Twenty-Five Years Young.

A drug store that has existed for 25 years is its own best testimonial. The public finds a store out and makes or unmake it in a great deal less time than that.

In years, in well earned public favor, in facilities for meeting every need of the community it has served so well, this store is old; but in progressive methods, in stock and in every worthy feature this store is always young.

Three things you are always sure of here; quality, accurate service, and the utmost possible value for the money.
