

THE TOWN COUNCIL.

big days we should clean our streets and make our sidewalks at least safe. Next year he favoured a general sidewalk making.

Mayor Belyea said there were too many people in town who poured out of the post office and threw envelopes, newspaper wrappers and sometimes even whole newspapers on the streets. This ought to be stopped. For another thing, the county jail was a fine building, from the outside, but the grounds were in a most unlovely condition. He had no doubt that if the attention of the county building committee was called to this the grounds would be cleaned up.

Mr. Hartley, town clerk, who is also secretary-treasurer of the county, said that the grounds would have been cleaned up long ago but the county claimed it was the duty of the contractor for the jail to do the work and as he refused to do it they were withholding part of the contract price and waiting until the difficulty was adjusted.

At this juncture Coun. A. E. Jones dipped into the street committee with brass knuckles and told them that the streets had been kept clean in other years for $1,000.00, but now, at the end of seven months the streets were not clean and the entire appropriation was spent.

Coun. Lindsay, chairman of the streets committee, came back with a left on the head when he remarked, in sarcastic tones, that the streets committee did not ask to have the streets cleaned at all. That last year it had cost $1200.00 to keep them clean; that with his $1000.00 this year an over expenditure had been saddled on him; he had been charged with the watering cart that should have gone into miscellaneous, and generally that Coun. A. E. Jones was quite incorrect in his statements.

The motion to clean the streets was carried. The question of street lamps came up and Coun. Burt, chairman of the lights committee, was requested to look into the matter and see if there was not a new lamp on the market that the town should buy to supersede the ones now in use.

At this stage of the game Coun. Lindsay ejaculated that the sewer and water works people, as well as certain notariou private individuals, notably one on Chapel Street, had dug up the streets of their own free will and accord, without coming around to consult him. He would introduce a bye law at the next meeting to have this sort of thing stopped.

Coun. Dibblee said that while they were about it they might as well contemplate the case of the men who drove heavy teams on asphalt sidewalks, and merchants, particularly dry good merchants, who opened cases of goods on the streets and strewed truck far and wide on the highway. Let these people be more careful. If merchants have no rear entrances to their stores let them open their cases within doors and not on the sidewalk.

Coun. R. B. Jones thought it just as well to enforce the bye laws at present on the books before enacting others.

Coun. Lindsay not having spoken before, was bold enough to remark, and he hoped the newspapers, would not miss the statement, that a certain individual was making a woodyard of his street and he wanted that individual to know that he was being taken notice of.

Coun. A. E. Jones now varied the thing by inviting every body to the Poor House, not for keeps, but to see how well he was doing things.

Coun. Balmain now moved that a brake be put on the watering cart if it were possible. It was a piece of cruelty to make the town horse hold back that heavy loaded cart going down Main street.

Coun. Lindsay said a brake could not be put on the watering cart; he thought that by filling the cart at certain hydrants and carefully selecting his route the driver could manage that the horse would not suffer. The horse could not be ill used when he had gained 150 pounds since the town bought him. He hardly did enough work to keep him in wind.

Coun. Balmain said he could not submit to the present treatment of the town horse. He insisted that he receive better usage and he felt that he would have public opinion behind him. He thought the case would be a proper one for the officer of the S. P. C. A. Sometimes the horse would come in and after standing an hour could not eat his oats. This did not look as if he was properly used. The horse was under the control of the fire committee and unless he was properly used he would be kept in the stall and used only for fire purposes.

Coun. A. E. Jones thought it was up to them to have the new tank placed on the old gear and the new gear set up as a monument to the sagacity of Coun. Lindsay. The motion to put a brake on the cart was carried.

J. C. Hartley, F. B. Carvell and Charles Greer were appointed pound keepers and their bars constituted pounds.

The police committee in answer to Coun. R. B. Jones said that they had their eyes open for special police for the 13th and 14th and would make recommendations at the Friday evening meeting.

On motion of Coun. Dibblee seconded by Coun. A. E. Jones it was decided to extend the time of the 5% discount on taxes until August 18th. Coun. R. B. Jones and H. E. Burt vigorously opposed this, as it was not fair to the men who had paid on July 30th. All men should be used alike.

