One of the many Diversions planned by and work for Charlie Frohman. the high-collared Residents, so that they might temporarily forget where they were living, was Amateur Theatricals. The Dramatic Club was carefully selected from the Inner Circle of the Finger-Bowl Set, and whether they could Act or not it was always a Satisfaction to know that they could rub up against the toney Skilligans and the highaluting Winkles.

Two or three times every Season the Club gave a show at the local Temple of Art. After all Expenses had been paid, the Net Proceeds, which sometimes ran as high as $18, went to Charity. This was another Case in which Charity covered a Multitude of Sins. At one of these Dramatic Treats it was decided to put on the Balcony Scene from "Romeo and Juliet." Wm. Shakespeare was in no position to get out an Injunction and the Club had such a Social Drag that no one dared to set fire to the Opera House in order to head off the Massacre.

It was unanimously agreed that Mr. Philo Quackenbush was the Boy to do Romeo. He was Golf Champion, having done 9 Holes in 58 on a Course which made it necessary to Putt with a Lofter. Besides he had led the German every Year for 18 Years and had relatives in New York City. But when it came to the selection of Juliet there were two Candidates, as follows: Mrs. Skilligan and Mrs. Winkle. Each of these estimable Ladies had a kind of an inward Hunch that she could revive Memories of Mary Anderson and leave Maude Adams somewhere back of the Flag. Mrs. Skilligan was tall, fibrous and weighed 108 when in Condition. She had a daughter who was a Sophomore and that was why some of her Enemies said that she was too far along to look the Part of Juliet. Just the same, Mrs. Skilligan wanted a Whack at it, for what she lacked in Looks and Youthfulness she could Then Mrs. Skilligan said she was sorry for as she had been bunkoed into thinking she was Good.

Juliet had eight Curtain Calls, or two more than Melba's Record, and before the Night was over she received so many Flowers, and came up to her little Supper Party, that she had a good Notion to leave Winkle and go

Next Day the Paper said that she was Great and she took 200 Extra Copies and read them all herself and then sent a few to the Skilligans.

About a month after that Mrs. Skilligan gave a Fancy Dress Ball, with Costumes all the Way from Saint Louis and three kinds of Punch on the Dining Room Table. Lady Skilligan did Queen Elizabeth with $80,000 worth of Rock Crystals hanging to her. Mrs. Winkle came for fear People might think that she cherished some Animosity against her crushed and fallen Rival, and when she sized up against the Hostess she fell backward and took the Count, for she was only a Dresden Shepherdess.

She went home and began to whet her Ax, and First Thing anyone knew she had the United States Senator right up at her House and a few Friends in to see bim Eat, and no Skilligans in the List.

Then the Carpenters were at Work enlarging the Skilligan House, and there was a Grand Reception with Imported Music and no Winkles there to hear it.

In the Meantime, Mrs. Winkle was studying the Lines and checking off the Names of Members who would dare to throw her down. Mrs. Winkle could see herself on the Balcony giving an entirely new Interpretation of the Part. She had discovered certain Hidden Meanings in the Lines and she wanted to hand out the Immortal Hot Stuff in such a Way that Folks would forget all about Julia Marlowe and these other ordinary Actresses who were after the Coin, regardless of Art.

The Stage Manager employed by the bold Amateurs was an Ex-Legit, who had lost his Voice asking for Salary. He plucked up Courage and ventured to ask Mrs. Winkle if she didn't think she was a little too strong on the Measurements to be the girlish Capu-

The Club had a Meeting and the Lady who coried Weight for Age beat out the Anti-Fat Candidate. Mrs. Winkle was elected the Ideal Juliet by a Majority of One, and some were mean enough to say that she voted for Herself. As for Mamma Skilligan, she was not Put Out a Particle. Not on your Facial Expression! A good many Competent Judges had told her that Shakespeare must have had her in Mind when he wrote the Part, but if the Club preferred a large, coarse, Creature

Just to prove that she wasn't Miffed, she bought all of the lower Boxes and on the Night of the Performance she gave a Dinner Party, at which the Gentlemen proceeded to tea up and roast the Large Party, in spite of anything she could say to choke them off. Along about nine o'clock she said it was about time to go down and watch the Balloon go up. The Push landed in at the Opera House just in time to break up the Scene in which
