The Aristocrat.
(S. E. Kiser in Chicago Record-Herald.)
I do not know how wealthy he may be;
He does not ride along in gorgeous style.
But, dressed with modest taste, he passes me,
And always with a friendly bow and smile.
I do not know how distant he may trace
The line from which he sprang, nor do I care,
For self-respect is written on his face
And sodden greed is never mirrored there.
His air is never coldly grave nor proud,
As one who moves along in constant dread
Of being lost within the common crowd;
The humble see him kindly nod his head.
His hair is white, but still erect he stands;
His high brow tells a tale of buried woe,
And I can see upon his big, strong hands
The record of hard work done long ago.
I do not know how wealthy he may be,
Nor of the line from which God let him spring;
I know but this, that in his face I see
Such dignity as would exalt a king.

United States and British Locomotives.
The alleged superiority of locomotives made in the United States over those made in Great Britain has given our neighbours to the South a theme on which they dilated with all the enthusiasm of inflated national vanity, not unmixed with a spice of ill-will towards the old country. Had England been proved to be beaten by a rival nation in the manufacture of a machine which was wholly of British invention it would indeed have been a humiliation over which the victor would have great reason to rejoice, for it would have meant the acquisition of a trade of enormous value. A report issued by Lord Cromer, the Imperial administrator of Egypt, destroys the boasted superiority of American engines. After exhaustive tests he pronounces the British locomotives in all respects the most efficient and economical. When engines had to be built to the specifications of the Egyptian Railway Board American prices were from 10 to 16 per cent. higher than the British, that is, when the highest mechanical skill was required and most perfect workmanship, the Americans were utterly outdistanced. When, however, a cheap engine was wanted, made up of parts that were turned out by the score to a standard pattern, needing only the cheapest labour and lowest order of mechanical skill to put together, then the Americans were able to bid below the British makers, and, naturally, these "cheap Jack" locomotives they could supply much more quickly than the British article. But, while their first cost was lower, these American engines were found in Japan, Burmah, South Africa and Egypt to be so enormously expensive in working than ten of them cost $20,000 yearly more in fuel than British engines that were doing the same or more work. So bursts another American bubble of boasting over Great Britain.—Insurance & Finance Chronicle, Montreal.

How to Beautify the Complexion.
To have a soft, smooth skin, free from eruptions and pimples, the blood must be healthy and pure. Ferrozone invigorates enfeebled blood, and cleanses it from all impurities and poisons; it brings color to the lips and cheeks, brilliancy to the eyes, whitens the teeth and sweetens the breath. No tonic compares with Ferrozone in rapid action and permanent results. Try it. Price 50c. at druggists, or Pulson & Co., Kingston, Ont.—Sold by Garden Bros.

That Lynching Question.
The New York Post says:—"Nothing could be more proper than the improvement by the President of a fit occasion for driving home the disgrace which it is to the nation that lynchings prevail in so many parts of the United States, and are so frequently accompanied by frightful barbarities, as in the recent burning to death of a negro in Texas, and in similar atrocities in one of the chief cities of Kansas last year, and in a Colorado town the year before. President McKinley devoted a passage of his inaugural address in 1897 to this question, and in his annual message two years later repeated what he had then said, including the declaration that 'lynchings must not be tolerated in a great and civilized country like the United States.' What our people generally do not understand is that many Europeans refuse to believe that a country can be civilized where such frightful barbarities occur, year after year, in different States. Nor should we wonder at this. Should we regard England, France, or Germany as a civilized country if every few months we read in the cable dispatches accounts of how mobs burned criminals—or alleged criminals—alive at the stake, inflicting the most frightful tortures upon their victims before the end came? So long as the United States is disgraced before the world by such horrible outrages, our Presidents do well when they try to arouse our sense of shame."

