

WHEREVER you travel in the Maritime Provinces these days you will hear people talking about "ROYAL HOUSEHOLD" FLOUR.

PROBABLY no article of foodstuffs ever sold in this country has been as much talked about as "ROYAL HOUSEHOLD" FLOUR and a particularly noticeable thing in the remarks one hears is the unanimity of opinion about its quality.

When everybody says a flour is very good it must be very good. They all say this of "ROYAL HOUSEHOLD."

NEWS FROM THE COUNTY.

WOODSTOCK, N. B., NOV. 16, 1904.

Glassville.

Now that the election is past and gone we want to congratulate THE DISPATCH for giving us the clean news of the day, and that politics found no pretext for trash and scandal. May it ever be that the fair-minded public can have just such a journal as THE DISPATCH has been "The people's paper for Carleton County." In different sections of county we have heard nothing but expressions of appreciation for this paper.

Ed. Jewett, a former teacher here was in the village a few days last week.

Robert Simms, teacher, spent last Sunday at his brother's J. R. H. Summs in Bath.

The Highland church was well filled last Sunday when pastor C. F. Rideout addressed the Orangemen of this section from Micah 6:8. He said: "O man what is good, and what doth the Lord require of thee but to do justly, and to love mercy, and to walk humbly with thy God." In his address the pastor emphasized the fact that Divine Providence has supported the Protestant cause in the days of cruelty and oppressions and gave the incidents which led up to protestant organization in the United Empire, and in closing he enunciated the true principles of the Orange Order, (1) Justice (2) Mercy and (3) Humble Christianity. At the close of the service Mr. Rideout gave notice to his church of his intention to terminate his pastorate on the Aberdeen Windsor field at Christmas time.

Miss Katherine Skinner, who is attending superior school at Hartland, spent Sunday at her home in Argyle. Mrs. James Miller and son James, are spending the week with friends in Woodstock.

Miss Annie Darkis teacher at Argyle spent Sunday at her home in East Florenceville.

Miss Deware, who has had a class in music during the summer here has gone away. We understand she is to enter Sackville Seminary for a course in music.

Temple.

On Saturday evening, November 5th, about seventy-five people, old and young gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Shaw for the purpose of spending an evening with them before their departure for their new home at Littleton, Me. The evening was spent very pleasantly and at 9.30 a sumptuous luncheon (which was prepared for by the ladies) was served. During the evening a well filled purse accompanied by a short address was presented to Miss Ada Shaw who for the past number of years has been organist in the Free Baptist church of this place.

Mr. C. Newcombe, of Bangor, Me., is the guest of Mrs. Newcombe's parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Ingraham, of Shogomoc.

What might have turned out to be a fatal accident took place just above Meductic. As Messrs. Smith and English of Skiff Lake were driving home from Woodstock they came in contact with a double team and as it was in the evening and very dark the drivers did not see each other approaching, and consequently did not get a good chance to turn out. Both men were thrown from their wagon but nothing serious is reported.

Mr. Howard Rodgers, of St. Mary's, passed through this place taking and delivering orders.

Misses McMurray and Frazer, of Prince William, were in Temple recently.

Miss Gertie Patterson sang a solo in the Baptist church on Sunday 23rd ult., entitled "The Holy City." Miss Patterson has a fine alto voice and the solo was much appreciated.

Canterbury.

Mr. Benj. Smith and son of Presque Isle, Maine, have been the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Walling recently. While in Canterbury Mr. Smith and Mr. Walling took a trip to St. John. Messrs. Smith and English were up to Woodstock last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Solomon J. Jamieson were guests of some of their Meductic friends recently. Wednesday being King Edward's birthday it was celebrated in these parts by schools raising their flags.

Mr. Roxford Cunningham has gone to the lumber woods.

Mr. A. A. Ingraham, of Skiff Lake, was at his home election day. He was accompanied by his cousin, Richard Fox.

A number from this vicinity intend taking advantage of the cheap rates during Thanksgiving vacation.

Middle Simonds.

Miss Lulu Shaw has returned to Lowell, Mass., and Miss Maude Christian has returned to Boston, where they have situations.

Miss Mina Rideout has gone to Caribou for a few months.

The G. T. P. survey crew passed through here last week. We sincerely hope the line will take this route.

Frank R. Kelley spent part of last week at his old home here. Mr. Kelley is keeping books for a firm in Island Falls, Me.

Rev. J. A. Woodworth, who has been pastor of the Advent church here for the past four years, and who has lived here this summer preached his farwell last Sunday and is moving away to Crossville, Maine, to take a pastorate there. He will be missed greatly by his friends here, especially at this time when they are erecting a new church. We wish Mr. Woodworth and family every success.

W. B. Rideout is making preparations for moving on his new farm this week.

Tenders are being called for by the P. O. Department for the carrying of the mail from the train at Peel tank to and from our office.

Miss Ethel London, who has been stopping with Mrs. W. N. Raymon for the past three or four years has gone to Presque Isle, Me.

East Florenceville.

H. W. Furbham had his old barn moved back beside the new one last week, which makes quite an addition in the yard.

James O'Hara, of Centreville, is painting the inside of Mr. Smith's big building.

Mr. and Mrs. Rolland Semple gave a party at their home last Wednesday night for Mr. Crawford the photographer who intends leaving town soon. About forty young folk were present. Saturday night there was a surprise party at Mrs. D. Semple's where Mr. Crawford is stopping.

