Cattle for the North-West.

Mr. F. W. Hodson, Dominion Live Stock Commissioner, says that at present the trade in stockers between the older provinces and the North West Territories is in a very unsatisfactory condition and many of those who have been shipping young cattle to the North West this season have been very much disappointed in the prices realized.

Under date of September 22nd, Mr. Chas. W. Peterson, Secretary of the Territorial Live Stock Associations writes:—"Within the past week from four hundred to six hundred stockers have reached Calgary alone, and the demand here is absolutely nil. These people must either take their stock elsewhere or lose heavily."

There several reasons for this condition of affairs. Finished cattle have been selling at unprecedentedly low prices. It is stated on good authority that the entire output of one of the largest ranches in Southern Alberta was sold at $32.50 per head, for three year old and four year old cattle. Naturally therefore, men that paid $22.00 per head for yearling two years ago and have sold them this season as three years old for prices in the neighborhood of $32.00, are not anxious to buy stockers this fall at anything like the prices prevailing for the last two or three years.

Again, winter feed is scarcer than usual on the ranches this fall; and as a consequence many of the cattlemen that usually purchase a number of stockers at this season of the year have scarcely hay enough to carry their breeding stock through the winter.

Another reason for the present unsatisfactory condition of the stocker trade, not only in the North West but also in the older provinces, is the poor quality of a large number of the young cattle that have been placed on the market during the last few years. Many of these were as far from the right kind of raw material from which to make finished beef as they well could be. During a period of high prices, markets are not so discriminating in the quality of the goods offered, but when prices are low, markets are more sensitive, they are more easily overstocked; buyers are more careful in making their selections; and it becomes a case of the survival of the fittest only. A high class product of any kind will always command a fair price; but on a depressed market inferior stuff must be sacrificed at prices far below the cost of production.

The ranchers have also discovered that they must be more careful in the selection of their bulls than heretofore, and eastern breeders will do well to make a note of this. During recent years every bull calf that was eligible for registration was saved with a view to selling him at some sort of price for the ranches; but the ranchers have discovered that they must pay more attention to quality and breeding, and that first class bulls are cheaper at a good price than registered scrubs as a gift. It is safe to predict that in a very short time it will not be possible to sell inferior bulls to the ranchers at any price.

Gold-Hunters.

A few years ago there died in San Francisco a man who, after a lifetime of toil and danger, finally made his fortune in the gold-fields of Alaska. His story is told by Mr. Jack London in the Atlantic Monthly.

Born in Maine, he was only sixteen when he began his wanderings, to Montana first; then to the Alaskan Panhandle, then—the north still calling him—over the terrible Chilcoot and down into the "Mysterious Silent Land." That autumn he returned over the pass in a blizzard, "with a rag of a shirt and a handful of raw flour." But the next spring he went back over the pass, and the next; and the third he went to stay. He was not going to return again until he brought his gold with him.

For eleven years, through most incredible hardships, he toiled on. Then his long quest was ended; with the gold for which he had spent his life he went down to San Francisco. To live? But he had never learned how to live with gold. To die, planning to the last a return to the old trail.

A strange, wild, sad story it seems, read by the fireside. Yet are there not other gold hunters all about us? Men who toil through years to "lay by" enough to enable them to enjoy themselves at last, only to find when the task is accomplished that the unused power of joy has atrophied; women who deny themselves everything to gain their children some special advantage, only to realize in anguish that in the crowded years they have lost the children themselves; young people who, in the eager following of their ambitions, neglect the small gifts of the quiet days—are not these all in their different ways, gold hunters?

But the gold of life does not lie hidden in any mines—it sparkles in tiny sands all along the common path of every day. He only who gathers it bit by bit from daily duties and pleasures and opportunities and friendships will find himself the possessor of the real treasure at last.

The Agricultural Implement Trade.

Four years ago the agricultural implement trade of Ontario decided that they would not exhibit at any fair in the province for the space of five years. If not a foolish, it was an unpatriotic move, that was bound to rebound to the advantage of the big as against the little. If a small manufacturer had a revolutionizing invention, under these terms he could not exhibit, and was therefore at the mercy of the big fellows for his advertisement and success. In another year the agreement will have expired, and it is hoped wiser counsels will prevail. If they do not, and manufacturers continue to manifest narrowness and lack of enterprise, they must expect further inroads from their rivals in the United States, who, as statistics herewith given show, are making tremendous progress, not only in foreign countries but in Canada, to which the exports of agricultural machinery have grown in ten years from $150,000 to $4,000,000! Figures supplied by the Statistical Department at Washington indicate that during the fiscal year ending June 30, 1903, the United States exported to foreign countries modern machines to the value of $21,006,622, against $4,657,333 in 1893. The following table gives in part the distribution of these machines in the years named:

