The Woodstock Field Battery.

The Woodstock Field Battery is encamped on one of the most beautiful spots to be found in Canada. From their lines one can see fully ten miles down the St. John river and with a powerful glass one can distinguish the people on the steamer as she comes into sight. The view across the Meduxnaekag must not be forgotten, where a slope of beautiful farms meets the eye. The location is high and beaful, the water supply is the best the battery has ever known and the officers and men show the effects of such excellent conditions. The camp itself presents a clean and orderly appearance. There has been only one sick man in camp and he was ill only a day or two with a vaccination.

The battery is now at its full strength, fifty horses and one hundred men. The results of the lessons of the war are to be seen here. The men live and work with an eye to comfort rather than style and the officers and sergeants do not bother with swords. The officers and men all wear wide brimmed straw hats and if a soldier wants to drill in his shirt sleeves he does so. The officers say the men are excellent, a good many of them are raw recruits but they are learning rapidly. They rise at five o'clock, attend roll call at 5.15, feed their horses at 5.30, get breakfast at 7, drill from about 8.30 to 11.30 and get dinner at 12 o'clock. In the afternoon they drill about two and a half hours and get supper at six. Lights out sounds at 10.15. The canteen is run under the auspices of the sergeants mess, by Col Dysart, who is Sergt Major. Robert Carvell, quartermaster sergt., of the 67th is attached to the Battery as quartermaster sergt.

It is expected that Col. Rutherford, A. A. G. A., of Ottawa will be here tomorrow to inspect the battery. No arrangements have yet been made for the firing competition. It will not be easy to get a range from their lines. But without doubt a firing competition will be held and a driving competition as well.

Fortunately the tents are all new and did not leak a particle during the heavy rains of last week. One night the rain storm was so severe that the horses had to be placed under cover.

On Sunday morning the battery attended service at the Methodist church where the Rev. J. C. Berrie preached to them an inspiring sermon from Ephesians 6-10 and the following verses. He carried the analogy of the soldier into the spiritual and moral realms and spoke of the foes men have to fight there. These foes were strong and wily and the only weapons with which they could be vanquished were those mentioned in the text. During the service Miss Margaret Ross sang "Lead Kindly Light." Her voice is wonderfully full and rich and under perfect control. The congregation was enthusiastic over Miss Ross's voice.

A Narrow Escape.

Parker Fisher, fireman of the steamer Aberdeen, while oiling the shaft of the propelling wheel on Sunday afternoon, lost his balance and fell overboard. The stewardess heard him fall into the water but paid no attention to it for a moment or two, and when she stepped to the door to look out she saw the fireman in the water, attempting to swim back to the steamer. He was just at the mouth of the Meduxnaekag and the current was carrying him down and out into the river. The stewardess gave the alarm and at once the boat was launched. When the fireman saw that he could not reach the shore he turned and tried to make the shore but the current from the creek kept him out. When the crew of the small boat picked him up he was exhausted and on the point of going under. It was a narrow escape.

Death of Grenville Kennedy.

Grenville Kennedy, a young man about 20 years of age, son of Asa Kennedy, who lives about a mile below Hartland, died on Tuesday morning of last week. He had undergone an operation for appendicitis the evening before, but it appeared that he was suffering as the result of a strain rather than for appendicitis. The funeral which was held on Thursday afternoon under the auspices of the Orange Order, was largely attended. The Hartland band, assisted by four pieces from Woodstock furnished music in the procession. The funeral service was conducted by the Rev. J. D. Wetmore in the Baptist church. The pall bearers were F. A. Aiten, R. W. Cameron, Eldon Thistle and Frank McCollom. Grenville Kennedy was a bright, active and very popular young man and his death is a distinct loss to the community.

JUNE WEDDINGS.

Canterbury Wedding.

Dr. Dow Coburn, a popular physician practising at Canterbury Station, was married there Wednesday, June 25th, to Miss Josephine Lawson, daughter of Luke Lawson. The ceremony which took place at the bride's home was performed by Rev. George Ross, of Benton, and was witnessed by only the immediate friends of the young couple, among them the bridegroom's mother, Mrs. B. Coburn and Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Burt, the latter a sister of the doctor's. The bride received a large number of useful presents, that from the bridegroom being a diamond ring. Dr. Dow and his bride arrived in this city this morning and are receiving the hearty congratulations of numerous friends. —Fenton Herald.

Fawcett-Morine.

