The Encouragement of Temperance.

A method too frequently neglected, whereby temperance may be encouraged, is the regulation of the habits of employees in reference to liquor drinking. If the drink-habit is bad it must have bad effects, and these must serve to make the workman less capable and trustworthy. A suggestion of the method may be gathered from the fact that the French Governor-Director of Railroads has written to the different societies opposing the use of alcohol, that all the government roads have agreed to the following: First, to discharge all employees who persist in using spirits and wine while on duty; second, all persons who continue to drink shall be dropped from the pension rolls of the company, and will not participate in the endowment funds in case of an accident. All restaurants on the roads are forbidden to sell spirits to the workmen. In our own country we find that rule 207 of the Union Pacific, prohibiting employees from patronizing saloons, has, it is said, ruined twenty five saloonkeepers, who will close their doors on the first of the month, when their licenses expire. The rule has been in force for four months, and special agents have reported many violations. Offenders have been dropped in every instance without regard to previous standing. Only the better class of saloons have survived the effects of the order.
Two of these are going to move. Three gambling houses have closed.—American Digestion Without a Stomach

The fact that people live and digest food after the stomach has been removed proves that the important part of digestion takes place in the intestines. Hence it comes that Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills are so wonderfully successful in curing chronic indigestion and dyspepsia. They act directly on the kidneys, liver and intestines, making them healthy, active, and vigorous, and so insure perfect digestion and prompt removal of poisonous waste matter.

Written on the Face.

We write our characters on our faces; yet though we are quick to read our neighbor's face we are slow to realize that our own is open for him to read. But it is. The story is there, and we are writing it every day of our lives. Not only do smiles and frowns leave traces, but every passion which sways the heart stamps its record upon the face.
Even a ride in a street car or a short railway journey gives proof of this. Look around you. Those two strangers opposite you never saw before, yet you know that one is passionate, the other mean, and your heart warms to the little old lady near by. You want no one to assure you she is kind and gentle, while a whole network of wrinkles about the eyes tells you that the old gentleman in the corner loves his joke. Character, indeed, is written plainly on every face.
Some speak of tragedy, some of comedy, and not a few give you a distinct warning.

Infants too young to take medicine may be cured of croup, whooping cough and colds by using Vapo-Cresolene—they breathe it.

Napoleon's Mistake.

A correspondence of a contemporary calls attention to a passage in Fitchett's "How England Saved Europe," which he rightly describes as curiously appropriate. "September, 1810—The attacks of English newspapers and the criticisms of English orators did not shake Wellington's steadfast temper, but they curiously deceived Napoleon. He was persuaded that he read the mind of England in the leading articles of the opposition papers. He reprinted most of them, indeed, in the 'Moniteur' for the consolation of French readers, and his belief that the English Cabinet must soon withdraw Wellington, or itself be overthrown, made him regard the Spanish War as a trivial thing, which could be safely neglected." This extract surely points its own moral.

Stomach and Bowel Trouble.

A promptly satisfactory cure for Cramps, Colic, Indigestion, Heartburn, Bilioisness, Sick Stomach and Summer Complaint, is a few drops of Nerviline in sweetened water.
Nerviline at once relieves pain and suffering, eradicates the cause of the trouble and cures permanently. Polson's Nerviline is the best general purpose remedy for internal pains known; it acts so quickly that no household should be without it. Buy a 25c. bottle of Nerviline today, it's all right.

HAMILTON'S PILLS CURE CONSTIPATION.

Worn-out Pastures.

Sometimes an old, run-out pasture can be greatly improved by harrowing thoroughly two or three times in early spring; then sow a mixture of seeds. The following might be used, although it is not customary to sow as much per acre under these conditions as when a well prepared permanent pasture is laid down: Red clover 6 pounds, alsike clover 4 pounds, Kentucky blue-grass 3½ pounds, orchard grass 3½ pounds, meadow fescue 3½ pounds, red top 3½ pounds, timothy 5 pounds.
You might simply sow on blue-grass, timothy, and alsike clover in moderate quantities.
After the seed is sown, roll. It would increase the chances of success if some fertilizer containing a rather high percentage of nitrogen was applied. Sometimes one can find damaged cottonseed meal, which makes a splendid fertilizer for pastures, as do also wood ashes, though the latter are seldom sold on a guaranteed analysis, and may con-

Legs so Swelled
He Couldn't Walk

This case of Mr. James Treneman, the well-known butcher of 536 Adelaide Street, London, Ont., is another proof that Dr.
Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills are effective in the most severe and complicated diseases of the kidneys.

Mr. Treneman states:—"Two years ago I was laid up with kidney disease and urinary troubles. Besides the pain and inconvenience caused by these troubles, I became dropsical, and my legs would swell up so that I could scarcely go around at all. Hearing of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills, I procured a box and continued the use of this valuable medicine until now I can say for a certainty that I am entirely cured. I never took any medicine that did me so much good, and am firmly convinced that if it had not been for this medicine I would not be working to-day."

These pills act directly on the kidneys and liver, regulate the bowels and ensure the perfect action of the digestive and filtering systems. One pill a dose; 25 cents a box. At all dealers, or Edmanson, Bates & Co., Toronto.

tain much or very little potash. We would not purchase them unless they were guaranteed. However, we advise dividing the pasture, and continuing the use of the greater part of it while thoroughly preparing and seeding a few acres each year. Plough the ground this year; sow peas and oats. Plough them under before the oats seed. Sow to buckwheat. Plough this under about the middle of September, fit the ground well, sow the seeds indicated above, roll and pasture light the first year. It may be said, too, that if the effort is made to improve the pasture without reploughing, it will not succeed unless the field is pastured light the coming summer. If it is tramped over and gnawed by too many cattle, many of the young plants will perish. It is presupposed that a dairy herd is connected with this pasture. If so, one of the things to do is to sell 10 to 20 per cent. of the poorer cows.
There are few dairy herds from which the net profits would not be increased by even giving away this 20 per cent. of inferior and usually unprofitable animals.—[Country

A Queer Error.