	1893.	1903.
United Kingdom.....	$610,319	$1,422,632
France.....	309,991	2,789,356
Germany.....	377,735	1,419,083
Other Europe.....	652,682	5,515,956
British North America.....	150,365	4,023,857
Mexico.....	106,974	330,910
Cuba.....	130,341	55,756
Argentina.....	1,359,334	2,821,257
Brazil.....	36,159	32,316
British Australasia.....	294,429	1,268,163
Africa.....	298,582	1,137,841

If there is not an object lesson here, then one is impossible. Narrowness never pays, and a narrowness that inflicts an injury on your own people is suicidal.

Indications of Nerve Trouble.

Are in Need of the Great Nerve
Restorative

Dr. Chase's Nerve Food.

Restful, languid, weak, and weary, no life, no energy, tired all the time, throbbing, palpitating heart, heart asthma, sleepless nights, sudden startings, morning languor, hot flushes, brain fog, inability to work or think, exhaustion on exertion, general numbness, dead all over, cold hands and feet, flagging appetite, slow digestion, food heavy, easily excited, nervous, muscles twitch, strength fails, trembling hands and limbs, unsteady gait, limbs puff, loss of flesh, loss of muscular power, irritable, despondent, hysterical, cry or laugh at anything, settled melancholia, steady decline, complete prostration.

Mr. Geo. F. Pigeon, Painter, Carleton street, Fredericton, N. B., states:—"I have suffered a great deal with nervous, sick headache. I think positively they were caused by my work, painting. I began some weeks ago to use Dr. Chase's Nerve Food and can say that for some time I have not had a single headache. I am more than pleased with the results I have obtained from the use of this medicine and I can heartily recommend it to others."

Mrs. C. Corkey, 32 Main street, St. John, N. B., states:—"I had been in very poor health and in fact when I began using Dr. Chase's Nerve Food I had just got up from a bed of sickness, my nerves were in a bad state, I was weak and could not sleep. Now I am getting up in years and of course could not look for immediate results but must say that I have been delighted with the use of this preparation as it has done me a great deal of good. I am now able to sleep very much better, my nerves are steadier and my strength is gradually increasing."

Mark Antony gave the world for a woman's love, but found himself so poorly compensated by the exchange that in desperation at the approach of Octavius and being informed that Cleopatra was endeavoring to make terms for herself by surrendering him he stabbed himself with his dagger. Being revived, he received the message sent by Cleopatra that she desired to see him. He was carried to her place of refuge. Cleopatra and her maids raised him by ropes to the window of the tower where the fallen queen found her last home. He was lifted in and died in her arms.

There are two popular delusions about fish—one that they cannot live out of water and the other that they can live in any pure water, the food supply taking care of itself. As a matter of fact, there are fish in Africa which having to exist in absolutely dry rivers for a portion of the year, have developed lungs, while in many an amateur's aquarium fish cannot live in the water provided owing to lack of food.—London Field.

THE WOODSTOCK RANGE.

The Methodist Parsonage, Jacksonville, Carleton Co., N. B., Oct. 11th, 1902
Messrs. Small & Fisher, Woodstock:

Gentlemen,—After upwards of thirty years experience with a large variety of cook stoves, none has ever given the satisfaction derived from your "Woodstock". It is a perfect heater and baker, keeps the water tank hot day and night, with less fuel than any stove we have ever had in our parsonages.

Yours faithfully,

JOHN C. BERRIE.

CARD TO THE PUBLIC.

Some time ago I saw an advertisement which said, "We advertise our business, mind our business, and pay the printer," or words to that effect. Now, what I propose to do is to advertise my business and attend to it. The first thing in my line of business is to let you know that this is a good time to bring in your Sleighs and Pungs to be painted. The next thing is to paint them well for the lowest possible price. This being up to you, you pay the Painter and he will pay the printer. This is business. Now is the time, gentlemen, to look your Pungs over, and should they want painting give me a call and I will please you. Thanking the public for their liberal patronage during the summer, in my new quarters I ask a continuance for the winter.

P. X.—When you are coming in with your Pung to McKenzie, and some one runs out and asks you where you are going, just say, "Watch my smoke!" or in other words mind your own business.

Yours respectfully,

JOHN MCKENZIE,

At Hull & Glidden's, King St., Next Woollen Mill.