Dow Saunders was up Tobique last week on a hunting trip.

B. F. Smith, M. P. P., has the new elevator in his warehouse in good working order now and can load a car of oats in a very short time, which is a long way ahead of lugging them in the car in a basket.

Crain Bros. had a telephone instrument put in their store last week. The Union line.

Centreville.

Douglas McKenzie is at home again from the Klondyke, for the winter. He and his partner have undertaken the enormous task of bringing water by tunnel a distance of fourteen miles to be used for mining purposes. The enterprise which has cost many thousands of dollars, and will cost many more to complete will be a source of much profit to the owners when done. The many friends of Mr. McKenzie wish him abundant success in his undertaking.

C. M. Sherwood is again confined to his room and is attended by Dr. Brown.

The new mill was set in motion on Thursday of last week, the whole building being seemingly alive with machinery running so steadily and smoothly and proving beyond a doubt that Mr. Patterson the foreman thoroughly understands his business.

Mrs. J. G. Simonson and daughter Belle, have returned from Boston where both have been under treatment for the eyes. They seem much benefited as a result.

Rev. Mr. Beatty occupied the Baptist pulpit Sunday morning and took Mr. Turner's services in the Methodist church in the afternoon and again in the evening addressed a large congregation in the Baptist church, making eloquent appeals to the backsliders and unconverted. Mr. Beatty will hold services every evening this week in the Methodist church.

Our first snow storm was Monday morning and puns were seen on every road. The first storm last year was on the seventh of November and was a very severe one.

Meductic.

D. J. Dow succeeded in shooting a large deer on Saturday. It weighed when dressed 225 pounds, measured from the tip of its tail to end of nose 7 feet, 6 inches. It had a splendid set of horns with eleven points.

George L. Porter left on Monday for Cabano, Quebec. He will remain there this winter.

Mrs. Wiggins left on Saturday evening for Boston to spend several weeks with her daughter, Miss Lella Wiggins.

Mrs. Wright who has been visiting her mother, Mrs. C. A. Grosvenor, for the past year received word on Saturday that her husband had suddenly died. Mrs. Wright immediately left for his home in Wisconsin.

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Gerow spent Sunday with relatives in Richmond.

Mr. and Mrs. D. W. Olts, of Benton, spent Sunday in the village.

Mr. T. Edwards one of the well known business men of Meductic procured a pig from W. S. Tompkins in the spring of 1904 and killed it last week at the age of seven months and when dressed it tipped the scales at 345 pounds.

Andover.

Hugh Bruce, of Woodstock, spent Sunday, the 6th, in town.

Miss Jennie Bull, of Woodstock, who has spent the last four weeks with Miss Nellie Tibbitts returned to her home last Tuesday.

Warren James had the misfortune on Tuesday of having his left hand torn off while feeding a threshing machine.

Miss Amy Libby of Fort Fairfield spent a few days with her cousins Pearl Waite and Mae Waite this week.

Rev. J. J. McCaskill, Fort Kent was visiting at N. Tibbitts last Thursday and Friday. Nelson Hanson of McJannet was a guest of J. Allan Parley last week.

Walter Moore spent Sunday in town.

Mrs. and Miss Sadler, Will Sadler of Maple View and Miss Ethel Baird of Woodstock spent Sunday at Senator Bairds.

Senator and Mrs. Baird held a reception at their home on Saturday evening, Nov. 12th their 25th wedding anniversary. The rooms were prettily decorated with flowers which were presented by friends. Tea and coffee were presided over by Misses Nellie Sadler and Louise Perley, and refreshments were served by the Misses Lena Baird, Mae and Pearl Waite, Ethel Baird, Ethel Armstrong and Messrs Herbert Baird, Walter Moore, George Sadler, and Harry Hopkins.

The Andover orchestra furnished sweet music during the evening. There were about 150 present and all spent a pleasant evening. Those attending from out of town were Miss Holt, Dr. Boone and Dr. Kilburn, Presque Isle, Me., Miss Baird, Woodstock, Messrs Smith and Lawson, St. John, Robert Ross and Walter Moore, St. Stephen.

On Monday evening a small dancing party was given by Mrs. Baird to the young people who assisted her at the reception.

"What do you want, little boy?"

"Is this where Mr. Smith lives, ma'am?"

"Yes."

"The Mr. Smith that runs the bank?"

"He is an officer in a bank."

"The Mr. Smith that went on a trolley car this morning?"

"I presume he went on a trolley car. What—"

"Is he the Mr. Smith that was in that street car accident?"

"Didn't hear that he'd sprained his ankle jumpin' out of the car when the train was run into it?"

"No. Little boy, you frighten me. What has—"

"Didn't hear how he run to a drug store for a piece of court plaster to stick on a little cut: he'd got over one eye?"

"Not at all. For mercy's sake—"

"He isn't in, is he, ma'am?"

"No, he's—"

"Name's Henry E. Smith, isn't it?"

"Yes, that's his name."

"Then he's the same man. He won't be here for an hour or two, I guess, 'cause he's stoppin' to have one of his teeth tightened that got knocked a little bit loose when he was jumpin' out of danger, y' know."

"Little boy, tell me the whole story. I think I can bear it now."

"Well, ma'am, he's in the hospittle with four ribs broken, an' one leg's in a sling, an' his nose is knocked kind of sideways, but he's gittin' along all right, an' he'll be out again in about a month, an' here is a letter, I'm the doctor tellin' ye all about it, ma'am."
