H. H. McCAIN, M.P.P.

Death of D. Fred Munro.

D. Fred Munro died suddenly of pneumonia at the residence of his father, Donald Munro, on Thursday at noon, January 31st, at the early age of 19 years and 9 months. He returned from Halifax, where he had a good position, about nine months ago, on account of failing health. He had been seemingly holding his own with an affection of the heart until about a year ago, when he commenced to fail rapidly. About two weeks ago he contracted pneumonia, from which he died. He leaves a father, mother, one sister and four brothers.

The funeral took place on Sunday afternoon and was largely attended. Rev. Geo. D. Ireland officiated at the house and grave. Some beautiful floral emblems were sent to the house by friends of the deceased. The choir of the Presbyterian church sang the hymns "A Few More Years Shall Roll" and "Safe in the Arms of Jesus." The interment took place at Upper Woodstock.

The "Colonel" Gets a Benefit.

The Opera House was the scene of a pleasant event, Friday night last, when the friends and admirers of Harry Dysart, familiarly known as "Colonel," assembled to give him a benefit dance. About 60 couples were present. The music was furnished by Davenport's Orchestra, of Houlton, and was exceptionally good. The floor was in good condition for dancing and the merry lovers of the terpsichorean art enjoyed themselves to the utmost. At 8.30 the orchestra rendered the following concert programme:—

March and Two Steps.....Pryor
 Overture, "Crackerjack,".....W. H. Mackie
 Waltz, "Espanada".....Geo. Rozes
 March, "The Blue and the Gray,".....Chattaway.

The concert was enjoyed very much and at 9.30 the Grand March began, the dancing being kept up until 2.00 o'clock Saturday morning, when the lights went out. The dance programme was pretty well finished when the end of the evening's entertainment came, only one dance being left unfinished. It is the intention to have another dance in the near future.

Following are the names of the orchestra:—C. W. Davenport, 1st violin; Arthur Wasson, 2nd violin; Ray Gary, cornet; Chas. Vincent, flute; Cassius Esters, trombone; Horace True, piano and double bass.

A Change in Business.

C. M. Sherwood, Centreville, has sold his Woodstock business to Frank E. Shea, now of the Baird Company. E. LeRoy Lee came down to complete the sale. Mr. Gross, who managed the business for Mr. Sherwood will remain with Mr. Shea for the present.

J. WIRT HALL, of Edmunston, was in town over Sunday. While here Mr. Hall became the purchaser of a good mare, the seller being Walter Mott of Jacksonville.

The 40c, 50c and 60c grades of Red Rose Tea may seem expensive when you buy them but when you use them you will change your mind. Use less at a drawing and see what the result is.

A MEETING of the members of the Woodstock Golf Club, both ladies and gentlemen, will be held in the office of the President, Mr. F. C. Denison, on Tuesday evening 12th Feb'y. at 7.30 o'clock.

TONIGHT at the Opera House occurs the exhibition and dance of Miss Glidden's school of dancing. Excellent music will be furnished by the orchestra, to which all may dance after intermission. Don't fail to attend. Admission 50cents.
