The fact that a poet's nose is red is no guarantee that his verses are.

Pedigrees and epitaphs are intended to perpetuate ready-made reputations.

Laughter may be the poor man's plaster; but it is not adhesive.

Girls think men are all soul; women know they are all stomach.

Affection before marriage is often overdone; but after marriage it usually is rare.

JESSIE MACLACHLAN

Will Sing Here on Monday Night.

None should fail to secure their tickets immediately for the great Scotch concert of next Monday evening, when the greatest of all Scotch singers will be heard for the last time in Woodstock. Douglas Young, the tenor is said to be making a big hit on the Canadian tour, and nothing less than the term sensation would indicate the measure of success which is attending the performance of John McLenden, cellist of the company. Seats are now on sale at Graham's store.

Graham's Opera House is large enough to accommodate all the concert goes in town, but there are only a limited number of first class seats from which the entertainment next Monday night may be heard to the very best advantage. Don't fail to get a good location immediately.

Jessie MacLachlan who will sing in Graham's Opera House next Monday, Oct. 3rd, and her splendid company are brought here under the auspices of the St. Paul's Presbyterian church, and the profits of the concert will be devoted to the funds for the purchase of a pipe organ. Seats are selling rapidly at Graham's store. Procure a good position at once.

Jottings of an Old Maid.

It is easier to live without a man than to live with one.

A hasty marriage is the root of all evil.

He who believes he understands all things, let him study woman.

The man who marries for a pretty face very often becomes a confirmed dyspeptic.

It is cheaper to get married than to pay a good house-keeper.