One of the rabbis of New York discovered a most undignified error in the Columbia University seal some time ago. On the present seal appears the Biblical quotation, 'In Lumine Tuo Videbimus Lucem,' 'In Thy light shall we see light.' At the time when this rabbi took up a printed copy of the seal, gazed at it a moment, and found in it something amusing. The inscription was in Hebrew. It had been used on the seal for many years, and had been printed on the catalogues of the university and on other official documents. There was an inaccuracy in the Hebrew characters. 'As it is printed here,' said he to the university authorities, when he went to see them next day, 'your motto says: 'Have a piece of cold pie'—

Farm-Labor Problem.

The farm-labor problem seems to get harder each year. Let a man run a farm on Cape Cod, and he will find that expert farm hands are harder to obtain than anything else that good farming demands. Let him go straight to California, and he will find about the same story. California farmers are surprised to learn that Eastern farmers are crying for help—well-trained help! We have daily letters from people all over the North who fairly beg for men and women who are dependable. This lack of skillful helpers is actually changing the plan of farming in many sections. Farmers find that by using fertilizers and complicated machinery they can alone or with little help work their farms fairly well—with grass, grain, or fruit—often selling the latter on the trees. It is true that the use of fertilizers and machinery have enlarged the possibilities of one-man farming, yet it frequently happens that the farms on which this plan is followed are naturally suited to the crops which demand hand labor.
If this failure to obtain skilled help were confined to any particular sections it might be accounted for, but, so far as we know, there is no part of the country where the supply equals the demand. In theory one would think that the short courses at our agricultural colleges would be crowded with boys and hired men eager to fit themselves for more useful work. If something of that sort could be brought about such colleges would truly prove a blessing to farmers, for without skilled and really helpful helpers the farmer is often unable to utilize fully the scientific information so freely given him.—

Every Woman Needs It.

There are times when every woman is tormented by itching skin and would give anything for relief. There is preparation known as Dr. Chase's Ointment, which is prompt relief for those sufferings. Women prize it both for their own use and for its wonderful effectiveness in curing Baby Eczema, scald head chafing, and the various skin diseases of childhood.

The Foolishness of Woman.

One of the mistakes of women is in not knowing how to eat. If a man is not to be fed when she is, she thinks a cup of tea or anything handy is good enough. If she needs to save money, she does it at the butcher's cost. If she is unhappy she goes without food. A man eats if the sheriff is at the door, if his work drives, if the undertaker interrupts and he is right. A woman will choose ice cream instead of beefsteak, and a man will not.

Another of her mistakes is in not knowing how to rest. If she is tired, she may sit down, but she will darn stockings, crochet shawls, embroider doilies.

She doesn't know that hard work tires. If she is exhausted, she will write letters, figure her accounts or read up for some circle or club. She would laugh at you if you hinted that reading or writing could fail to rest her.
All over the country women's hospitals flourish because women do not know how to rest.

Another mistake on the list is their constant worrying. Worry and hurry are their enemies, and yet they hug them to their bosoms. Women cross bridges before they come to them and even build bridges.

Dr. Chase's Ointment

Mr. Moody's Gallantry.

They are telling a story in Washington about the new secretary of the navy, Mr.
Moody was riding on one of the Boston surface cars, and was standing on the platform on the side next the gate that protected passengers from cars coming on the other track. A lady—a Boston lady—came to the door of the car, and, as it stopped, started to move toward the gate, which was hidden from her by the men standing before it.

'Other side, please, lady,' said the conductor. He was ignored as only a born and bred Bostonian can ignore a man. The lady took another step toward the gate.

'You must get off the other side,' said the conductor.

'I wish to get off on this side,' came the answer, in tones that congealed the official into momentary silence. Before he could either explain or expostulate, Mr. Moody came to his assistance.

'Stand to one side, gentlemen,' he remarked, quietly. 'The lady wants to climb over the gate.'—New York 'Times.'

Mrs. Weyer Solved the Difficulty.

The 'Manila Critic' says that when General Weyer was sent as Governor-General to Manila, Don Carlos Palanca, the wealthy Spaniardized Chinaman, whose funeral last September was marked by great pomp, determined to send Mrs. Weyer a gift, the customary way of obtaining the good will of the Spanish officials. He found at a jeweller's two necklaces, each costing $20,000, and both being so beautiful that he could not choose between them. So he sent them both to Mrs. Weyer, with the message that she should make her choice. He received a warm letter of thanks from her, stating that the necklaces were so beautiful that she could not decide between them, hence would keep both, which she did.

Apply This Test
To Your Nerves

Study these symptoms. They are for your guidance. You may not have them all, but if you have any of them your nervous system is not up to the mark, and a little extra expenditure of nerve force may bring the dreadful downfall.

Intolerance of motion, noise and light; twitching of the muscles of the face and eyelids; fatiguing sleep, sudden startings and jerking of the limbs; dizziness and flashes of light before the eyes; irritability and restlessness in every part of the body; headache, indigestion, feelings of weariness and depression, and loss of interest in the affairs of life.

So long as the daily expenditure of nerve force is greater than the daily income, physical bankruptcy is certain to result sooner or later. Nerve force must be increased, and this can best be accomplished by the use of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, because it contains in concentrated form the very elements of nature which go directly to form nervous energy. 50 cents a box, all dealers, or Edmanson,
