstantial evidence was put in against Marten, and the evidence showed that he was a person of unimpeachable character and an excellent soldier. The only thing which could really be urged against him was that his fear of punishment had led him to break prison after his arrest, and though the court was obliged to acquit him of the murder, it condemned him to an extravagantly long term of imprisonment for his breach of discipline. The prosecuting officer, however, appealed against the sentence on the ground that it was inadequate. A new trial was held. No new evidence was presented. This time, however, the court condemned Marten to death, holding, first, that it was out of the question to suppose the murder committed by anyone but a soldier; second, that Marten's behavior had led him to arouse suspicion, acknowledging that his superior's maltreatment of him might be motive enough for the crime—adding that, although a good soldier, Marten had always been easily angered! Sentiment among German army officers appears to be that, as some punishment for the murder of an officer is required, if the guilty person cannot be found the penalty must fall on the one concerning whom there is ground for suspicion. An officer writing in the Hamburger Nachrichten says: "The interests of a solitary individual like Marten must be subordinated to the general interests of the army. Even were Marten innocent, his execution would cause a wholesome fear among men. If the murder is unrevenged, all order is at an end."

CURES ECZEMA! Dr. Agnew's Ointment can count its cured patients by the thousands. But in no one skin disease is it so many almost marvellous cures as in cases of Eczema—this tenacious skin disorder which has baffled many a physician in seeking after a cure. One application puts out the fire, takes away the itching, stinging sensation, and after a few applications the eruptions begin to dry up, diminish, and eventually disappear entirely. The beauty of the treatment is, it leaves no scar or trace of the trouble—but a skin as soft as baby's. Cures piles in four to six nights. 35 cts. Sold by Garden Bros.

The Ruling Passion The life insurance agent was at the end of a long and creditable life, and his clergyman had been deputed to tell him death was at hand. The information was tenderly conveyed, and calmly received, and then the good man continued: "I feel sure there is peace and happiness for you beyond. You have been an earnest brother in the faith and a busy man, and I believe that all ahead is bright and fair." "But how about yourself?" asked the dying man.

The clergyman's face conveyed a mild astonishment and enquiry. "I'm talking about that policy you have been holding off from taking so long. Is all ahead 'bright and fair' for you with no life insurance? I'm leaving plenty of it for my family, but where would yours be if we were to change places?"

"It is a timely thought," said his friend, "and I will attend to it at once." "No time like the present," said the agent. "The application is in my desk over there. Suppose you fill it out now, and the doctor in the next room will examine you right off. I insured him the second day he called, after I was taken down. You'll do it? Thanks; you'll never regret it, and it will help us out on the new business for the end of the year. Good-bye."

Rheumatism is a Constitutional Disease. The pain and localized conditions are mere results of constitutional conditions. Poisoned blood sends its evil influence to various parts of the body, and to cure permanently you must treat it constitutionally. Nothing so completely dispels these poisons from the system as Ferrozone. It makes new blood. It imparts vitality and vigor, enabling the system to throw off the poisons that engender rheumatism. Ferrozone also fortifies the system against the weakening effects of rheumatism, and cures, not simply relieves as most medicines do.—Sold by Garden Bros.

Nervous Headache, Brain Fag, Dyspepsia.

The Sufferings of a Business Man Overcome by Worry and Exhausting Brain Work—Dr. Chase's Nerve Food Cures.

Sick, nervous headache and nervous dyspepsia or indigestion are usually found together, and have a common cause in an exhausted condition of the nerves. Modern headache powders are simply narcotics that deaden the afflicted nerves. They are harmful and frequently dangerous. The only way to effect a thorough cure is to restore the nerves by such treatment as Dr. Chase's Nerve Food. Mr. Joseph Geroux, 22 Metcalf street, Ottawa, Ont., writes:—"I was nervous, had headache and brain fag. I was restless at night and could not sleep. My appetite was poor, and I suffered from nervous dyspepsia. Little business cares worried and irritated me. After having used Dr. Chase's Nerve Food for about two months, I can frankly say that I feel like a new man. My appetite is good, I rest and sleep well, and this treatment has strengthened me wonderfully. Dr. Chase's Nerve Food is certainly the best medicine I ever used, and I say so because I want to give full credit where it is due." Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, 50 cents a box; 6 boxes for $2.50, at all dealers or Edmanson, Bates & Co., Toronto.

tion was paid to the propensity for misappropriation exhibited by the patient, particularly as the abstracted articles were returned the day after their removal. Finally the physician missed his jewel box of value, but this was not brought back, and on investigation, it was found that the address given was false, and that the pretended patient and her father were crafty rogues.