An American engineer who recently built a pulp mill in Eastern Canada in which Canadian machinery was installed gives his opinion to the Canada Lumberman that our manufacturers should give greater attention to the finish of their machines. He states that in this respect alone do they compare unfavorably with machines manufactured in the United States. Another expert contends that the weakness of Canadian machinery is in the design. This, he claims, is due to the fact that in this country the English practice of building massively is followed. To use

Kidney Disease and Backache

Mr. John Guheen, who is in the Fish Business at Port Hope, states:—"In my business I do a great deal of driving over bad roads and the constant jar of the rig along with exposure to all sorts of weather brought on kidney disease. I was in miserable health and suffered a great deal with sharp pains in my back. I heard of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills and decided to try them. Before I had used all of the first box I felt better and three boxes have entirely cured me. I am very glad of an opportunity to recommend Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills for I have proven their wonderful control over kidney disease."

Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills

his own words, "English manufacturers build machines to last forty years, while the Americans build for five years only." His argument is that in about five years the machines of to-day will have become obsolete and be superseded by others more up-to-date. Much of the money which the English manufacturer expends in making his machine solid and massive is expended by the American manufacturer on design, with the object of securing the maximum efficiency of production at lowest cost. Perhaps there is some truth in this argument, and Canadian manufacturers may profit thereby.

A Family Necessity
"Owing to artificial modern life, almost everybody suffers more or less from constipation, torpid liver and sluggish kidneys, and as Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills are the most prompt and thorough cure for this derangement, they have come to be considered a family necessity. Hosts of families would not think of being without them."

French Duelling.
The practice of duelling is on the decline in France, the country which has been peculiarly its home. It grows more ridiculous year by year, and those who engage in it become more and more a laughing-stock. Not long ago a journalist of Paris, who had by some criticism offended a politician, received from him the following letter:—

Sir,—One does not send a challenge to a bandit of your species; one simply administers a cuff on the ears. Therefore I hereby cuff both your ears. Be grateful to me for not having recourse to weapons.
Yours truly,

The journalist answered:—
My Dear Sir and Adversary,—I thank you, according to your wish, for having sent me cuffs by post, instead of slaughtering me with weapons. Cuffed by post, I respond by dispatching you by post six bullets in the head. I kill you by letter. Please consider yourself dead from the first line of this epistle.
With a respectful salutation to your corpse,
I am,

Very truly yours,

Varieties of Manure.
Most gardens suffer from too little variety in the kind of manure they receive. The horse-stable usually furnishes the garden manure year after year, and though this is as any one kind, it does not always supply the elements of plant food in due proportion. For growing some vegetables other fertilizers are very beneficial, as, for example, phosphate for turnips and cabbages. The practice of some successful market-gardeners is to manure heavily and change every year or two.—[Home and Farm.

Rain and sweat have no effect on harness treated with Eureka Harness Oil. It resists the damp, keeps the leather soft and pliable. Stitches do not break. No rough surface to chafe and cut. The harness not only keeps looking like new, but wears twice as long by the use of Eureka Harness Oil.

Red Polled Cattle.

This breed has long been known for excellence in beef production, but Eastern farmers were surprised at the dairy record made by it at the Pan-American contest. Of individual cows, a red poll stood second. The breed as a whole took fifth place, making, at an average food cost of .00488, a pound of milk testing 3.98 per cent. fat and 13.1 per cent. solids, and gaining an average of 69 4-5 pounds per head for the six months of the test. These cattle are of a uniform red color, sometimes with a patch of white on the under and tip of tail. When crossed with other breeds the red color is generally transmitted, and 90 per cent. of their progeny is hornless in crosses with horned breeds. They are easy keepers, hardy and thrifty, fatten quickly, and make prime beef. Matured bulls weigh 1,800 to 2,800 pounds, and cows average about 1,200. Their dressed carcass is usually over 60 per cent. of their live weight. In disposition they are gentle, and it is said that the bulls seldom become cross. With these superior beef qualities and an average yearly milk yield of 6,000 pounds, with an occasional individual nearly doubling this, they come about as near a "general-purpose" breed as one can expect.—[Rural New Yorker.

