"OUR QUEEN! GOD BLESS HER!"

Her Gracious Majesty, Victoria, Queen of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland, Empress of India, lies at death's door. On Thursday she was stricken with paralysis, and the Court physicians express the opinion that her death is only a matter of a few days or even hours.

The sympathy of the whole world goes out to this good woman who has sat on the throne of England for almost sixty four years. Her constant solicitude for the well being of her subjects and her Empire, her sympathy with a democratic form of Government, her disapproval of war, the purity of her court, all have given her a place in the hearts of her own subjects and of the whole world, never before held by any monarch of Great Britain or any other country.

The intense strain to which she has been subject during the past year has been sufficient to break down a stronger system than that of a woman over eighty years old.

[Since the above was written, just as we go to press, the Queen passes away.]

POLITICS IN CARLETON.

None of the politicians in Carleton County want a fight for the vacant seat in the Legislature. They all say they have had enough, and an attempt is being made to bring about an understanding between the two parties, whereby some man may be elected by acclamation. The name of Major Good, who has just returned from South Africa, has been mentioned in this connection. It is fairly well understood that if the two parties can't agree on a man, and an election is inevitable, Major Good will be the Government Candidate. The election will probably be held in February.

Farwell.

Miss Mary S. Turner, daughter of Deacon G. C. Turner, of Connell, left on Friday the 11th inst., for Worcester, Mass., to take a nurse's course at the City Hospital. One the Saturday evening previous to her departure, the members of the Connell Free Baptist church, choir and Sunday school for whom she had been organist for some years, pleasantly surprised her by gathering at her home and presenting her with an address and a beautiful gold chain and clasp. J. N. Perry, who acted as chairman, called the meeting to order, after which three young ladies, members of the choir, proceeded with the presentation. Hymns "Blest be the tie that binds" and "God be with you till we meet again," were sung with Miss Leah Perry at the organ. Miss Eva Flanagan read the following address and Miss Ethel Ebbett presented the chair.

Miss Mary Turner:—
DEAR SISTER,—We the members of the Connell Free Baptist church, choir and Sunday school, having heard with feelings of regret that you have decided to leave us for a time and cast your lot with strangers, desire in a slight manner to express our appreciation of the very efficient manner in which you have filled the position of organist. You have not only efficiently filled that position, but you have been interested in each department of church life and have been a willing helper. You will not only be missed by the choir, but you will be missed in the Sunday school by the young people and children, who through your efforts sang so nicely at the Sunday school concert held here a few months ago. To say, you will be missed is but idle words, as the departure of one who is ever ready to lend a helping hand, cannot help but be felt. Although you will be absent from us, we trust that as the hour arrives for church and Sunday School, you will think of us, and will pray that God may bless us each abundantly. Our prayer is that you may be spared to accomplish whatever you have in view, and that God's choicest blessings may rest upon you. And now, dear sister we ask you to accept this chain as a small token of our love and esteem for you, and we hope and pray that all your efforts may be crowned with success and that the time may speedily come when you will return to your native land.

Your sincere friends,
Connell, N. B. Jan. 5th 1901.

Miss Turner although completely surprised made a touching reply to the address and presentation. She thanked her friends for their expressions of gratitude and esteem, and for their beautiful gift which she would not only value for its worth and beauty, but it would ever be a reminder of the dear friends at home, who had proven their friendship in so tangible a manner and her prayer was that they might all be spared to meet again, and former ties and associations be renewed.

A Grand Reception.
A grand reception was tendered the returned soldier, Robert Smith of Lakeville on Saturday January 12th 1901 in the hall of Lakeville.

The week previous a meeting was called for arrangements and committees were formed to carry out the good work.

Rev. W. H. Spargo was elected chairman H. C. Stokes Secretary; G. W. White, E. L. West, Dr. Bearisto, John Williams, Burno King, R. W. Fowler were elected committee of Programe. John Waters, Harry Carvell, Robert Carvell, Dr. Bearisto Wm Emory, Reception Committe. E. L. West, R. W. Fowler, W. H. Carvell, Testimonial committee. Miss Lena Carvell and the ladies of the neighborhood, Decoration Committee.

The hall was beautifully decorated with evergreens, bunting and Flags which reflected great credit on all concerned.

At seven o'clock p. m. the Mechainc's Band of Centreville headed a procession to the hall from the residence of George Smith, illuminated by torch light, despite a raging storm.

The Rev. W. H. Spargo took the chair and a splendid audience awaited the arrival of "our guest," and as he entered a rousing cheer greeted him. When order was restored, the chairman read and presented the following address of welcome, with Testimonial. To Robert Smith, member of the Woodstock Barrery, R. C. A., on his return from the war in South Africa.

