Names for the Farms.

We name farm animals as a matter of convenience. So should we name farms. The farm with a name has a handle. The owners of farms change. Some die, more sell out and move away. It is hard to identify farms by the names of their owners or tenants. What was the Jones Farm ten years ago may be the Smith Farm today, and will be the Brown Farm ten years hence. Very often indeed lawyers and others would be assisted in their work, misunderstandings and mistakes would be avoided, vexation would be escaped, if farms could be identified by permanent names—names that belonged to them and not to their owners. If farms were named, it would be easy to give a preciseness to legal documents, advertisements, directions about routes, etc., that is impossible in a region of nameless farms.

The free delivery of mail to farmers has come to stay. Undoubtedly it will be rapidly and widely extended. It will make the country less unlike the city. In the city it is necessary to give to large buildings names and to small ones numbers, not only that people may find their way and that the precise location of things may be stated, but that letters and papers and express packages and telegrams may be delivered to the proper persons. Now, if farms were named it would make the delivery of mail to the farmers having free delivery surer and easier.

The up-to-date farmer, or breeder, or fruit-grower, or dairyman, will find it a great advantage to name his farm, so that his products can be easily identified, for his products ought to be of such superior quality that if identified they will soon secure a reputation that has a considerable money value, and then the name, like a trademark, will have a value.—[Contributor Country Gentleman.

No Excuse For People Who Wear Rusty or Faded Clothes.

DIAMOND DYES

Will Make the Old Things Look as Good as New.

If the majority of people cannot afford to buy new dresses, jackets, capes, waists or suits of clothes every three or six months, the use of Diamond Dyes will enable them to renew at trifling cost their faded or rusty garments, making them as handsome as new ones. Mrs. W. L. Woodward, of Cresswell, Ont., says: "I have always used Diamond Dyes with the best results, but my last trial of them has exceeded all previous efforts. I have just dyed a dress of the very finest brown Henrietta Cloth with Diamond Dye Fast Black for Wool, making it look as well as new goods from the store. There is no excuse for anyone wearing old clothes while Diamond Dyes are sold."

Grace Before Meat.

The custom of saying grace at meals had, probably, its origin in the early times of the world, and the hunter-state of man when dinners were precarious things, and a full meal was something more than a common blessing! when a bellyfall was a wind-fall, and looked like a special providence. In the shouts of triumphant songs with which, after a season of sharp abstinence, a lucky booty of deer's or goat's flesh would naturally be ushered home, existed, perhaps, the germ of the modern grace. It is not otherwise easy to be understood, why the blessing of food—the act of eating—should have a particular expression of thanksgiving annexed to it, distinct from that implied and silent gratitude with which we are expected to enter upon the enjoyment of the many other various gifts and good things of existence.

I own that I am disposed to say grace upon twenty other occasions in the course of the day beside my dinner. I want a form for setting out for a pleasant walk, for a moonlight ramble, for a friendly meeting, or a solved problem. Why have we none for books, those spiritual repasts—a grace before Milton—a grace before Shakespeare—a devotional exercise proper to be said before reading the Fairy Queen?—Charles Lamb's essays on Elia.

His Prayer.

Little Frederick had been advised to add a petition or two of his own to his "Now I lay me" and his mamma was anxious to know how the advice had been acted upon. "Did you add something to your prayer, Frederick?" she asked. "Yes mamma." "What did you say?" "I asked the Lord to tell you how to bring me up."

Grace Greenwood, leaving a tea party after telling a funny story, was begged to stay and tell another. "No," she said, "I can't get more than one story high on a cup of tea."—Youth's Companion.

Asthma Gasps

Too many asthma sufferers give up their search for cure, believing that their particular case is beyond the control of scientific treatment.

It is only necessary to point all such to a new hope in Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine, the one great remedy which has proven its efficiency not only as a prompt relief, but also as a thorough cure for asthma.

Mrs. George Budden, Putnamville, Ont., says:—"I feel it my duty to recommend Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine, as I had the asthma very bad; could get nothing to do me good. A friend of mine persuaded me to try this remedy, I did so, and it cured me." "It is impossible to imagine a better treatment for asthma than Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine. It soothes the excited nerves, clears the bronchial tubes, gives prompt relief to the distressing spasms, and, when used regularly, thoroughly and permanently cures asthma. 25 cents, all dealers," or EDMANSON, BATES & CO., Toronto.

Experienced Corns and Warts

Your unsatisfactory experience with other preparations should not influence you against "Putnam's."

It was the first, the best, the only painless corn cure. Give it a trial. A corn treated with other remedies would do so again if it could help it. Give your corn a chance. Druggists who sell only the best always sell Putnam's Painless Corn Extractor.

The Real Thing.

Still the best society held her at arm's length.

"How do you know," asked society, with a cold sneer, "that your husband has genuine gout, rather than mere rheumatism?"

"Because," the woman replied, dignifiedly, "he has carried a raw potato in his pocket for two months, now, without getting well!"

At this they were abashed, and many thereof invited her to their 5 o'clocks.—Detroit Journal.

13 Running Sores.

Mr. Stephen Westcott, Freeport, N.S., gives the following experience with Burdock Blood Purifier.

"I was very much run down in health and employed a medical physician who attended me three months; finally my leg broke out in running sores with fearful burning. I had thirteen running sores at one time from my knee to the top of my foot. All the medicine I took did me no good, so I threw it aside and tried B.B.B. When one-half the bottle was gone I noticed a change for the better and by the time I had finished two bottles my leg was perfectly healed and my health greatly improved."