There was a large congregation at Robie Street Methodist church this afternoon to witness the marriage of Lena Morine and J. L. Fawcett. The bride is a daughter of the late Alfred Morine and sister of Hon. A. B. Morine, St. John's, Nfld., and the groom is a barrister at Hartland, N. B. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Mr. Patty. The bride was given away by her brother, Miss Francis Tyler and Miss Elsie Morine, nieces of the bride, were the bridesmaids. Mr. Macy Whiton, Wolfville, attended as best man. The bride wore a travelling costume golden brown cloth, the hat harmonizing. The bouquet was of bridal roses. Miss Morine, the bridesmaid, was gowned with white organdie, and carried a basket of carnations. Miss Tyler, the other bridesmaid, wore pink silk grenadine and a white picture hat, and carried a basket of carnations. Mr. and Mrs. Fawcett left on a trip to Wolfville and other points in the provinces.—Halifax Mail.

Dewitt-Lipsett.

On the 25th of June the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Lipsett was the scene of a very happy event when their daughter, Miss Lizzy B. was united in matrimony to Mr. John DeWitt, of Avondale, in the presence of about ninety guests. The bride, who was charmingly dressed, in white organdie carried a bouquet of carnations and wore lilies of the valley in her hair, was attended by Miss Edna B. Foster, of Middle Simonds, who was becomingly dressed in white muslin trimmed in white silk. The groom was supported by his brother, Mr. Ernest DeWitt. The wedding march was beautifully rendered by Miss Viola Ingraham. After the ceremony a very sumptuous repast was served, after which the happy couple left for their future home in Lower Avondale. The bridal presents were many and costly. The groom's present to the bride was a handsome gold watch and chain and to the bridesmaid a gold brooch set with opals and pearls. Rev. Mr. Spargo officiated.

Fewer-Campbell.

At St. Bonaventure's church, Williams-town, June 25th, gathered a large number of the friends of the bride and groom to witness the marriage of Miss Jennie E. Campbell to William J. Fewer of Farmerston.

The bride who was arrayed in white silk muslin, with trimmings of white lace and ribbon and bridal veil, carried a bouquet of white carnations and maiden-hair ferns. She was attended by her sister Miss Mary A. Campbell who wore white organdie with lace and pale blue ribbon trimmings and carried a bouquet of pink carnations. The groom was supported by Mr. M. J. V. Keefe.

After the ceremony which was preformed by the Rev. Father Bradley at 10 o'clock a. m. the happy couple accompanied by a few married couples, partook of a sumptuous dinner, at the residence of the brides parents, St. Thomas. After the evening reception which was attended by a large number of unmarried friends of both parties dancing was indulged in. At the close of a very enjoyable evening the happy pair drove to their home in Farmerston followed by the good wishes of all, as the following list of handsome and valuable presents tends to prove.

Bed-room suite, china tea set and table cloth, Mr. and Mrs. James Campbell, parents of the bride; 1 doz. silver knives and forks and $5, Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Fewer; 1 doz. silver spoons, Ernest Fewer; silver pickle dish, Carrie Hourihan; easy chair, M. J. V. and W. E. Keefe; fruit dish and centre piece, Mary Campbell; silver sugar spoon and butter knife, Mr. and Mrs. I. C. Churchill; silver berry spoon, Mrs. Wm. Lee and Kathleen McCann; water set, Annie and Agnes White; two pictures, Eldon Fisher; cup and saucer and vinegar bottle, Bell J. Campbell; silver salad fork, Mrs. Fraser Robinson; berry sett, Mr. and Mrs. Travis; two silver table spoons, Laura and Matilda Campbell; picture, Rose and Nellie White; water set, Harry Lipsett; water sett and table cloth, Mr. and Mrs. R. Keefe; glass tea sett, Jno. and Thos. White; rocker, Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Caldwell; carving sett, Mrs. George Glass; bon-bon dish, Walter Glass; cake plate, Annie A. Travis; pickle dishes and tray cloth, Maggie Travis; table cloth, Mr. and Mrs. M. Matheson; pair towels, Bell McInnis; sett of flat-irons, Mr. and Mrs. J. McInnis; lace pillow-shams, Mrs.

