

To the Weary Dyspeptic,
We Ask This Question:

Why don't you remove that weight at the pit of the Stomach?

Why don't you regulate that variable appetite, and condition the digestive organs so that it will not be necessary to starve the stomach to avoid distress after eating?

The first step is to regulate the bowels.

THE PARTING OF THE COLUMNS.

Rudyard Kipling's Spirited Address to the Colonies.

Mr. Kipling's new book, "The Five Nations," is full of what the London Spectator describes as the true imperialism. One of the finest of the poems which proclaim the bonds of the Empire is that entitled "The Parting of the Columns." A detachment of imperial forces at Cape Town escorts the home-ward bound colonial contingents to the ship and says farewell.

We've rode and fought and ate and drunk as rations come to hand, Together for a year or more around this stinkin' land:

Now you are goin' home again, but we must see it through.
We needn't tell we liked you well. Good bye—good luck to you!

You 'ad no special call to come, and so you doubled out,
And learned us how to camp and cook an' steal a horse and scout; Whatever game we fancied most, you joyful played it too,
And rather better on the whole. Good bye—
good luck to you!

There isn't much we 'aven't shared since Kruger cut and run,
The same old work the same old skoff, the same old dust and sun;
The same old chance that laid us out, or winked an' let us through;
The same old Life, the same old Death. Good bye—good luck to you!

Our blood 'as truly mixed with yours—all down the Red Cross train, We've bit the same thermometer in Bloemfontein, We've 'ad the same old temperature—the same relapses too,
The same old saw-backed fever chart. Good-bye—
Good luck to you!

But 'twasn't merely this an' that (which all the world may know),
'Twas how you talked and looked at things which made us like you so, All independent, queer and odd, but most amazin' new,
My word! you shook us up to rights. Good-bye—
Good luck to you!

Think o' stories round the fire, the tales along the trek—
O' Calgary an' Wellin'ton, an' Sidney an' Quebec; Of mine an' farm, an' ranch an' run, an' moose an' cariboo, An' parrots peckin' lambs to death! Good-bye—
good luck to you!

We've seen your 'ome by word o' mouth, we've watched your rivers shine, We've 'ard your bloomin' forest blow of eucalip' an' pine;
Your young, gay countries north and south, we feel we own 'em, too, For they was made by rank an' file. Good-bye—
good luck to you!

We'll never read the papers now without enquirin' first
For word from all these friendly dorps where you was born and nursed, Why, Dawson, Galle, an' Montreal—Port Darwin —Timaru.
They're only just across the road! Good-bye—
good luck to you!

Good-bye! So long! Don't lose yourselves—nor us, nor all kind friends, But tell the girls your side the drift we're comin' —when it ends!
Good-bye! you bloomin' Atlases! You've taught us somethin' new;
The world's no bigger than a kraal. Good-bye—
good luck to you.

The New Butter Act.

The new Canadian Butter Act assented to August 13th is now in force.

(1) It defines the following words and expressions:—"Creamery" "Dairy", "Butter", "Creamery Butter", "Dairy Butter", and "Renovated" or "Process Butter."

(2) It fixes a legal limit of water in butter.
(3) It prohibits the manufacture, importation or sale of "Oleomargarine", "Butterine", "Adulterated Butter" or "Process Butter".

(4) It prohibits the improper marking of butter.

The expansion of our dairy industry in the future depends very largely on the export of creamery butter, and as the extent to which this trade may be developed depends in turn on a high standard of quality being established, we are justified in adopting every possible means necessary to protect the good name of Canadian creamery butter.

The relative selling price of all butter made in Canada is influenced and regulated by the price obtained for that which is exported, and therefore it is obvious that anything which tends to improve that price will help the whole butter trade.

That there is still room for a great increase in our exports of fancy creamery butter to the markets of the United Kingdom is shown by the fact that during the year ending June 30th, 1903, we sent only about 6 per-cent of the total importation.

The following countries compete with us for this trade, viz. :—

Denmark, Russia, France, Holland, Sweden, New Zealand, Australia, United States, Belgium, Argentina, Norway and Germany. The four first named each supply more at present than Canada does.

In some of these countries very stringent laws have been enacted to regulate the marking, grading and export of butter, but they do not depend wholly on legislation to enable them to capture the trade. They are applying the knowledge gained through investigation and the advancement of dairy science to the production and handling of milk and the manufacture of butter. Canadians must do likewise if they wish to compete successfully in this important trade.

The following are some of the most pressing needs of the Canadian creamery butter-making industry.

(1) Better constructed and more sanitary creamery buildings.

(2) Improved refrigerators at the creameries where the temperature can be kept at least below 36 degrees Fahr.

(3) Delivery of the cream in a fresher and sweeter condition where the cream gathering system has been adopted.

(4) Stronger and neater finished packages for export butter.