How Twain Introduced Hawley.

"Only once did Mark Twain appear in public as a political speaker," says Will M. Clements in Ainslee's. "As a conscientious republican in his political preferences Mr. Clements took an active interest in the presidential campaign of 1880. While visiting in Elmira, N. Y., in the fall of that year he made a short speech one Saturday night, introducing to a Republican meeting General Hawley of Connecticut. In the course of his remarks Mr. Clements said:

"General Hawley is a member of my church at Hartford and the author of 'Beautiful Snow.' Maybe he will deny that. But I am only here to give him a character from his last place. As a pure citizen I respect him, as a personal friend of years I have the warmest regard for him, as a neighbor whose vegetable garden adjoins mine—why—why, I watch him. As the author of 'Beautiful Snow,' he has added a new pang to winter. He is a square, true man in honest politics, and I must say he occupies a mighty lonesome position. So broad, so bountiful is his character that he never turned a tramp empty handed from his door, but always gave him a letter of introduction to me. Pure, honest, incorruptible, that is Joe Hawley. Such a man in politics is like a bottle of perfume in a glue factory—it may moderate the stench, but it doesn't destroy it. I haven't said any more of him than I would say of myself. Ladies and gentlemen, this is General Hawley."

A Pocket Physician

Is something unique. To be had in a Catarrhozone Inhaler. This wonderful, convenient little instrument is very versatile, it actually kills those nasty colds in the head in half an hour, and relieves sore throat in about five minutes. Patients recovering from pneumonia find Catarrhozone a valuable aid, as it strengthens and improves the lungs. For the voice nothing is half so good, and the great singers, public speakers use Catarrhozone and say they would not be without it because it prevents hoarseness and renders the voice capable of greater endurance. As for Catarrh, Asthma and Bronchitis, Catarrhozone alone is the only positive cure for these diseases. Ladies affirm that for sick headache and tired feeling across the eyes nothing is so helpful as Catarrhozone, which also restores impaired hearing that is caused by Catarrh. Catarrhozone prevents and is guaranteed to cure all diseases of the respiratory organs, and you can get it from any druggist, large size, $1.00; small size, 25c. A trial sent for 10c, by N. C. Folsom & Co., Kingston, Canada, or Hartford, Conn., U. S.

The Englishman Caught On.

An Englishman on his first visit to this city with his family strolled down Broadway alone one night and dropped into a music hall. He had hardly been seated before two skit-artists perpetrated the following:

Persiflage—Hear about Jones? Terrible thing happened to Jones.

Badrinage—No.

Persiflage—Yes. He dropped 350 feet.

Badrinage—You don't tell me? Of course he was killed?

Persiflage—No, not killed. They were pigs' feet.

A half hour later the Briton grasped his sides and startled the house with an outburst of cachinatory ecstasy. Recovering, he jumped up, hurried out of the music hall and soon reached his hotel. He stopped outside the door of his room and gave way again to a soul-sarring laugh. Entering the room he immediately called to his wife:

"Edith," he cried. "Oh, this is the jolliest ever!" and he gave way again.

His wife looked at him in frightened surprise.

"Oh, Edith, did you ever hear about Percy Smithers?"

"No."

"Bah Jove, the poor fellow fell 350 feet."

"How dreadfully horrid! He must have been awfully mangled."

"No. He fell on 350 pigs," and he exploded again and did not subside until a half dozen bell boys rushed to his room to make solicitous inquiries.

Colds that Hang On

Pneumonia is the result of neglected chest colds, colds that hang on and inflame and irritate the bronchial tubes and lungs. To promptly and thoroughly cure chest colds, tightness in the chest, and all colds in the throat and bronchial tubes Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine has proved itself the most effectual remedy extant. Its sale is simply enormous. 25 cents a bottle. Family size 60 cents.

A Supreme Court Incident.

While John G. Carlisle was arguing that the constitution does follow the flag, in the supreme court, the other day, a court messenger came to Justice Harlan and whispered to him. Justice Harlan listened, dived into a trousers pocket and brought out a silver box. This he handed to the messenger, who took it to Justice White says the New York World. Everybody in the court room knew that Justice White had asked Justice Harlan for a chew of tobacco, and that Justice Harlan had sent Justice White his box.

Justice White was conscious that the entire court room was watching him with lively curiosity to see him take his chew. So he concealed the box under a law book leaned back, and for ten minutes pretended to be engrossed in the argument. Then his hand stole out, and he opened the box and took his chew. He called the messenger, and sent the box back to Justice Harlan. Justice Harlan bit off another chunk of plug himself, and then everybody turned to hear what Carlisle was saying. The incident was closed.

As a Food For the Skin

Powders may cover up the disgusting eruptions, but can never cure them, and are positively injurious, because they clog up the pores of the skin. Dr. Chase's Ointment is a food for the skin. It is readily absorbed, and thoroughly cures each and every skin disease, making the skin smooth, soft and clear.

No woman's toilet is complete without Dr. Chase's Ointment, for, besides being the most perfect skin beautifier obtainable, it can be used in a score of different ways. It absolutely cures eczema, salt rheum and the itching to which women are especially subject.

When the feet are sore and chafed with walking an application of Dr. Chase's Ointment takes out the smarting and allays the inflammation in a surprisingly short time. Then for burns, scalds and every sort of chafing, irritation or eruption of the skin, Dr. Chase's Ointment affords a safe and certain cure. It has come to be indispensable in scores of thousands of homes; 60 cents a box, at all dealers', or Edmanson, Bates & Co., Toronto.