Mary Markey; china cheese dish, Mrs. Charles Miles; salt and pepper shaker, Mary J. Mulheron; sett of flat-irons, Jeffrey and William White; silver pie knife, Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Boyle; $2. Burns Campbell; glass tea sett, Blair C. Kimball; berry spoon, Charlie and Theresa White; silver cake basket, Beatrice Lovely; oak rocker, Vincent Fewer; berry sett, Leo and Murray Mulheron; china berry sett, Bell and Lizzie White; commode sett, Annie G. and Daniel Campbell; parlor lamp, Augustus T. Fewer. The groom's present to the bride was a long gold watch chain, and to the bridesmaid a gold ring set with pearls and amethysts.

Bedell-Tibbitts.

Trinity Anglican church at Andover was the scene of a brilliant wedding at high noon on the 25th ult., in which Miss Edith (Eddie), daughter of Sheriff Tibbitts, one of the most popular and attractive young ladies in the county, and Thomas, son of retired Customs Officer Geo. Bedell, were the principals.

The church was very tastefully decorated with flowers and evergreens. Within the chancel many handsome potted plants were arranged in a very pleasing manner. The ladies of the choir and church spared no effort to give expression in this way of their appreciation of one who has taken a very active interest in her church.

The bridal party entered the church greeted by the bright music of a bridal march, played by Mr. Morton Weller, of Fort Fairfield, Maine. The groom was attended by Heber S. Keith, of St. John.

The bride was escorted to the altar by her father and took her place at the side of the groom, immediately under a massive and beautiful floral bell. She was attired in white silk organdie over white silk. She wore a bridal veil and carried a bouquet of white carnations. The bridesmaid wore pink silk and black picture hat and carried pink carnations.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. J. Hopkins, of Arthurette, assisted by Rev. C. Shewen, of McAdam Junction, in the presence of a crowded church, assembled to witness "the knot being tied." The ushers were Harold Perley, B. A., Fred Hoyt, Fred Baird and Gilbert Peat.

The bridal party proceeded to the residence of the bride's parents and took luncheon with a large number of guests. Relatives from a distance were Mrs. Frank Tibbitts and Mr. and Mrs. James Cameron, Milwaukee, Wis. Dr. Boone, Presque Isle, and Dr. and Mrs. Estey, Hartland, were also guests.

The bride was the recipient of many handsome and costly gifts. The gift of the groom was a gold brooch, set with valuable stones, to the bride, and a gold thimble to the bridesmaid. The father's present to the bride was a handsome piano.

The happy couple left that afternoon for Thousand Isles and were serenaded by the Andover brass band at the station. Upon their return they will reside at Campbellton.

Mr. Bedell is a postal clerk and saw service in South Africa with the first contingent.

Austin-Haley.

The north parlor of the homelike residence of Mr. Charles Haley, on Forest Avenue, was the scene of a most pleasant and attractive wedding Tuesday evening, June 24th, Mr. Haley's youngest daughter being married at that place and time to Mr. Robert Austin. The room was decorated in a very tasty and beautiful manner, the work of Mrs. E. E. Holt and Mrs. James Haley. Against the north wall was placed a large mirror, which was surrounded by white lace curtains trimmed with wild ferns and snowballs.

At eight o'clock the wedding march was rendered by Miss Pearl Haines, the bridal party entered, and the two young people, soon to be made one, stood together near the north wall, facing the centre of the room. The bride wore kid slippers and a beautiful gown, heliotrope in color, trimmed with white chiffon and lace. A bunch of exquisite bride's roses was in her hair and another in her hand. Miss Bertha Smith, of Grand Falls, New Brunswick, a cousin of the bride, served as bridesmaid. She was attired in white muslin insertion and lace, and carried bride's roses. Mr. John McBride of Easton, an old friend of the groom, appeared as groomsmen. Both the groom and best man were dressed in the accustomed black.

The ceremony was happily performed by Rev. D. L. Wilson, pastor of the Congregational church in this village.—Fort Fairfield Review.

Mr. Connell Will Utilise the Water Power of the Meduxnaekag.

H. A. Connell has just received a turbine wheel which he is preparing to place in position at the Davis Mill property which he lately purchased. With the dam in its present incomplete condition this wheel will give him 150 horse power and he has another turbine on the way that will give him about 250 more. Part of the lumber for building the flumes is now on the ground and they will be built the moment the water falls to a pitch at which the men can work. Mr. Connell will put up a building just below the grist mill about the same size as that building and will place one of his dynamos there. With this dynamo, run by water, he will supply power to his foundry and run his large electric lighting system. This use of the water power will mean a saving in fuel to him of over $3000 00 a year.