(5) Heavier and purer vegetable parchment paper for lining packages.

(6) Frequent and regular shipment of butter from the creamery to a cold storage warehouse where lower temperature can be secured.

(7) Greater precaution in transferring butter from the creamery to the cars to prevent it from becoming unnecessarily heated.

Some of these improvements may be effected by simply exercising ordinary care and following common business methods, while others will involve some extra expense.
When it is considered, however, that the general quality of Canadian butter may still be improved to the extent of increasing its value at least one cent a pound—and that must be done before it is on a par with the best butter now sold in Great Britain—there is nothing unreasonable in suggesting that a portion of this possible increase in value should be invested in the manufacture of the butter in order to secure the higher return.

Itching Skin.

Dr. Chase's Ointment.

As a means of allaying inflammation, relieving the dreadful itching and healing and curing itching skin diseases, ulcers and eruptions, we believe that we can prove that Dr. Chase's Ointment is the most potent preparation that it is possible to obtain.

So many extreme cases have been cured, so much intense and continued agony has been relieved, and such a host of people have volunteered their evidence in this regard that we challenge anyone to produce like endorsement for any ointment or any preparation which is recommended for such diseases.

Dr. Chase's Ointment certainly stands alone, unapproached and unrivalled as a healer of the skin and positive cure for itching skin diseases. From pimples to eczema, from chilblains to ulcers, each and every form of itching skin disease has been cured by this great ointment.

Mr. G. H. McConnell, engineer in Fleury's Foundry, Aurora, Ont., states:—"I believe that Dr. Chase's Ointment is worth its weight in gold. For about thirty years I was troubled with eczema, and could not obtain any cure. I was so unfortunate as to have blood poison, and this developed into eczema, the most dreadful of skin diseases.

"I was so bad that I would get up at night and scratch myself until the flesh was raw and flaming. The torture I endured is almost beyond description, and now I cannot say anything too good for Dr. Chase's Ointment. It has cured me and I recommend it because I know there is nothing so good for itching skin."

Dr. Chase's Ointment is known in almost every community. Ask your neighbors about it. There is probably a marked cure at your door which you can investigate. The cures made by this preparation will stand investigation; 60 cents a box, at all dealers, or Edmanson Bates & Co., Toronto.

Chase, the famous receipt book author, is on every box.

Getting Even.

Some retaliations are too clever to be resented. They seem to be almost a logical part of the circumstances that evoked them.

Dr. Wines, says the Christian Register, was formerly the principal of a boys school.
One day he had occasion to trounce a lad, who naturally resented the punishment.

On the doctor's front door was a plate bearing the one word "Wines." That night a bold and clever hand added three words to the inscription, so that in the morning the doorplate read this way: "Wines and other Lickers."

How Dry I Am.

A few days ago the editor waded twice across the Aroostook river near the bridge, the water not rising higher on the legs of his rubber boots than about half way up. Had he walked on the highest places of the highest rocks, it would not have risen higher than four or five inches. Alas! how are the mighty fallen! The great Aroostook river being crossed on foot almost dry shod! There are said to be places in the river some miles above Fort Fairfield where this can be done literally, but we do not know about them.— Fort Fairfield Review.

He had risked his life to rescue a fair maid from a watery grave, and, of course, her father was duly grateful. "Young man," he said, "I can never thank you sufficiently for your heroic act. You incurred an awful risk in saving my only daughter." "None what ever, sir," replied the amateur life-saver: "I am already married."—Chicago "Daily News."

THE WOODSTOCK RANGE.

The Methodist Parsonage, Jacksonville, Carleton Co., N. B., Oct. 11th, 1902

Messrs. Small & Fisher, Woodstock: Gentlemen,—After upwards of thirty years experience with a large variety of cook stoves, none has ever given the satisfaction derived from your "Woodstock". It is a perfect heater and baker, keeps the water tank hot day and night, with less fuel than any stove we have ever had in our parsonages.

Yours faithfully,

P. S.—I kept the fire going night and day from the 1st of October to the end of March with less than five cords of hardwood.—J. C. B.

CARD TO THE PUBLIC.

Some time ago I saw an advertisement which said, "We advertise our business, mind our business, and pay the printer," or words to that effect. Now, what I propose to do is to advertise my business and attend to it. The first thing in my line of business is to let you know that this is a good time to bring in your Sleighs and Pungs to be painted. The next thing is to paint them well for the lowest possible price. This being up to you, you pay the Painter and he will pay the printer. This is business. Now is the time, gentlemen, to look your Pungs over, and should they want painting give me a call and I will please you. Thanking the public for their liberal patronage during the summer, in my new quarters I ask a continuance for the winter.

P. X.—When you are coming in with your Pung to McKenzie, and some one runs out and asks you where you are going, just say, "Watch my smoke!" or in other words mind your own business.

Yours respectfully,
