The Annual Summer Carnival and Old Home Celebration.

Our annual midsummer Carnival and Old Home Celebration last Tuesday and Wednesday was a success, but unfortunately not such a success as it might have been, and certainly not such a success as it will be next year.

As early as Monday visitors began to arrive in town, every train bringing a good crowd. At eleven o'clock on Tuesday morning the Presque Isle excursion arrived with 500 passengers and the express from the south pulled in at 11:38 with a greater number. On Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday the C. P. R. brought 1500 people to town. At three o'clock Tuesday morning, about daylight, people began to drive in from the surrounding country and some of the highways leading to town were black with carriages.

The first feature of the Carnival was the manufacturers and Trades Procession and Polymorphian Parade, which was excellent. It was not so long as one could have wished to see it, but every feature was good and some displayed originality and ingenuity most creditable to their designers.

After the parade Prof. Morrell gave a performance on a tight wire, stretched across Main Street from the Hayden block to the Connell block. Prof. Morrell has nerve, skill and grace, and his performance was witnessed with interest by several thousand people.

At two o'clock in the afternoon the horse races began at the park and over two thousand people went over and enjoyed them.

A river illumination with music had been promised for Tuesday night but owing to the high wind the chinese lanterns with which some canoes were decorated (and many would have been decorated) were blown in such a way that they at once took fire and were consumed. A bonfire was made on the point of the island and two on the Grafton shore and the 67th Band, stationed at the point of the island, gave a concert.

On Wednesday the rain came and put a damper on things, though Prof. Morrell gave two high wire performances and the 67th band, that had been working at high pressure, cheerfully did what they could to keep things from getting blue. The rain kept pumping down and stopped the music and postponed the horse races. The majority of the visitors, however, had come to have a good time, and they were cheerful under difficulties and they good-naturedly forgave the high wind of Tuesday night and the rain Wednesday and many of them stayed over till Thursday to see the last two races. On Wednesday night, after a band concert in the square there was a brilliant torch light procession, for the rain eased up long enough to allow for that.

The parade was led by Will Blake's big policeman, just imported from New York. He was 6ft high and had a magnificent waist measure of 10ft.

Next came officer McCarron A. G. Gilman Gilman, mounted.

The 67th Regt. band, followed by No. 1 hose wagon gaily decorated, No. 1 Hose Company on foot. The steamer decorated and drawn by four magnificent black horses.

No. 2 Hose wagon decorated No. 2 Hose Company. Chief of Police Kelly and Dr. McLean mounted.

The float named Fair Canada might perhaps better have been named a Bachelor's Dream. It was an old fashioned barge, crapped in white and green. In the prow stood Miss Bessie Porter dressed as Britannia; behind her sat two children George Harrison and Miss Muriel Smith, and in the stern sat Miss Mary Balmain. In the barge sat twenty five young ladies dressed in white, bare headed and carrying white sun shades. The young ladies were Misses Faye Camber, Clara Dickinson, Lucy McLean, Margaret Dibble, Sarah Nicholson, Jean Garden, Hattie Gabel, Helen Dickinson, Jessie Porter, Georgie Balmain, Laura Balmain, Marguerite Lamb, Norah Dibblee, Vera Brewer, Beatrice Williams, Margaret Baird, Mable Nicholson, Edith Dalling, Jessie Davis, Madeleine Connell, Ida Hayden, Glennia McQuarrie of Woodstock, Miss Burppe of Houlton and Miss Tibbits and Miss Parker of Fredericton. The float was drawn by four horses arrayed in light brown harness, ridden by Arthur Glidden, Gordon Monroe, Leroy Dickinson and Archie McLean. At either side rode Harold Gray and Allie Hayden, as a guard. This float, the first one ever put in a Woodstock parade by young ladies, was greeted with the heartiest enthusiasm. It is too bad that the ill natured, envious, English female person who wrote that Canadian girls were a pasty looking crowd couldn't have seen this aggregation. Her reckless statement wouldn't have had a hind limb to stand on.

The display of the Small & Fisher Co., in the parade was excellent. They had three waggons, the first carrying two of the celebrated Woodstock ranges, one with and one without a tank, the second wagon carried a shingle machine in operation and the third a gang edger with three saws.

Engagement Announced.

The engagement has been announced of Miss Elizabeth Caroline Winslow of this city to the Rev. George D. Ireland of Woodstock.

Miss Winslow is the eldest daughter of Mr. E. Byron Winslow, of the legal firm of Winslow & Allen, and is undoubtedly one of the most popular young ladies of Fredericton's "400." Miss Winslow is an enthusiastic member of the Golf and Tennis Clubs and is a member of the choir of Christ Church Cathedral. She was one of those who represented this city in the recent Tennis tournament with the Halifax Tennis Club.

Rev. George D. Ireland, B. A., is the pastor of the Presbyterian Church, Woodstock, where he is most popular. He is also one of the most enthusiastic and strongest players of the Woodstock Golf Club. At the recent Summer Convention of Sunday School Workers, Rev. Mr. Ireland delivered the opening lecture. His subject was Literature of the Bible and it was one of the most interesting and instructive addresses of the school.

The heartiest congratulations have been extended to Rev. Mr. Ireland and Miss Winslow by their numerous friends, in which The Gleaner joins.—Fredericton Gleaner.

The Rev. G. D. Ireland was born in Alberton, P. E. I., and was educated at Prince of Wales College, McGill University, the Presbyterian College, Montreal, and the Divinity School of the University of Chicago. He was ordained and inducted into the pastorate of St. Paul's Presbyterian church, Woodstock, in December, 1898.

Mr. Ireland is an authority on Biblical and English Literature and is a strong preacher and lecturer. He is an able organizer and has the valuable faculty of interesting young men in church work.

