Disposing of the Paramount.
Major Henry A. Newman, the Missouri ex-Confederate, was one of those who could speak on all other issues better than he could on the paramount. He got in the way of ignoring the subject which the Kansas City Convention had declared to be vital.
One day during the campaign Major Newman was down at Popular Bluff preaching Missouri Democracy pure and undefiled in his best form, but retreating from any discussion of "the haul-down-the-flag" proposition.
Among the Major's auditors was a citizen who marked the omission and interrupted.
"How about the Phillipayins?" he asked with a brogue which left no doubt as to his nativity.
Major Newman continued without appearing to notice the questioner.
"How about the Phillipayins?" came again at the end of one of the Major's best periods.
Half a dozen of these interruptions followed with no apparent let-up to the Irishman's perseverance.
"My friend," said Major Newman at length, "I'll tell you all about the Philli-payins."
The imitation of the brogue was perfect and everybody chuckled.
"I'll tell you, confidentially," said the Major seriously, "what I'm in favor of doing with the Phillipayins. I'd trade the Philli-payins to Great Britain for Ireland, and then we could raise our own policemen."—St.
Louis Globe-Democrat.

To Nervous Women
Mrs D W Cronsberry, of 168 Richmond Street, Toronto, says:—"My daughter's nerves were so exhausted and she was so weak and debilitated that she had to give up work, and was almost a victim of nervous prostration. Dr Chase's Nerve Food proved an excellent remedy in restoring her to health and strength. After having used four boxes she is at work again healthy and happy. 50 cts a box, at all dealers.

He Got Some Work to do.
"Prisoner," said the learned Magistrate to a lazy fellow before him, "this is the third time you've been here."
"But, your Honor," pleaded the prisoner,
"I've been trying to get work and couldn't."
"You wouldn't work if you could get it."
"Yes, I would, your Honor."
"What kind of work?"
"Anything, your Honor, so long as it was honest work."
"What kind of wages?"
"Wages is no object, your Honor; all I want is work, with food, and clothing, and a shelter."
"And you'd work if you had that sort of a job?"
"Indeed, I would, your Honor; only try me," and the tears actually came into his eyes.
"Very well," said the Magistrate, kindly,
"we'll give you a job, with shelter, food, and clothing combined. Six month's hard labor.
Next case."—[Tit-Bits.

Tired Of Being In Print.
"Mr. Smithers," said his wife, "if I remember rightly, you have often said that you disliked to see a woman constantly getting herself into print?"
"I do," said Smithers positively.
"You considered it unwomanly and indecate, I believe?"
"Very."
"And you don't see how any man could allow his wife to do anything of the kind?"
"Yes, I think so now."
"Well, Mr. Smithers, in view of all the facts in the case, I feel justified in asking you for a new silk dress."
"Yes for the last eight years I have had nothing better than a fourpenny calico, and I want something better. I'm tired of getting into print."—[Tit-Bits.

ago three bottles of this great remedy cured him—not a pain since—isn't that encouragement for rheumatic sufferers?—82

A Library for Farmers.
George E. Baxter of Andover, in a letter to the Co-Operative Farmer, says:
"The Victoria County Dairy Association has taken a step in the right direction. At its annual meeting recently held at Andover, it decided to only send two delegates to Fredericton and to limit the cost to $10 and a committee was appointed to consider the ways and means of starting a circulating library and to report. The government grants to the Association $50, and if some of the money could be spent in standard works on agriculture and circulated among the members, it would be a beginning that would have most beneficial results.
It seems difficult for the average farmer to get good books to read, somehow he seems to have no money to invest in agricultural books. It is with great difficulty that he takes an Agricultural paper, some do not

A Woman's Troubles.

Mrs. Chas. Keeling, sen., Owen Sound, Ont., writes:—"It is a pleasure to tell what great benefits I have derived from the use of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food. I am 55 years of age, and for about five years my life was one of great suffering from nervousness, weakness and extreme physical exhaustion. I could not sleep, and hot flushes would pass through my body from feet to head.
I consulted our family physician and two other doctors, but they told me that about my time of life I was likely to be troubled in this way. I continually grew worse and despaired of ever being cured. Dr. Chase's Nerve Food came to my notice, and as we have Dr. Chase's Recipe Book I had confidence in the doctor. I was so surprised at the help I received from the first box that I bought three more.
They built me right up and made me feel healthy and young again. They have proven a great blessing to me, and I hope this testimonial will be of help to some weak, nervous woman suffering as I did."

even take a paper. But if the County Dairy Association had a library in connection with it, many a farmer would be able to read a book or two during the winter when otherwise he would not read any. Then from a number of reading farmers the desire would manifest itself for a few meetings for talks and interchange of ideas.
The management of a small library would be a matter of detail that some interested member would do voluntarily. If the number of books were limited and the membership large, a book could not, perhaps, be kept longer than a week, and then be mailed to another member and so on, thus keeping the books in circulation.
By some such a method I am hopeful that the great principle of co-operation that has done so much for our agricultural development, will enable the farmers of this county to turn their winter evenings to the advancement of the cause of good farming.

