BRISTOL.

Neil McLean and Blanchard Phillips have returned from visiting a few weeks in Aroostook county.

Mrs. Arthur Mills of Cambridgeport, Mass., is visiting in Bristol, the guest of Mrs. A. W. Phillips.

Ziba Lockhart, and Miss Maud Brooks were married on Wednesday evening last. Rev. D. E. Brooks, the bride's father performed the ceremony.

Rev. L. A. Lockhart has gone on a trip up the Tobique River.

M. R. Wakem and family have removed to Bridgewater.

E. W. Bell has sold his saw mill near the mouth of the Big Shiktehawk stream to Messrs F. A. Phillips and Michael Welsh. This is a valuable property, and we understand a good price was paid. Mr. Bell is talking of going into business on the Tobique.

A very pleasant Hallow e'en party was given by Miss Lorena Brittain at her home on Friday evening. There were about twenty-five young people present, and all enjoyed themselves thoroughly. The evening was spent with music, and games in which there was some keen competition, prizes being awarded to the most successful. The prize winners were Miss Bertie Pryor, and R. B. Gaines. George Davis captured the booby prize.

Miss Dennison, of Kincardine, has been spending a few days with her sister, Mrs. Thomas Lockhart. Miss Nellie Phillips, Woodstock, is visiting her cousin, Miss Emeline Phillips.

A number of young men have gone to the lumber woods for the winter.

Rev. W. H. Smith preached in the Baptist church on Sunday evening last.

WEST GLASSVILLE.

Robert Brewster and family, of Windsor, have been visiting relatives in this place.

Mrs. David Young has returned home. Kenneth Tracy and William Lifford, of Lakeville, spent Sunday with friends here.

Miss Kate McLachlan left Monday for the Woodstock hospital where she has engaged as nurse for the winter. She is much missed by the young people here.

William Murphy and family, of Windsor, are spending a few days in this place.

Daniel Jones left Monday with his crew for the Miramichi where he will lumber this winter.

David Brewster is spending a few days at home.

Miss Ella Releeder who has been spending the summer at Bath was at home Sunday. She left Monday for Hartland where she has engaged for the coming season.

Mrs. David Brewster gave a knitting party Thursday which proved a success. A very pleasant afternoon and evening was spent by all who attended.

Mrs. Friends recently returned to her home in Boston she was accompanied by Master Amos Darrah of this place who will spend the winter with his uncle, Duncan Darrah, of Medford, Mass.

Mr. Arnaud, of Ketchum Ridge, has taken up his abode in Esdraslon. His former residence is now occupied by Mr. Fletcher recently from England.

A pleasant Hallow E'en party was given by the Misses Jones to the young people of this place. There were suitable decorations for the occasion such as autumnal wreaths, jack-o-lanterns, old time candles, etc. Games and Hallow E'en sports were indulged in and an agreeable time was spent.

EAST FLORENCEVILLE.

Miss Maggie DeWare, of McDonald Corner, is visiting her sister, Mrs. J. A. Kilpatrick.

Mrs. John McCormac who has been very sick the last two weeks is not expected to live.

Misses Nora and Jennie McNeil returned from Caribou last week where they have been visiting friends.

Don't forget. There will be a dance here every Thursday night through the winter.

Hagerman and Roland Semple returned from Boston last week where they had been spending a few weeks.

RICHMOND CORNER.

Richard Kennedy a prominent farmer living near McKenzie Corner died very suddenly last week. Renfrew Kirkpatrick of Dehec passed by and he was ploughing apparently all right a short distance on he met Mr. Kennedy's daughter, Gladys, returning from school at the corner when she got to the place where her father was he was lying dead beside his plough. He was buried on Monday at the Kirk. Rev. Mr. Fowler held the service on account of Rev. Mr. Archibald's absence.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Hay are rejoicing in the advent of a daughter.

Henry Jamieson received word last week that his son Norman, at the college at Philadelphia, is in the Hospital there with diphtheria.

Fred McIntyre, of Los Angeles Cal., who has been spending the summer here returned on Thursday. His sister went with him to spend the winter with her brother James McIntyre and his wife.

The work of grading in front of St. John's church for the erection of the new fence is being carried on by the parishones under the direction of the Rev. A. W. Teed.

Of Gladstone, Henry Labouchere once remarked: "I do not object to Mr. Gladstone's occasionally having an ace up his sleeve. But I do wish he would not always say that Providence put it there."

The Dollar Had Shrunk.

A sleight-of-hand performer, who has given exhibitions both in England and in America, tells a good story on himself, which London M. A. P. repeats. Like many who deal in the "black art," he occasionally makes use of a confederate whose part in his performance is not known to the audience.

Once in Nashville, Tennessee, he engaged a youth whom he found hanging about the theater.

"Want to see the show?" asked the conjurer.

"Yes, sir."

