WOODSTOCK, AUGUST 12, 1903.

SHALL WE HAVE A FURNITURE FACTORY?

Mr. Alexander Henderson, who has undertaken to establish a large furniture factory here if the vote on the bonus is favourable, is certain he can make such a factory a success.

The plant he expects to establish would cost more than the required $20,000. It would run up to 30,000 or 40,000. Since the Woodstock papers have boomed the bonus to a furniture factory and the name of Woodstock has become associated in the public mind with a great furniture centre, Mr. Henderson has had letters from dealers in different parts of the Maritime Provinces asking for his catalogue and prices.

He expects to have no difficulty whatever in disposing of the output of a factory here. The Maritime Provinces offer a very large market which is almost altogether supplied from the Upper Provinces, and the differences in the freight in our favour will enable Mr. Henderson to quote a price, better by five per cent. than the outside manufacturers on the same class of goods.

A furniture factory here under the management of Mr. Henderson would be no experiment. He has had over fifty years experience in manufacturing and selling furniture. He knows the goods the market requires and he knows how to make them.

Such a factory here could manufacture with advantage about six different styles of bedroom suites in elm and a couple of styles in birch; a line of extension tables ranging in price, wholesale, from $3.50 up, other sorts of tables and a line of verandah chairs. These would not be high priced goods, but just such as would fill the largest demand in the Maritime Provinces. After the first year the factory would probably turn out some parlor goods.

The limited number of lines could be made up in quantities sufficiently large to reduce the cost to a minimum.

The citizens feel the granting of a bonus to the Meductic Meat Co. was a wise thing, and that they have already begun to reap the benefit of their wisdom. A bonus to a furniture factory would be an equally wise move and the citizens are as strongly in favour of it as they were of the other bonus.

The vote on the bonus for a furniture factory will be taken on Thursday, August 20th, and it should and will receive a handsome majority.

Harvest Laborers Wanted in Manitoba and Assiniboia.

Although there has been a large influx of immigrants and settlers to points in the Canadian Northwest this year, the crop reports show that a considerable number of laborers will be required to gather the abundant harvest.

In another column will be noted the advertisement of the Canadian Pacific Railway, announcing rates, dates, and arrangements made for the transportation of the Harvesters to the West.

It is expected that the laborers from all parts of the Maritime Provinces will congregate at St. John on the evening of Friday, Aug. 21st, and go forward from that point by passenger extra trains, which will be run exclusively for their accommodation.

The Coronation.

Rome, Aug. 9.—The ceremony of the coronation of Pope Pius X. took place today in the Basilica of St. Peter's in the presence of princes and high dignitaries of the church, cardinals and Roman nobles and with all the solemnity and splendor associated with such the most magnificent rite in the Roman Catholic church.

As Cardinal Macchi, the dean of the cardinal-deacons, placed the triple crown on the head of the venerable pontiff, the throng of 70,000 persons gathered within the cathedral burst into unrestrained acclamations, the choir intoned a hymn of triumph and the bells of Rome rang out a joyful peal.

It is fifty-seven years since the Romans and Europe assisted at such a function in St. Peter's. The great Basilica, popularly supposed to never have been quite full, was overflowing with humanity. The papal throne, a bewildering mixture of gold, red and silver, was erected in front of the high altar. On the altar which was dressed in purple, stood the famous silver gilt candlesticks and a magnificent crucifix. All the available standing space within the cathedral was divided into sections by wooden barriers, which to a certain extent kept the crowd in order.

Montgomery-Foster.

The Presbyterian church, Glassville, was the scene of a pretty wedding on Thursday,

August 6th, at ten o'clock a. m., the contracting parties being William, son of R. D. Montgomery, Glassville, and Jennie, daughter of Charles Foster, Lansdowne. The church was tastefully decorated with potted plants and cut flowers. The bride and bridesmaid Miss Maud McIntosh were becomingly dressed in white. The groom was supported by his brother John. The bridal party marched into the church to the strains of Mendelssohn's wedding march. The ceremony was performed by Rev. J. K. Beirsto, after which he presented the bride in behalf of a few friends in the congregation with a sum of money it being the first marriage in the new church. After congratulations and luncheon at the residence of the groom's father the young couple left for Bristol taking the train for up river. After their return they will proceed to Winnipeg.

THE STEAMER ABERDEEN.

Taken off the Gagetown Route by Order of the Government, Says Fredericton Paper.

The following is from Saturday's Fredericton Herald:

"The Fredericton and Woodstock Steamboat Company's steamer the Aberdeen, which has been making daily trips between this city and Gagetown during the past month, has been ordered off the route by the government and completed her last trip today. The order came as a surprise to the members of the company, but there was nothing for them to do but comply with it, as the steamer is in receipt of a government subsidy for the Fredericton-Woodstock route, and therefore is under government control to some extent.

"The withdrawal of the Aberdeen from this route will be very much regretted not only by the business men of Fredericton, but by people living along the river between this city and Gagetown. Although the service was not a very profitable one from the company's standpoint, it was immensely popular, and no doubt in time a profitable business would have been established. Down river people were enabled to reach the city in the forenoon, transact the business and return home the same evening, and were thus saved a great deal of trouble and inconvenience.

"The company do not know who prompted the action of the government but are inclined to think that the Star Line people had a hand in it for they have been complaining that their traffic was being interfered with by the Aberdeen. The owners of the Aberdeen are naturally at a loss to know why their side of the story was not heard before action was taken. Had they been given an opportunity they claim that they could have convinced the government that their boat did not materially interfere with the traffic belonging to the Star Line Company."
