"BLACK KNIGHT,"

Will Lecture in the Methodist Church Tuesday Evening, November Fourth.

Many in the town will be delighted to hear that they will have another opportunity of hearing the famous "Black Knight," Rev. J. H. Hector. He will lecture in the Methodist church on Tuesday evening next, Nov. 4th. Mr. Hector is on his second Canadian tour, and has been lecturing since early this month in the principal cities of the Maritime Provinces. It is only by happy and unexpected chance, and therefore on short notice that the offer of one evening is made to Woodstock. Don't forget the time and place Tuesday next in the Methodist church. That all may hear the admission fee is placed at twenty-five cents.

Always the South Wind.

Tourists (to hotel-keeper in the Highlands): "Is this a good place, landlord, do you think for a person affected with a weak chest?"

"Nane better, sir; nane better," was the encouraging reply.

"I have been recommended, you know, by the doctor to settle in a place where the south wind blows. Does it blow much here?"

"Toots aye!" was the reply: "it's aye the south wind that blows here."

"Then how do you account for it blowing from the north at the present time?" said the tourist.

"Oh, that's easily accounted for, sir," was the reply. "It's the South wind a' the same, sir, jist on it's road back again."

"Now, here is a show-case," said the dealer, pointing to a peculiar-looking specimen of his wares. "That is bound to become popular. It magnifies everything put in it to double its natural size."

"Can't use it in my business," replied the prospective customer. "What I want is a case that will seemingly reduce the actual size of its contents fully one-half."

"What is your line?" asked the dealer.

"My specialty is ladies' shoes," replied the other, with a half-suppressed grin.