"Well, I'll pass you in if you will do a little thing to help me. Take this marked dollar, put it in your left trouser pocket, and when I call for it from the stage, come up on the platform and hand it to me."

The delighted youth promised to carry out his part, and was presently installed in a seat near the front.

It was late in the evening when the magician came to the trick in which the youth was to be coadjutor. He saw that the boy was in his place, and proceeded to mystify the people with a silver dollar. He palmed it, swallowed it, passed it through tables and bottles, fired it from a pistol into an orange, and performed other marvelous feats of legerdemain.

Finally he came to the grand climax. He threw the coin into the air. It vanished.

"There," he cried, "a boy in the audience has it in his pocket! Come on the stage, you."

He pointed to the boy, who came awkwardly upon the platform.

"Now," said the triumphant conjurer, "give me that dollar out of your left trousers pocket."

In great distress the boy pulled out a handful of small change and blurted, "I've only got eighty cents left. I've been out and had some oranges and ice-cream."

Paine's Celery Compound

Makes Permanent Cures

In Chronic and Complicated Cases of Rheumatism.

IT GIVES NEW LIFE TO HELPLESS AND CRIPPLED MEN AND WOMEN.

Professor Edward E. Phelps, M. D., LL. D., has given to his profession a positive and permanent cure for all forms of rheumatism now so common in the autumn season. To the rheumatic, this truth should prove encouraging and comforting. Men and women suffering intense agonies from a disease that frequently stiffens the joints, cripples the limbs and renders its victims helpless, can be restored to activity, vigor and health if Paine's Celery Compound be used for a few weeks. There is every reason why sufferers should pin their faith to this best of medicines. Your friends and neighbors have used it with success; the honest physician is prescribing it every day in cases where all other means have failed, and they are delighted with the grand results. It is your only hope; your safety and life depend upon its use. Mrs. M. McKillop, Campbellford, Ont., writes about her cure as follows:

"I was a sufferer from rheumatism for a long time, and endured great pain. The cords in the palms of my hands were drawn up in knots, and I despaired of getting relief. After using Paine's Celery Compound, I have banished all my pains and troubles, and find myself strengthened in every way. I think Paine's Celery Compound is the best medicine in the world for rheumatism and all nervous complaints."

Diet for Athletes.

The following are given by a medical paper as some of the chief rules for athletes insisted upon by their trainers: Little salt; no coarse vegetables; no pork or veal; two meals a day—breakfast at eight and dinner at two. If supper is allowed at all it must be a very light and simple one, several hours before bedtime, and is not recommended. It is reckoned much against a man's wind to go to bed with a full stomach. No fat meat is ever given, and no butter or cheese, which are considered indigestible. Pies and pastry are not allowed. Meat must always be taken fresh, and not seasoned. Salt meats are not allowed. Puddings and hard dumplings are considered unfit to be eaten—the trainer saying: "People may as well take earthenware into their stomachs."

Stops the Cough and Works off the Cold.

Laxative Bromo Quinine Tablets cure a cold in one day. No Cure, No Pay. Price 25 cents.

Jackson: "How is your rheumatism getting on?"

Wilson: "It's getting along slowly, but I am very hopeful now."

Jackson: "I am glad to hear that."

Wilson: "Yes; it commenced in my feet and has gradually worked up to my shoulders. I'm in hopes that in about a week it will get into my hat."

MISERABLE NIGHTS.

What to do When Baby is Fretful and Sleepless.

It is wrong to take up a wakeful baby from the cradle and walk it up and down the floor all night. It demoralizes the infant and enslaves the parents. Baby does not cry for the fun of the thing; it cries because it is not well—generally because its stomach is sour, its little bowels congested its skin hot and feverish. Relieve it and it will sleep all night, every night growing stronger in proportion. Just what mothers need is told in a letter from Mrs. E. J. Flanders, Marlinton, Que., who says:—"I cannot say too much in favor of Baby's Own Tablets. They have worked like a charm with my baby, who was very restless at night, but Baby's Own Tablets soon brought quiet sleep and rest. I shall never be without a box while I have a baby." Baby's Own Tablets cure all minor ailments of little ones, and are guaranteed to contain no opiate or harmful drug. They are sold at 25 cents a box by all dealers, or you can get them by mail, post paid, by writing direct to the Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont., or Schenectady, N. Y.

All Through The Corn.

A lady who was grievously tormented with a corn was advised by one of her friends to anoint it with phosphorus, which she did; she forgot, however, to tell her husband before retiring at night.

It had just struck twelve when the husband awoke, and he was startled at seeing something sparkle at the foot of the bed. He had never heard of a firefly in the locality, nor did he remember seeing such a terrible-looking object as he beheld at that moment. Resisting carefully out of bed for one of his slippers, he raised it high in the air and brought it down with great force on the mysterious light. There was a shriek, followed by an avalanche of bedclothes. The lady has now got rid of her phosphorated corn.