Scores of Uses
While Dr. Chase's Ointment is best known on account of its wonderful control over eczema, salt rheum and piles, it is found to be in almost daily demand in many homes as a cure for chilblains, chafing, pimples, sunburn, burns, scalds, and each and every form of itching, irritated or inflamed skin. It is invaluable in every home and as a soothing and healing application knows no equal.

Some confusion and delay has been experienced in Samar over the claims made by candidates for assimilation that they were under ten. The matter was referred to Colonel Bludd, who decided that a native who knew enough to raise the point was of age.

The climate being too sultry for Ping-Pong, a new game called Quarts is the rage at the clubs. A native is caught and brought in, and the players guess as to how much water he will hold under pressure. Each player pays a dollar, and after the test is made at the pump, the pot goes to the winner.

Senator Phakit, who has spent over two weeks studying the inhabitants of Northern Looton, says they are a singularly frank and communicative race. He says that merely trying not to tell something means torture to them.

Lightning Remedy for Cramps.
Some people have cramps pretty often, others only now and again. But when you do have them it's a mighty quick relief you want. Polson's Nerviline is as sure as death to relieve cramps in five seconds—it's instantaneous, just a few drops in sweetened water and the pain is gone. Buy a bottle of Nerviline to-day, and keep it handy. Nerviline is a common household necessity and only costs 25 cents.

New Brunswick Crown Lands.

Hon. W. P. Flewelling, Deputy Surveyor-General of the Province of New Brunswick, supplies the following interesting statistics as to the quality and kind of lumber cut from Crown Lands during the year ending October 31, 1901: Spruce and pine logs, 83,449,123 superficial feet; spruce pulp wood, 176,850 s. ft.; cedar logs, 11,187,791 s. ft.; cedar shingles, 6,351 M.; hemlock logs, 1,907,816 s. ft.; hemlock bark, 2,013½ cords; hardwood logs, including spool wood, 3,560,741 s. ft.; hardwood timber, 102 16 40 tons; spruce timber, 40 tons; fir logs, 1,164,283 s. ft.; fire, stave and pulp wood, 1,294 cords; railway ties 94,719; telegraph poles, 195; cedar rails, 300; cedar posts, 400; boom poles, 790; brackets, 2,328; rafting pins, 50,000; knees, 895; weir stakes, 411; weir ribbands, 475; birch hubs, 180, and the total stunpage on the same was $101,710.48.

Clara Barton, of the Red Cross.

Miss Clara Barton, hale and active at an age well past the allotted three score and ten, and not less enthusiastically energetic than in years gone by, in the great work which she has made her life mission, easily constitutes one of the most interesting of the world's grand old women. Probably no woman now living has had a career more varied or more crowded with achievement. A character study of the founder and president of the American National Red Cross Society appears in the July DELINEATOR, in which this famous woman is seen at her quaint and picturesque home on the palisades of the Potomac. A number of photographs showing interior and exterior views of Miss Barton's home and its unusual features are given, with a graphic description of Miss Barton's domestic life.

An author who had sent his latest effort in fiction to Disraeli received the following complimentary acknowledgment: "I thank you for the book you sent me, and will lose no time in reading it."

Bleeding Piles

In Nov., 1901, Mr. Sherwood Walker, a fireman on the Canada Atlantic Railway, living at Madawaska, Ont., wrote:—"I am a great sufferer from bleeding piles. Sometimes the protruding piles come down, causing much misery and uneasiness, and at other times I am subject to bleeding piles, and they bleed to such an extent as to make me quite weak. If Dr. Chase's Ointment will cure this awful ailment you will have my everlasting gratitude."
On March 1, 1902, he wrote:—"According to my promise, I now take pleasure in writing to you. If you remember, you sent me a box of Dr. Chase's Ointment for bleeding piles some three months ago. I used it faithfully, and can say that it proved a Godsend, for it has entirely cured me of bleeding piles."
"I would have written sooner but I wanted to be able to tell you that it was a permanent cure. This you can use for the benefit of other suffering people. There are several people here who have been cured of very severe cases of protruding piles by using this great ointment. 50 cents a box, at all dealers, or Edmanson, Bates & Co., Toronto.
