Blamed the Angels.

George is four years old and has just arrived at the dignity of his first knickerbockers—with suspenders, just like papa wears. They were the pride of his heart, and at night he would take them off his trousers and clasp them tight in his arms when he went to bed. His mother found them there the other night, and as they seemed to be making the little chap uncomfortable, she took them away and laid them on a chair by his bed.

The next morning he had a long interview with his mother.

"Didn't you tell me, mamma," he said "that angels watched everything I did?"

"Yes, George."

"Are they watching me while I sleep?"

"Yes, my son, they watch over you always, whatever you are doing."

"Do they come right in my room at night?"

"Yes, dear, the good angels are everywhere, always."

"Then," said George, meditatively, "I bet they've been monkeyin' with my 'sponders."

Took the First Tow.

The late John H. Hamline of Chicago was one of the foremost advocates of civil service reform in that city, says the Outlook, and was instrumental in securing the passage of the law that established the merit system there. Although the mayor who appointed the first civil service commission was notoriously hostile to the measure, and planned to render it useless, Mr. Hamline did not hesitate to accept a place on it.

"How can you compromise with the opposition," he was asked, "by getting on a commission like that, which will have no power?"

"When I am going anywhere," he replied, "I do not wait for a star. I hitch my cart to anything which happens to be going my way."

It is worthy of note that having climbed aboard his cart he managed, to the mayor's amazement, to keep it straight in the path of municipal reform, and made the law effective, despite all opposition.

What the Doctor Does.

The first thing the doctor does when he is called to see a fretting, worrying baby is to give it a medicine to move the bowels and sweeten the stomach. The doctor knows that nine tenths of the troubles affecting babies and young children are due to irritation of the stomach or bowels, and that when the cause is removed the child is well and happy. Baby's Own Tablets are an always-at-hand doctor, and promptly cure all the minor ills of little ones. They contain no poisonous "soothing" stuff, and may be given with safety to the tenderest infant, or the well grown child. Mrs. J. Overand, Hepworth Station, Ont., says:—"My little one was much troubled with indigestion, and Baby's Own Tablets gave immediate relief. I have found the Tablets the most satisfactory medicine I have ever used for children." Sold by all medicine dealers or sent by mail at 25 cents a box, by writing The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Confetti.

Nothing is so sacred to tell, if you tell it secretly.

Beauty without grace is the hook without the bait.

Life is not so short but there is always time enough for courtesy.

Emotional cramps are not spiritual crises. Envy is the sincerest flattery.

To err is human; to forgive—diplomatic.

The world is divided into two great classes the women who love him and the woman he loves.

There may be luck in odd numbers, but chances are generally even.

Politics: craft and graft.

Love at fifteen is play; love at twenty is serious; love at thirty is fatal—it results in marriage.

Student Stumped the Professor.

The clever Dr. Ritchie of Edinburgh met with his match while examining a student.

He said: "And you attended the class for mathematics?"

"Yes."

"How many sides has a circle?"

"Two," said the student.

"What are they?"

What a laugh in the class the student's answer produced when he said, "An inside and outside."

But this was nothing compared with what followed. The doctor said to the student: "And you attend the moral philosophy class also?"

"Yes."

"Well, you would hear lectures on various subjects. Did you ever hear one on cause and effect?"

"Yes."

"Does an effect ever go before a cause?"

"Yes."

"Give me an instance."

"A man wheeling a barrow."

The doctor then sat down and proposed no more questions.

Almost Eavesdropping.

Among the public men in England is a well known speaker whose remarks are inaudible twenty feet away, and of him a wit said:

"No one admires Mr. X. more than I do, but I always feel that I am taking a liberty in overhearing what he says."

McCORMICK.

While the history of wheat extends over a period of more than forty centuries, the history of harvesting machines embraces less than one century.

The McCormick Reaper which was operated successfully in the harvest of 1831 was the first practical harvesting machine, and for seventy-three years the McCORMICK has been awarded the palm of excellence by reason of its superb and splendid work in the grain and grass fields of the world. The McCORMICK is the machine that has triumphantly stood the test of time, and today represents the highest attainment in the manufacture of harvesting machines.
