Florenceville.

On Friday evening the 30th December a few of the friends of Rev. Mr. Anderson and wife, called at the Manse and presented to them a handsome Silver Tea Service, together with an address in which was expressed the high esteem and regard in which the estimable minister and wife are held. After the presentation Mr. Anderson replied in suitable terms thanking the donors in behalf of himself and wife, for their gift and assuring them of the appreciation of their kindness and the pleasure in receiving such a token of their good will and regard. After a very pleasant evening spent in music and games a delicious luncheon was served and the visitors dispersed all feeling that another bond of kindly regard and affection had been established between Mr. and Mrs. Anderson and their friends in Florenceville.

Cabano Que.

It seems to me by questions I have been asked by "Down River" friends that the majority of New Brunswick people imagine that Cabano is simply a collection of huts in the woods along side of a little lake, and that the only people here are a few shanty and mill men of the French Canadian type. Now I will try and convince the readers of "THE DISPATCH" that if they hold this view they are greatly mistaken.

Situated as it is on the shore of one of the largest and most picturesque bodies of fresh water in Eastern Canada, the beautiful Temiscouata, a lake filled with most magnificent trout and touladi in the world, near the heart of a fine game country, and with a first class railway connection from all points, Cabano is an ideal headquarters for all lovers of the gun or rod. The population of the town is about 1600 of which about seven eighths are French Canadians but who with few exceptions speak English. There are four good schools one Protestant and three Catholic of which the church school has three grades and has about 140 pupils enrolled. The chief industry of the place is lumber and the mills are as follows:—D. Fraser & Sons, long lumber, clapboards, lath, shingles and box wood, employ about 300 men, output 14 cars per day. English Lumber Co, shingles. E. V. Albert, shingles, Eph. Pelletier, custom saw ing, planing, and grist mill, Jos. Le. Blane, long lumber and shingles. Nap Bouchard planing, resawing, moulding, matching. The principal business places are, Jos. Michaud, groceries; David Michaud general store and hotel, C. Bouché painter and undertaker; P. Chamberland, woodworking; Xavier Bouchard, liverystable and hack; English Lumber Co. general store, Hector Desjardins confectionery, tobaccos, fruit, and toys. Alp. Pelletier, groceries and butcher shop; Jean Emmond, groceries. Jos. Lavesque beer and cream porter, Chas. Leclaire, small ware; Jos. Latulippe bakery and flour and feed store; Balise Pelletier dry goods and clothing, D. Fraser and Sons, general merchandise; Manzer Clark hotel; Geo. Berubie, hotel, Fred Berubie, central; Abel Violette pool room and jewelry, Lake View hotel; Chas. Breton; general store and post office, Dr. Leon Cotz drugs medicines and sundries, Jos. St. Amand groceries boots shoes etc. Jos. Bellideau tidware stoves etc; Alfred Ouillet hotel. Among the many fine residences might be named Chas. Englands fine brick house on main St. south; Eph. Pelletier corner main and mill street, Archie Fraser, Fraserville, Fred Berubie; George Berubie, the Raman Catholic Presbytery; the brick residence of Solomon Bars and the house and office of Dr. Cotz main st. north. The D. Fraser & Sons tenement houses twenty three in number are all nice comfortable and commodious six room cottages with large roomy yards making them most desirable rents.

Taking everything into consideration Cabano is a good place for the working man with families. Rent is reasonable, the cost of living compares well with other places, wood is plenty and cheap, the air is healthy and bracing and he can get steady work the year round and at good wages; a good steady man need never lose a day from one year end to the other unless he wishes or from sickness. If you are dissatisfied come to Cabano and grow up with one of the most thriving little towns of Eastern Canada.

Centreville.

The mercury stood at 48° below zero Sunday morning at seven o'clock and was the coldest of the season.

Fannie Crone has not recovered as rapidly as was at first hoped she would and other operations have had to be performed. The disease has gained such a stronghold upon her system, that her complete recovery will be much retarded in consequence.

The ice has been cleared of snow from the bridge down the stream for perhaps half a mile by those interested in horse trotting and the sporting fraternity will now have an opportunity to gamble their "good" money on, if not the fastest horses in America, the fastest in the community, and perhaps it would not require the closest observation to conclude that the strict keeping of the ten commandments would not be highly commended by those whose minds are concentrated upon the horse trot.

Evangelist Beatty passed through the village on his way to St. John on Thursday last having finished his labours at Lakeville. He did not seem to have the success at Lakeville he had at other places.

Perry Fitzgerald has sold his farm and it will in all probability pass into the hands of Mr. S. A. Perkins of the Centreville Hotel who now has a large area of valuable lands adjoining.

Walter Everett who married Miss Carrie Fitzgerald and has been living in the west for some time past is now visiting friends in Aroostook County, Maine, and will no doubt visit Centreville, the home of his bride.

Mr. Daniel Watson, of Clearview, died on Monday last and was buried on Wednesday at two p. m. Rev. Mr. Demmings attended and preached a forceful sermon from the words of Paul "For me to live is Christ." The large number of people who attended the funeral was an indication of the respect in which Mr. Watson was held in the community in which he lived. He was 76 years of age and had been all through life until a short time ago a rugged healthy man. His first wife died some years ago leaving him with a large family of children, some of them quite small. In due time he took unto himself another life partner Mrs. Susan Nicholson widow of the late Thos. L. Nicholson of Centreville who with the rest of a loving family is left to mourn the sad loss of an indulgent father and kind husband.

A very pleasant evening was spent at the close of which the guests presented Mr. and Mrs. Gravinor with $21.00 as a slight token of their love and esteem.

The school opened at Temple Monday morning with Mrs. Smith in charge.

Andover.

Andover has to deplore the loss of one of its young ladies, whose ambition has led her beyond the village. Last Saturday Miss E. Mae Waite started for Boston, where she will take a course at the Vincent Memorial Hospital. For the last five years she has been employed as clerk by D. R. Bedell and her loss will be felt by him second to none outside her own home. The Presbyterian choir and some other friends tried to carry off a successful surprise party for her, on her last evening at home, but owing to the extreme kindness of a friend who feared that the surprise might possibly hurt Miss Waite told her that her friends were coming.

About 20 of her friends were entertained that evening and before leaving Mr. C. H. Elliott, B. A., presented her with a useful present of three $5 00 goldpieces and an appropriate address from her friends. We all hope that when Miss Waite returns there will be many sick here to make her business prosperous.

R. C. Murphy B. A., returned to Halifax where he is attending the Dalhousie Law school.
