

Thankful for the "Sucker."

Rev. Solomon Stoddard of Northampton had not, says the Chicago Record-Herald, been paid in months, and a donation party had almost starved him and his wife and twelve children. Moreover, any superstition that he may have had in reference to thirteen was about being tested any day. On the eve of the ominous notion his people made him a second contribution of their old clothes, green cord-wood—which he would have to hire some one to split—bread, apples, pie, cake, pumpkins, cider, pork, butter and eggs of which those who came to the party did not eat more than half.

He was in the habit of publicly thanking not the congregation but the Lord for these meager substitutes for cash. And so the following Sunday morning, momentarily forgetting that the expected had happened, as it sometimes does, and that his dozen offsprings had attained the baker's number, he casually remarked at an appropriate place in his "long prayer:"

"And now, O Lord, Thou Who knowest all our secret needs even before we ask them, and promiseth to supply them beyond our deserts, we thank Thee for the little succor Thou hast brought us during the week."

The rustle and titter in the pews ending in something like loud laughter brought him quickly to his "Amen."

Aunt Sally's "At Home."

The true hostess is loath to recognize any privilege for herself, but they are few who have been equal to the entire self-effacement of Aunt Sally, of whom the New York Herald tells.

Aunt Sally lived in a remote Kentucky village, and was locally famed for kindness of heart and good-will toward her neighbors. For many months she had been saving her slender means "to give a grand party," she said.

At last the great event came. All Aunt Sally's friends, dressed in their best, were present, and the evening was most enjoyable the only drawback being the mysterious absence of the hostess.

Meeting her the next morning, one of the youthful guests of the night before spoke rapturously of the party.

"I'm certainly glad you enjoyed yourself," returned the old lady, beaming with satisfaction.

"So it really was a success? Yes! My! I certainly should like to have seen it."

"But why were not there, Aunt Sally? At your very own party?"

"Laws, child," answered Aunt Sally, her face still shining with delight, "I had to stay in the kitchen and wash the dishes."

The sympathetic strike has been severely condemned by citizens of an independent turn of mind, but there are sympathetic strikes that have praiseworthy features. As a mark of sympathy with the hands employed in the breweries at Hamburg, Germany, who struck last summer, the working people of the city "swore off" beer and other intoxicants. In consequence, Hamburg, for the time being, became a city of teetotalers, much to the dismay of publicans and to the delight of the advocates of temperance. An equally interesting strike was carried on a year ago in the villages of Arnold, Daybock and Redhill, in Nottinghamshire, England against the publicans, who had raised the prices of drink. The increase was resented by the villagers. With great solemnity they held public meeting, passed resolutions and appointed pickets, giving them power to duck all traitors in the horse troughs or beneath the village pumps. The sick benefit societies, which had been accustomed to meet at the inns, promptly removed to other places. Under all this pressure the publicans soon gave way. But in the meantime, it is said, benefits of total abstinence had been impressed on many of their customers, who did not go back to drink.

Diet for Consumptives.

You have to eat at a sanatorium for consumptives, hungry or not. There are no big gorges to overwork the stomach, but there are six meals a day of moderate size. Some patients can eat full meals and then swallow twenty-four raw eggs a day. The aim of the treatment in these sanatoria is to get the sick man to drink three quarts of milk and eat a dozen raw eggs a day in addition to his regular meals of simple food.

And you must eat meat, and plenty of it. Don't cut the fat off. The cow got most of the good out of the lean in her lifetime. The fat is what will do you good. All that there is to cod-liver oil that makes it worth while is that it is a fat easy to assimilate. Bacon fat is nearly as easy to digest and about five hundred times as easy to take.

Fruits and salads you may eat, merely to amuse yourself and pass the time. But you are wasting stomach room on them. Milk, eggs, meat and hard bread for you if are to get well. Not a great deal at a time, but often.

Brought to the Point.

He was slow, painfully slow. Last autumn, when the figured velvet drawing room suit was new, he sat on one chair, she on another, and talked—Simply talked. During the winter they burned papa's gas and sat side by side on the lounge exchanging confidences. When spring came they used the same chair and whispered, but there was not a whisper of that one question she was longing to hear. Now summertime was with them, and the figured velvet was showing signs of wear.

A knock at the front door was heard. Callers, she remarked. "Bother!" he said. Say you're out, Kate. Oh, Jack, I couldn't, that would be a fib, she murmured. I can say I'm—I'm engaged if you like.

And Jack was captured.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials. Address: F. J. NEURALGIC PAINS.

ARE THE CRY OF THE NERVES FOR BETTER BLOOD.

Enrich The Blood and Neuralgia Will Disappear —It Is Only Those Whose Blood Is Poor and Watery That Suffer.

No part of the human system is more sensitive than the nerves. Many of the most excruciating pains that afflict mankind come from weak, shaky, shattered nerves, and among the nerve pains there is perhaps none? causes more intense suffering than neuralgia, which generally attacks the nerves of the face and head, sometimes causing swift, darting, agonizing pains—at other times a dull, heavy aching feeling which makes life miserable. There is only one way to get rid of neuralgia and other nervous troubles, and that is through the blood. Poor, watery blood makes the nerves shaky and invite disease. Rich, red blood makes the nerves strong and banishes all nerve troubles. No medicine in the world can equal Dr. Williams' Pink Pills as a blood builder and nerve tonic; every dose helps to make rich, red blood, and every drop of this new blood feeds and strengthens the nerves and banishes all nerve aches and pains. Among those who offer strong proof of this is Mr. John McDermott, Bond Head, Ont., who says: "A few years ago while as a carpenter in Buffalo I got wet. I neglected to change my clothes and next morning I awoke with cramps and pains throughout my entire body. I was unable to go to work so called in a doctor. I followed his treatment, but it did not help me. As I was unable to work I returned to my home at Bond Head. Here I consulted a doctor who said I was suffering from neuralgia, but though he treated me for some time, he also failed to help me. I had often read of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, so decided to try them. I had not used more than three boxes before I felt they were helping me. From that on I gained day by day, and after I had used some ten boxes I had fully recovered my old-time strength and have since been able to work at my trade without any trouble. The pains and aches no longer torture me and I have gained in weight. I think Dr. Williams' Pink Pills an invaluable medicine and shall always have a good word to say for them."

Neuralgia, sciatica, rheumatism, St. Vitus dance, and the many other blood and nerve troubles all vanish when Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are used—but you must get the genuine bearing the full name, "Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People," on the wrapper around every box. Sold by druggists or direct by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 by writing The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.
