Carpentering is not an easy trade. The constant reaching up and down, the lifting and stooping over are all severe strains on the kidneys. No wonder a carpenter exclaimed, recently, that every time he drove a nail it seemed as though he was piercing his own back. He uses now on the first sign of Backache and is able to follow his trade with comfort and profit.

"I have had kidney and urinary troubles for more than three years with severe pain in the small of my back and in both sides. I could not stoop without difficulty, and I had severe neuralgic pain in both temples. Seeing the advertisement of Doan's Kidney Pills, I got a box. They have given me quick relief, removing the pain from the back and sides, and banishing the neuralgic pains from my head. The urinary difficulty is now entirely gone. I feel fresh and vigorous in the mornings, and am much stronger in every way since taking these pills." CLARENCE E. SEEDS, Carpenter and Builder, Trenton, Ont.

MODERN FABLES, - BY GEORGE ADE.

How the Fearless Favorite From St. Louis Flagged the Hot Looker Across the Way.

Once there was a Salesman who handled dried Fruits and registered from Saint Louey. He could tell about the Big Bridge and the Union Station and had a fifteen-minute Spiel touching on and Appertaining to Dessicated Apples that was calculated to land the cross-roads Wanamaker.

Lawrence, for such was his Name, had the Fatal Gift of Beauty and he was Wise to the Fact. He hated to turn out the Light at Night and have all his Good Looks go to waste for Hours at a Stretch.

What Nature had failed to do for him he did for himself. He kept his Neck neatly shaved and put Heliotrope on his Eye-Brows and drank Florida Water to kill his Cigarette Breath before dashing into Society.

When Lawrence had polished up his Rings and Stud with a Piece of Chamouis and got into his Sacque Suit with the up-and-down Stripe, and put on his nobby white Hat with the black Band, you may think that he despised himself, but he did not. It was like breaking Home Ties for him to say good-bye to a Mirror.

Lawrence was not entirely to blame for being so Popular with himself. A good many of the swellest Dining-Room Girls on the Short Line between Herodsborg and Vandalia had fought for the Privilege of bringing him his Ribs of Beef with Brown Potatoes. It is said that even a Piano-Player or a Concert Tenor may develop a case of the Seven and three-quarters Hat when the Women get after him and therefore it is not strange that Lawrence, merely a humble representative of the Raspberry Trust, should want to hand himself Money and work the large J. into all of his Conversation.

Whenever he unpacked at a Hotel he put a Photograph of Himself out on the Dresser, so as to make the room more Cheerful.

One Day it befell that Lawrence, the Woman-Catcher, was riding a Day Coach, and having a great deal of Trouble with his Cuffs, because they would not stay out the right Length. Now then he looked out of the Window, so as to give the Ladies behind a chance at his Profile.

At one Station something tailor-made with more than the usual number of Eyes and the Style of a Frohmah Leading Lady blew into the Car and seated herself opposite fascinating Lawrence. He immediately tossed one arm over the Back of the Seat so that she could get a Flash at the four-ounce Ring with the three Rock-Crystals in it. Also he began, to do a Series of Living Pictures, at the same time sizing her carefully. She was about the gowniest he had seen since pulling out of Sedalia, and he decided that it was up to him to get acquainted.

He knew that he was taking a Chance, but an ordinary Toss had no Terrors for one accustomed to grappling with the Country Trade. So he took from his Grip a Copy of "A Widow in Name only," by Ethel Giblitz, author of "Lingering Love," and the first thing she knew he was asking her if she wanted something to read.

Instead of trying to jump out of the Window, she received him with a glad Smile and moved over so as to make Room. At that Moment he realized that a Handsome Boy with Nerve can butt in at any time or place.

In low musical Notes, something like the Bird-Calls of the Forest, he told her about the House and the Bill of Goods he had sold in the last Town, and how he attended the Progressive Cinch Parties every time he got back to Saint Louey. She listened with keen Interest and looked him right in the Eye, and never once did she call for Help.

It appeared to be the strongest Ten-Strike of his glorious Career as a Depot Flirt.

She wanted to know all about him, even to the Extent of sounding him on Literature and the Arts.

He told her that Dan Daly had Julia Marlowe beat at least a block when it came to putting up a Lively Show, and, as for Books, he couldn't see Lew Wallace with a Spy-Glass, but the Duchess was Warm Stuff.

His Views carried so much Weight that she began to take Notes in a little Book. She asked him how much he made in Commissions and Salary and what amount he spent on Clothes and Finery as compared with his Outlay for Soul-Food. He began to wing a little and realized that he was up against a New Game, but he could not resign after making the first Play, so she Pumped him properly.

Finally, she asked him for a Photograph, which she numbered 32, and filed away in a Blue Envelope.

After which she said that would be about all, and some invisible Force seemed to lift him back to the other side of the Car. As he sat there, slowly recovering, it occurred to him that he had neglected to get her Name and Address and make her promise to Correspond, which was very careless of him. He thought some of making another Try, but she was busy with a Book, other than the one he had given to her, and seemed to have forgotten that he was right there in the same Car.

Lawrence began to suspect that he had failed to Entertain her, but such was not the case.

He did not see her again, but next Month his friends called his attention to an article in an Eastern Periodical written by a Lady who had been investigating the Intellectual Awakening of the Middle West. She gave Lawrence quite a Send Off and used his Picture, calling attention to the lack of Forehead and the Vacant Expression about the Eyes. She said he was a Type of the Middle-Class Materialist, who cared more for Personal Adornment than for Mental Culture, but as far as she had been able to discover, by turning the Specimen over, under the Microscope, there was nothing Vicious in his make-up. He was simply a Case of Atrophied Cerebellum and Ingrowing Nerve.

Lawrence could not get next to all the Long Words, or he would have felt all cut up about it. As it was, he decided not, to correspond, even after learning her Name.

Paine's Celery Compound Was Her Deliverer From Disease.

A Special Message of Comfort For Sick and Despondent Women.

Ten years of suffering from treacherous kidney disease is of itself a heavy record of sickness and agony for one frail woman. When we add to kidney suffering, nervousness, sleepless and continued overwork in the home, it marks a condition of life that draws forth our tenderest and deepest sympathies.

Such a condition of life was bringing Mrs. W. Irvine, of Queen St., St. John, N. B., very close to the dark grave. Notwithstanding the regular use of common advertised remedies and doctors' prescriptions, the ravages of disease continued, and friends of Mrs. Irvine said with sad voices, "she was going fast to death."

Just before deadly disease could finish its work, the use of that wondrous life-giver, Paine's Celery Compound, was recommended. Soon, hope—a new life—cheered the sad heart and brightened up the pallid face. A powerful, searching, life-giving agent was working at the root of the disease. It was making new blood; it was nourishing and strengthening nerves and body; it was saving a precious life.

Take comfort and cheer, ye weary, sick and diseased women, from Mrs. Irvine's experience. The remedy that successfully met and conquered her troubles will, without fail, meet your case. Mrs. Irvine speaks of her case as follows:

"I have been troubled for the past ten years with kidney disease and have tried a great many preparations and doctors' prescriptions, but with little or no benefit. For the last six months I have had a great strain upon my system from night-watching and overwork. I was breaking down; my friends said, 'I was going fast to death.' I resolved to try Paine's Celery Compound, and used four bottles. My kidney trouble disappeared; nervousness and sleeplessness are troubles of the past, and my general health is good. In a word, I am cured; I wish you to publish this so that the world can read it."