January 12th 1901.
Dear sir,—we the parishoners of the parish of Wilmot, County of Carleton Province of New Brunswick Dominion of Canada.

Desire to express our appreciation of the noble service rendered both to Her Sovereign Majesty, Victoria, Queen of Britain and Ireland and Empress of India, and to our noble country the dominion of Canada, and in the response you and your comrades give to "the call to arms, for the defence of the Empire to go to South Africa to fight the battles of the nation in the cause of righteousness, liberty, and national progress; you went forth followed by the sympathy, and prayer of the nation; and during the year of your absence from us, we have not ceased to be interested in your success and safety. And it is with deepest heat felt gratitude to Almighty God, that we express our joy, at your safe return to home, and friends, and native land. We followed you from the shores of our land, to the shores of the enemy's country, and with continued anxiety watched the proceeding of the 2nd Contingent and especially E. Battery containing our noble Woodstock Quota. Your voyage across the ocean your enthusiastic reception at Cape town S. A., your tedious marches, your hazardous toil, your energy and pluck, your courage in battle and best of all the many victories you have won for your Queen and country. We also feel proud of your manly courage in the midst of so many dangers, and temptations, that with firm and unyielding fidelity to the high principles of true manhood, you absolutely refused to be a partner in the evils of intemperance, and with true nobleness you have maintained an unblemished example before your comrades. Yours has been a patriotism of the true kind, a noble patriotism that moved every faculty of your nature in the maintenance of the nations honor; a patriotism that was not based on greed or gain; and you gave to your nation your whole life, fearness and strong you pressed forward in the fight, having nothing in view but the presentation of the Unity of the Empress.

Surely you have merited the noble utterance of your commander-in chief, himself a hero soldier, the noble Bob's field marshal, Roberts, in his appeal to the nation. "I am proud of my comrades, they are heroes on the battlefield, and gentlemen on all other occasions. How can we other than enthusiastically receive you, and give you the heartiest welcome home it is in our hearts to render. You have quit yourselves like men, and we recognize your worth to the nation; for it is men of noble bearing, pure and virtuous principles good habits, trained in head and heart, and with lion hearted courage, that make a great nation, and we need not fear the future, "if to our purpose we are true." God and the right. Let me conclude in the beautiful lines of a recent poem:—

We've lost you Tommy Atkins, you're gone for good and all,
The absent minded beggar's put to bed,
But we feel as proud as Adam must have felt before the fall
For you're heroes and your gentlemen instead.
The wise one, and the brave one, the one who cannot lie
Has blazoned forth your title to the world,
And you've got to keep it nobly and unstained until you die
For Bob's own comrades keep the flag unfurled.
The poet spoke with wisdom though he hardly knew it then

DIED.
MARR.—At Northampton, on Thursday, January 17th, Henry E. aged 5 years and 2 months, only child of Edgar M. and Eva May Marr.

When those money making words fell from his mouth,
Now we've got to take our hats off and salute the gentlemen
The gentlemen in khaki from the south.
In the come-mana cottage in the lovely Kyles of Bute
In St. David's or the roaring London streets,
For his own sake and his comrades who are lying still and mute
Remember its a gentleman we meet.

From Montreal the firey cross lit up the northern sky
The answering beacon lit Port Jackson's foam,
Our brave kinsmen earn a glory, that will never, never die,
And we won't forget the gentlemen from home.
Its a fragile kind of halo, that made from a glasses rim,
In life tips not much glory's ever found,
The man has done us honor and we've got to honor him
And do our duty as in duty bound.

There are ways, and means, and manners, if you only use your mind
And take a little trouble just to think,
Our gratitude must be of a sore and sorry kind
If we try to wipe the slate with have a drink.
We've lost you Tommy Atkins, you're gone for good and all,
The absent minded beggar's put to bed,
But we feel as proud as Adam must have felt before the fall
For you're heroes and you're gentlemen instead.
You are a hero and a gentleman and it is with great pleasure I accord to you a right royal Canadiana. welcome home. And we ask you to accept this chain and charm as a token of the personal esteem in which you are held in the parish.

Sincerely yours, in behalf of the above,
W. H. SPARGO.

The presentation being given, the following gentlemen, viz his worshipful Mayor Murphg, F. B. Carvell, Esq, George S. Saunders Esq., and J. K. Flemming M. P. P. gave excellent addresses suitable to the occasion.

The Band played choice selections the addresses, which were very much appreciated by the audience.

Three cheers and a tiger, were given for our hero and three cheers for the Queen.

The Band closed the interesting programme by playing the National anthem in fine style.

A treat for all was distributed, and everybody expressed themselves as having enjoyed a splendid time

Yours truly
