India Rubber.

Few articles seem more strangely named than india rubber. It gets the "rubber" from the first use to which it was put—that of erasing pencil marks by rubbing. Nor should it be associated with India. The tree was first mentioned by an explorer among the Mexican Indians three centuries ago, and the first account of the substance occurs in connection with Columbus' visit to Hayti on his second voyage. Most of our present importation comes from Brazil. But Columbus and those explorers who followed him were searching for a short passage to India, and they supposed that the land they discovered was India. The name india rubber is therefore a permanent sign of their mistake.

Stanley Changed His Skin.

It is said that the late Henry M. Stanley's skin perceptibly darkened after his return from Africa. Parts of his body protected by his clothing became colored the same as his hands and face. When he started out on the Livingstone expedition he determined to make himself immune from African malarial fever, so deadly to Europeans. For some time he systematically inoculated himself with the blood of negroes day after day, so that he could defy the malarial. He was the only white man in his party who escaped the disease. But so much African blood had he infused into his veins that he became as dark as a mulatto.—Detroit News.

THE DOMINION EXHIBITION WINNIPEG.

From July 25th to August 6th 1904.

A Carleton County boy, writing from Winnipeg says:—

At this season of the year the average agriculturist, sport and business man is beginning to think of the annual fairs either as a pleasure trip or to place his goods before the eye of the public.

Winnipeg, Manitoba, has been chosen as the most suitable place to hold our annual fair for the season of 1904. The Dominion, Provincial and Municipal governments have given very liberal grants to carry on the work and this promises to be one of the best fairs ever held in Canada.

The amount to be awarded in prizes, will be in the neighbourhood of $100,000. Although early in the season for a fair there will be a very large showing of fruits vegetable and grains as vegetation is very rapid in this part of Canada and crops mature in a shorter period than in the Eastern Provinces.

For high class live stock this country has no equal. The eastern farmers will be able to see fat stock at all ages that have never seen a stable or a bushel of grain.

The buildings although far above the average are being renovated and many new ones added. The track stables are over 600 feet in length and already 140 horses are in training on the grounds. Three days of the show will be devoted to a grand horse show at which a great number of the best prize winners in Canada will be shown.

There is an immense Facade 1000 feet long facing the main buildings which when completed will cost over $10,000. This is built after the same plans as the one shown at the Worlds Fair in St. Louis.

The C. P. R. and C. N. Railways are making the rates for shipment of exhibits very reasonable and also great cuts in passenger rates which will give the Easterner a good opportunity to visit this vast western country and see the busy metropolis of the West, Winnipeg which is a pleasant surprise to every visitor. The visitors will be able to secure the very best of accommodations at a very reasonable figure as Winnipeg is noted for its fine hotels and private boarding houses and all that come may feel assured of having one of the most pleasant and instructive trips that could be desired and I hope to see a great many here from my native province.

Summer Cookery and Entertainment.

For the mother who is puzzled to provide novel and attractive forms of holiday and birthday entertainments for the little ones an article on Children's Parties, in The Delineator for August will be of value. In the same number are excellent cookery suggestions in the form of An "Inland" Sea-side Dinner and many recipes of dainty and appetizing dishes for hot days. Recommendations for hot-weather house-keeping will also prove useful.

Yankee Ingenuity.

The Canadian finance minister will have a better knowledge of Yankee ingenuity after he has experimented a while with his anti-dumping policy. He says he will not let our goods be sold across the border for less than their market price in this country, but the Canadian manufacturers have not in the least ceased worrying over the situation. They have got wind of the fact that American firms are preparing to send their surplus goods into the Dominion at regular market invoices, and to employ salaried dealers there to sell them at slaughter prices. An Ottawa wholesale merchant, for instance, has just received four circular letters from manufacturers in the United States, who intimate that they will invoice good into Canada at our prices and pay him for handling them a salary equal to the return obtained by American dealers. If German or British manufacturers should attempt to get their goods into the United States in such ways as this, we should regard it as a dirty trick. But in the present case it is only an evidence of legitimate enterprise and national shrewdness.—New York Evening Post.

A Concrete Illustration.

The United States Consul-General in Halifax, in a report to his Government, says there are four yards in Canada for the construction of steel vessels. One of these is building a vessel at a cost of $130,000, and has other constructions nearly completion.

At present steel plates for the building of these ships are not made in Canada, but are imported free of duty from abroad. It is stated, says the Consul, that a Nova Scotia company intends to manufacture these plates, and then, for the protection of the local plate-making industry, a duty will be charged on imported plates, with the result, that the ship-building plants now in existence will either be closed up, or forced to apply to the Government for a bounty on the ships built by them. In other words, if these ship-builders are denied the privilege, now enjoyed, of importing their raw material free of duty, they will be compelled to demand a bounty on the finished product. This is a concrete illustration showing the practical working out of the production policy.

Telegraph and Telephone.

(Bobcaygeon Independent.)

Sir William Mulock is by long odds the best Postmaster General Canada has had. He endeavors to run his department on thoroughly business principles. His aim is to give the maximum service at a minimum expense, and withal an efficient service. In discussing his estimates this week, he stated to the house that his own personal opinion was along the line of nationalization of the telegraph and telephone, and he hoped the time might come when he would be able to make some announcement to the house. Good for Sir William. The telegraph and telephone should be under control of the post office. They could all be worked together, and at an immense economy in cost.

A Well-Balanced Lover.

Lady, I woo thee not with sighs
Of rapturous excess;
I drink not madness from those eyes
Whose beauty I confess;
I ask no passion in return,
Since I have none to give;
To die for thee I do not yearn—
For I prefer to live;
No blood for thy sake have I spilt—
I have no blood to spare.—
But, Lady, love me if thou wilt.
Or, if thou wilt, forbear.—Punch.

eagerness to get to Egypt is due partly to the security and fairness of English government, and partly to Egypt's new era of prosperity. Many of the immigrants find employment in the manufacture of Egyptian cigarettes, an industry which grows steadily in spite of the fact that the tobacco is not raised in Egypt.

Turkish Immigration To Egypt. A minor, yet interesting, migration now going on is the exodus of Turks from their own land into Egypt. The number who have left Syria in the past eight years is reckoned at 140,000, and would have been greater but for the difficulty in obtaining passports. The