Coun. Balmain and Coun. Dibblee thought that if a couple of thousand dollars could be got in at the middle of the month by extending the time it was a good thing to do as the town needed the money.

Coun. Burt said, "These people owe the taxes, can we afford to pay $100.00 to get in $2000.00?"

Coun. Dibblee said that he would agree that the motion should not pass if Coun. R. B. Jones would make a motion that the Council employ Deputy Sheriff Foster to collect the taxes. He had urged this last year but Coun. R. B. Jones would not agree to it. We had to do one thing or the other, extend the time for the discount or put on a good man to collect the taxes.

Coun. R. B. Jones said it was quite within the privilege of any member of the board to make a motion that Deputy Sheriff Foster be employed to collect the taxes. For his part he thought the people paid up as well as they could and he had no special desire to see the gaol filled with unfortunate men who could not pay.

The resolution was carried and the time extended to the 18th.

A Word To The Great
Army of Summer
Toilers.

If You Are Not as Robust,
Vigorous and Happy as Others in August, a Bottle or Two of
PAINE'S CELERY
COMPOUND
Will Give You Health, Full
Energy and Happiness.

Many men toiling in offices, stores and workshops during this hot summer weather, and women weighted with the works and cares of home, are critically near the breaking down point. The symptoms of coming sickness and disease are manifested in sleeplessness, nervousness, tired feelings, languidness, irritability, failing appetite and poor blood circulation.

Paine's Celery Compound is a precious boon to the ailing, sick and rundown in this August weather. A bottle or two used at once will quickly bestow the needed strength to battle against the weakening and enervating effects of the oppressive heat, and will enable men and women to go through the necessary routine of daily toil with heart, soul and energy. Paine's Celery Compound is specially distinguished for its ability to build up rundown systems in hot weather.

Mrs. Mossop, of Mimico, Ont., says: "I have much pleasure in giving my testimony in favor of Paine's Celery Compound. I was entirely broken down by hard work, anxiety and sleeplessness, and had pains all through my body. Doctors' remedies had no effect, and nothing met my case until I used Paine's Celery Compound. This medicine has done wonders for me, and I would strongly urge all sufferers to use it, as it is the best in the world."

The Coming Literature and the Best Book.

Last week "Saturday Night" republished the remarks of Jules Verne, predicting the disappearance of the novel, whose fiction will be performed by the daily newspaper. In contrast to this idea of the trend of literature it is interesting to note the forecast of Dr. Richard Garnett, until recently principal librarian of the British Museum. Dr. Garnett says:

"Among living writers George Meredith and Thomas Hardy stands nearest to the height reached by writers of the middle century—Carlyle, Ruskin, Tennyson, Thackeray, Dickens, and so on. But no writer today can be placed quite so high as either of those. But I believe in the future; the writers of today are paving the way for the approach of a grander and more brilliant literature than has hitherto been known. The spread of culture is preparing the taste of people for something better, and the demand for higher quality will produce those capable of satisfying the demand. The great fault, I think, of the literature of today is diffuseness; we give greater importance to the matter than to the manner of its display; and before the golden age of the new literature dawns, the lesson will have to be learned that good matter must be presented in a good manner. Human feeling will be increasingly the main note of the literature of tomorrow."

Already we have seen the novel as an agent in social amelioration; but the novel of the future will develop in this direction and find enormous resources not yet touched.

The interviewer had the temerity to ask Dr. Garnett to advise his readers on the best

A Woodstock Lady in Trouble.

A dispatch from Amherst of August 1st says:—"There is a miniature war raging in 'Little Armenia' here. Last week a servant girl, employed by one of the wealthier residents of that interesting section, disappeared and a roll of bills amounting to $110 was missed shortly afterwards. The owner laid complaint against the girl, who was traced by the local police to Fredericton, where she is being held for the arrival of a policeman, who leaves here to-day. Several other Armenian residents took umbrage at prosecuting the girl and made an assault in force last night on the house of the complainant. As a result of the quarrel one man's shoulder is out of joint, another received a severe cut in the hand, and five rioters are in jail, where they will remain until their trial." The servant who made the disappearance is a Woodstock lady known as Lena Adams.