Rev. Joseph Noble.
The Blaine, Maine, correspondent of the Bangor Daily News, in the issue of the 4th., inst., says:—

Rev. Joseph Noble, of Woodstock, N. B., was in town a few days ago, the guest of his son, W. A. Noble. He is a brother of the late Deacon Enoch Noble of this town and will soon be 88 years of age, the oldest active minister of the gospel in New Brunswick.
Entering the Free Baptist ministry in his early manhood, he has constantly devoted his time to that service for over 60 years, enjoys good health and looks upon a drive of 40 or 50 miles with the temperature below zero as a play spell, and recently returned from a trip to New York. As a preacher in the pulpit he is a ready, offhand speaker, and delivers his sermons with force and energy and is highly respected by the clergy of all denominations throughout a large section of New Brunswick. His religion is of the good old fashioned kind from his standpoint, and no half way Christian can have a celestial bank deposit. A few years ago he was presented with a valuable gold headed cane by the citizens of Woodstock, the mayor of that town making the presentation at a notable gathering of clergymen and members of the F. B. church.

Odd Callings for Women.
(New York Evening Post.)

Genteel poverty is one of the tragedies of modern society. Yet out of the evil comes good, and from absolute necessity clever women devise new modes of earning a livelihood. Most of those who find themselves in reduced circumstances take up ordinary callings, but a few plunge out of the beaten path and make some idle accomplishment the basis of a paying vocation. One young woman up town, who in the past learned to make lace as a fad, now puts it to practical use by repairing old and priceless laces. She carries what may be called a kit of tools, including a lacemaker's pillow, a full set of threads and various kinds of needles, and restores an injured collar or an ancient fichu in the presence of the owner. The work is exceedingly difficult and the reward correspondingly high.

Several women have taken up indexing.
Their patrons are people who keep scrapbooks, and who are too busy, or, as is more often the case, too negligent to index for themselves. The work is slow and laborous.
It demands a wide literary knowledge and often a knowledge of French and German.
The pay is moderate, being usually $3 a day.

Artistic and fancy bookbinding is practiced by eight or ten women in New York City.
This is a skilled trade of the highest class, demanding both technical skill and artistic ability. Two of the binders have done such good work as to make them moderately famous.

A Vassar girl with a penchant for chemistry found herself thrown upon her own resources three years ago, and adopted for her daily work the giving of instruction to members of her sex upon the object of cold cream.
To the uninitiated this seems a very simple matter, but in truth it is very complex. It involves a knowledge of the various facts and oils, including spermaceti, cocoa butter, wax, Japan wax, almond cream, lanoline and such medical ingredients as benzoic, camphor, myrrh, carbolic acid, sulphur, arsenic, zinc and white lead.

Women who contemplate a foreign tour, or who are to receive distinguished foreigners are often at a loss respecting the etiquette of European countries. They can get out of their trouble by taking a course of lessons from teachers who have lived abroad in days of wealth. At least ten bright young women have taken up dermatology with special reference to the hair and scalp. They visit the patrons the same as physicians, and earn a handsome living. At least two, in this city, clear more than $5,000 a year.

Restoring old photographs give profitable employment to a number of women who have become experts in the use of the camera. It does not pay very well in general, but now and then when there is strong family love involved it gives very handsome returns. One successful woman inlays books. The work is exceedingly hard and consists in scraping away a film from the surface of a blank sheet of paper so as to fit a printed piece which is to be set into it, and also removing a corresponding film from the back of the latter.
The two pieces are glued and subjected to great pressure. The result is a page which looks exactly as if it had been printed as an entirety.

Entertaining children is another new occupation. It demands much tact and infinite patience. Writing sentiments, letters and club addresses for indolent women of leisure is followed by many ex-school teachers and college alumnae.

HOW TO CURE A CORN.
It is one of the easiest things in the world to cure a corn. Do not use acids or other caustic preparations and don't cut a hole in your boot. It is simply to apply Putnam's Painless Corn and Wart Extractor and in three days the corn can be removed without pain. Sure, safe, painless. Take only Putnam's Corn Extractor.

How to Go to Market, in Pictures.
Mrs. Hill, one of the three famous editors of the Domestic Department of the Ladies' Home Journal, will contribute to that magazine during the coming year a series of illustrated lessons in marketing, showing to a woman's eye in photographs what has hitherto only been explained in type. Several pictorial pages will show just the thing to do at market—in fact, reduce market-going to a simple science, shorn of vexations.

Vanity.
Little Girl (to visitor)—Don't you think I look just like mamma?
Her Mother—Hush, dear, don't be vain.
—Ohio State Journal.

Mr. F. W. Hodson the present Dominion Live Stock Commissioner and one of the most successful breeders in Ontario will speak at the meeting of the Farmers' and Dairymen's Association at Fredericton on the 23rd, 24th and 25th inst. upon "Mistakes in Breeding." Mr. Hodson's address will no doubt contain many useful hints for New Brunswick farmers and they should be at the meeting in large numbers to discuss the question with him.

The Ultimate Cause.—"But why is it," asked the thoughtful Chinese, "that I may go to your heaven while I may not go to your country?" The American missionary shrug-ged his shoulders. "There's no labor vote in heaven!" said he.—[Puck.

Cold Settles
on the Kidneys

Exposure to cold and damp atmosphere and sudden changes in the weather close the pores of the skin and this throws the waste matter which should escape through the skin back on the kidneys. The effect upon these overburdened organs is what is known as "cold on the kidneys," which usually develops into regular kidney disease or Bright's disease.
The earliest symptoms of ailing kidneys are backache, painful and scald-ing sensations when passing water and deposits in the urine. Immediately on the appearance of any of these indications resort should be made to Dr.
Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills, which will in a surprisingly short time set the kidneys and bowels in order and insure the return of health.
Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills can be absolutely relied upon as a cure for every form of kidney and liver derangement. One pill a dose; 25 cents a box.