An hotel keeper in the Catskills put up a sign as an advertisement: "Fifty dollars will be paid to anyone who can beat this hotel for two dollar a day." Not long afterwards a slick fellow arrived. He occupied a room and took three square meal; then he vanished. The proprietor had him arrested by the village constable, under the charge of defrauding or "beating" his hotel. The fellow hired a country lawyer, who promptly sued the landlord for the fifty dollars reward, claiming that it was a fair game, as he had "beaten" the house for the two dollars a day. The prisoner, being discharged, gave the claim for fifty dollars to the lawyer for his fee. The lawyer sued, and, in the course of events, being indebted to the judge, turned the claim over to him. His Honor went promptly to the hotel to board out the bill, and on Sunday had the landlord arrested for contempt of court because there was no chicken pie served.

Too Big a Price to Pay Even for an Exposition.

N. Y. Post: It is cause for regret that locating the St. Louis Exposition in Forest Park of that city involves the destruction of one of the finest natural features of the park. All the trees on 668 acres of the park are to be cut down, including a tract of forty acres, known as the "Wilderness," where nature hitherto held undisputed sway. Chicago for her great fair reclaimed a tract of mud flats on the lakeside, since added to the city's park area, but St. Louis sacrifices a section of the finest park, dear to all citizens—sacrifices a feature which cannot be replaced in a generation, and for which the temporary and artificial glories of the Exposition will be a sorry recompense. Possibly, in innocent irony, a part of the deforested tract will be occupied with the forestry building, where exhibits and lectures may be made on the care of what remains of our forest land.

SPEAKER'S SORE THROAT. Public speakers and singers know how useless and sickening are cough mixtures, sprays, lozenges, &c., for irritable or sore throat, and state that the most satisfactory remedy is Catarrhazone, the advantage of which is that it acts quickly and is convenient to use in public places. Catarrhazone relieves congestion, allays inflammation, and is a protection to the membranes. As a safe guard against colds and Catarrh it has no equal. Rev. Mr. McKay, Goderich, says "Catarrhazone is an excellent remedy for throat irritation." Physicians, ministers and singers recommend Catarrhazone, druggists sell it for $1. Small size 25c. By mail from Polson & Co., Kingston, Ont.—Sold by Garden Bros.

The Metric System in England.

As a result of the labors of the committee appointed by the Association of Chambers of Commerce of England, to look into the metric system, they have adopted the following resolutions: (1) That the chambers should unite in urging upon the Government the compulsory adoption of the metric system of weights and measures, leaving matters of detail to be considered later. (2) That a British decimal system of coinage must be on the basis of retaining the sovereign, with the florin as a unit, divided into a hundred cents or farthings. (3) That there should be nickel coins of five and ten cents, and bronze coins of one, two and four cent or farthings.

A Lesson in Composition.

"Children," said the teacher, while instructing the class in composition, "you should not attempt any flight of fancy, but simply be yourselves, and write what is in you. Do not imitate any other person's writings or draw inspiration from outside sources."

As a result of this advice Johnny Wise turned in the following composition:

"We should not attempt any flights of fancy, but rite what is in us. In me there is my stummick, lungs, hart, liver, two apples, one piece of pie, one stick lemon candy, and my dinner."

Abe Lincoln, though captain of a company of Illinois volunteers enlisted during an Indian uprising under "Black Hawk," knew very little of military rules. One day he was drilling his men, and they were marching twenty abreast across a field, when he wished to pass through a gate into the next field. "I could not for the life of me," said Lincoln afterwards, "recall the proper word of command for getting my company endwise so that it could get through the gate; so, as we came near the gate I shouted: 'This company is dismissed for two minutes, when it will fall in again on the other side of the gate.'" When he became a great public man Lincoln told no story with more gusto than he did this one.

Few People Escape The Torture of Piles

And Dr. Chase's Ointment is the Only Positive and Guaranteed Cure for This Wretched Disease.

There is usually very little satisfaction in consulting a physician regarding a case of piles. In nine cases out of ten he will recommend a surgical operation, forgetting, it may be, the risk, suffering and physical as well as financial expense which this treatment entails. For this reason very many people are going about in misery with piles, believing that they cannot be cured except by means of the surgeon's knife.

It is to such persons that this advertisement will bring good news of great value. Dr. Chase's Ointment has never failed to cure piles and it is recognized the world over as absolutely the only preparation that can be relied upon to cure every form of this frightfully common ailment.

It seems strange that anyone should suffer the wretched uneasiness and acute torture of burning, itching piles when it is so easy to procure Dr. Chase's Ointment. Nearly every dealer in medicine keeps Dr. Chase's Ointment, and you can apply it at home without any inconvenience. If you prefer send 60 cents to Edmanson Bates & Co., Toronto, and a box will be sent postpaid to your address. Ask your neighbor or druggist about this remarkable remedy.