Mr. Ireland's classes in Browning and Tennyson held in the vestry of his church during two winters, were attended by adherents and members of many other churches beside his own. He implanted and cultivated in the hearts of many people a love for the best English Literature which they can never forget and for which they will always be grateful to him. He also organized literary classes for the younger people whom he greatly interested in literary work, by this means making it impossible that they can ever find enjoyment in cheap literature and ensuring that all their reading will be of a high order.

Since he came to Woodstock he has raised St. Paul's church from an augmented charge to a self sustaining church and under his pastorate the membership and the congregation have largely increased. His broad sympathies and moral earnestness have drawn people to him and enabled him to accomplish this work.

Mr. Ireland was the organizer of the Woodstock Golf Club, of the local branch of the Book Lovers' Library and was one of the chief promoters of the Carleton County Hospital, of which he is a director and trustee. He is a member of the Alpha Delta Phi Fraternity, McGill chapter. He is also a prominent member of the Masonic order and is at present Senior Warden of his Mother Lodge and Grand Chaplain of the Grand Lodge of New Brunswick.

Mr. Ireland is recognized by the clergymen as one of the ablest and most earnest of the younger men in the Presbyterian ministry in the Maritime Provinces and his many warm friends see before him a future helpful to others and honourable to himself. THE DISPATCH extends hearty congratulations to Mr. Ireland and Miss Winslow.

Communication About the Street Parade.

MR. EDITOR.—Now that the carnival is a thing of the past I intend to give it a little review. As chairman of the street parade and sports committee I have a good idea of the up hill row we had to hoe this carnival. In the first place you can either make or break a carnival in the appointing of the different committees. They must work in perfect harmony and have lots of push. A poor man is worse than none at all. All money voted for advertising or encouraging this Old Home Week craze is simply wasted. All people that have gone away from Woodstock can find their way back if they want to come. I could have taken the money that was voted for this and put three more good floats on the street which makes the best kind of advertisement. In speaking of the floats this year they were far above the average and in speaking for the street parade committee we are very thankful for the magnificent way in which the different concerns responded. One can draw no comparison, they were all good, but there are two floats I am going to speak about, they are the Fair Canada float and the Castle built by Dolph McLean. Fair Canada is the first float ever put on the streets of Woodstock by the young ladies and if Canada's future depends on the class of young ladies that got this beautiful float up, then it is a bright one indeed. Dolph McLean's Castle of the period of 1147, was past the float, it was a work of art. He got it up alone and would have had it illuminated and on the river Tuesday night if it had not been for the heavy wind. This boy shows what can be done on a street parade if other boys took the same interest in it he has done. We were also handicapped by the merchants not decorating their shop fronts. There is very little cost to it and it is a great help in the appearance of the town, it all goes to help make a Carnival. Thanking you for your valuable space, I remain yours etc.

MURDER AGAIN IN CARLETON COUNTY.

Man Murders Brother-in-Law and Burns His Body.

Thomas McCammick, of Glassville, a man 65 years of age; is lying at death's door, after having murdered his brother-in-law William Doherty and putting a bullet through his own head.

It appears that McCammick married Doherty's sister for his second wife and in a short time she refused to live with him and went to live with her brother. Last Sunday night McCammick, taking with him a son by a former marriage, went to Doherty's house and shot Doherty, killing him instantly. He then fired at other people in the house but they escaped. McCammick then set fire to house, which was destroyed with all its contents, including the body of the murdered man.

McCammick and his son took to the woods and Sheriff Foster and Constable Woolverton with a large posse surrounded them. McCammick, seeing that it was impossible to get safely away put a bullet through his head and the son surrendered. The murderer is dying.

The shooting took place at a house just on the line between the parishes of Kent and Aberdeen, just three miles from the scene of the Gas murder.

Radcliffe is in Town.

Radcliffe, the official hangman, arrived in Woodstock by the express, 11-28, on Tuesday. There was a large crowd at the station expecting his arrival, and anxious to get a look at him. He stepped from the train carrying a heavy gladstone bag and was instantly recognized by the crowd who surged round him and stared at him. Sheriff Hayward instantly took him to the carriage and drove him to the jail. Radcliffe is a stout man, not very tall, with brown hair and a heavy brown moustache. He was dressed like a labouring man to conceal his identity.

Death of Miss Hayden.

Miss J. Marian Hayden, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albert J. Hayden, died on Monday evening, at the age of seventeen years, after a long illness. The bereaved family have the sincere sympathy of the community in their loss.

The funeral will take place this afternoon at 3 o'clock from the residence to the Parish Church.

Base Ball.

On Wednesday morning, the second day of the carnival, the Fort Fairfield "Advertisers," a robust looking and gentlemanly lot of ball tossers met the "Colts," in one of the best and most closely contested games that has been played in Woodstock for some time past. It looked like a victory for the boys from Maine up to the eighth inning when the "Colts" made one of their famous rallies and evened the score. The ninth inning opened up with the visitors at the bat and the score standing 3 to 3. The "Colts" did not allow a runner past second and went in at their turn at the bat to win the game. With one out and a man on third. Bridges the pitcher for the "Advertisers" made a wild pitch and the game was won for the "Colts" by a score of 4 to 3.

Features of the game were a steal from third base to the plate by Ervine and the magnificent work behind the bat by "Shorty" McKinley who showed himself to be in old time form. The "Colts" would strengthen their line-up materially by the addition of McKinley whose catching speaks for itself and whose batting is of the glittered order.

James Sullivan, of Boston, Mass., officiated as umpire in a most satisfactory manner, calling out the decisions in a distinct, decisive way that was heard by all present. Upwards of three hundred people were present to witness the game. The official score:—
