IDEAL BONDS

Have you time to investigate the "Ideal Income Bonds" of the LONDON LIFE?

SATISFACTION.—They are in every way deemed MORE SATISFACTORY and desirable than lands, stocks, houses or debentures.

PROTECTION.—They afford better and MORE COMPLETE PROTECTION than any other system yet devised.

FOR HUSBAND, WIFE AND CHILDREN.
—The same income that is payable to the husband for life will also be payable to the wife for life if she is the same age. If older the income will be larger; if younger the income will be proportionately smaller. After the death of the husband and wife the residue of the Bond goes to the children.

$450.00—Per year will be the INCOME PAY-ABLE on $10,000 bond maturing after 45 years of age.

$470.00—Per year will be the INCOME PAY-ABLE on $10,000 maturing after age 50.

$500.00—Per year will be the INCOME PAY-ABLE on a $10,000 bond maturing after 55 years of age.

$540.00—Per year will be the INCOME PAY-ABLE on a $10,000 bond maturing after 60 years
of age.

$600.00—Per year will be the INCOME PAY-ABLE on a $10,000 bond maturing after 65 years
of age.

$680.00—Per year will be the INCOME PAY-ABLE on a $10,000 bond maturing after 70 years
of age.

TRUSTEES.—It is not necessary to appoint a Trust Company to administer these bonds as the LONDON LIFE becomes your trustee under Government supervision.

IDEAL INCOME BOND BOOKLETS.—

All Run Down

THIS is a common expression we hear on every side. Unless there is some organic trouble, the condition can doubtless be remedied.
Your doctor is the best adviser.
Do not dose yourself with all kinds of advertised remedies—get his opinion. More than likely you need a concentrated fat food to enrich your blood and tone up the system.

Scott's Emulsion of Cod Liver Oil

is just such a food in its best form.
It will build up the weakened and wasted body when all other foods fail to nourish. If you are run down or emaciated, give it a trial: it cannot hurt you. It is essentially the best possible nourishment for delicate children and pale, anaemic girls.
We will send you a sample free.

Be sure that this picture in the form of a label is on the wrapper of every bottle of Emulsion you buy.

A FOOL-KILLING.

Doggedly trudging the livelong day, I asked of each person I met;
"Has the fool-killer recently passed this way?"
But the only response I could get
Was a sweep of the arm and a jerk of the head, Which seemed, without speech, to contrive A negative answer, as if each had said:
"My neighbors, you see, are alive?"

I finally met with an ancient man—A harmless fool, I was told—Who had long outlived the common span, Yet was equally young and old,
For his simple soul was an open page Of the book of eternal truth,
And his mind was stored with the wisdom of age, While his heart was the heart of youth.

"And why do you wish," said he, "to find This fool-killer whom you seek?"
I, answering, said, "I have in mind Some wessands he should tweak."
Then I read from a list I had carefully made Of the fools who still exist—
The fools of every different grade Whom the fool-killer seemed to have missed.

"Bat, son," said he, "is there not some plan, Some educational way
Of killing the fool and saving the man For better things some day?"
I felt in my heart the sting of shame,
And I hung my foolish head, Then I knelt at his feet and begged his name.
"I'm the fool-killer, son," he said.

Beef Tea.

This story was told by an old physician who had practised for nearly fifty years in a small country town. One day he was summoned to a farmhouse, where he found a woman in a high fever and evidently exceedingly ill. He said to her husband, who was the only other person in the house:

"Your wife is very sick and must have nothing to eat except milk and beef tea, but I want you to give her a cup of one or the other every two hours." When he came the next morning and asked about his patient, her husband said:

"That beef tea don't agree with her, doctor.
It certainly don't. She began to feel bad as soon as she took it."

"That's odd," said the doctor. "You didn't give her any little bits of the meat in it, did you?"

"No, sir, I strained it first on account of the grounds."

"Grounds!" roared the doctor. "What did you make that beef tea out of?"

"Corn beef and the best green tea. I boiled 'em together all yesterday afternoon to get the strength out. But it don't agree with her, doctor. It certainly don't."

An old negro who has been generation for a Southern cotton-planter for a generation or more, came to his employer one day and declared his intention of quitting. "What's the matter?" was asked him. "Well, sah, yer manager, Mistah Winter, ain't kicked me in de las' free mums." "I ordered him not to kick you any more. I don't want anything like that around my place. I don't want anyone to hurt your feelings, Mose."
"Ef I don't git any more kicks I'se goin' to quit. Ebery time Mistah Winter used ter kick and cuff me when he wuz mad he always git 'shamed of himself and gimme a quarter.
I'se done los' enuff money 'a ready wid dis heah foolishness 'bout hurtin' ma feelin's."

WOODSTOCK, N. B., FEB. 8, 1905.

The Christ of the Andes.

Chile and the Argentine Republic, after quarrelling for seventy years about their boundaries, and making great preparations for war, lately agreed to arbitrate the dispute. They signed a permanent treaty of peace, put into good roads and other internal improvements the money they had meant to spend in fighting, and set up on the disputed boundary, 14,000 feet above sea level, a colossal bronze statue of Christ, made from the metal of old cannon.

This result was brought about largely by the influence of the women of the two sister republics, especially the 'Society of Christian Mothers.' The Pope has sent these South American mothers a medal in honor of their distinguished service to the cause of peace, and the Czar has sent them a request for a full account of the Christ of the Andes. The 'Society of Christian Mothers' are going to send him a model of the statue, with its history written on white satin in gold letters.—
'Woman's Journal.'

Tolstoi Was Unable to Answer.

Success: Once in Moscow, near the Bor-ovitchskaia gate, he (Count Tolstoi) saw a persistent beggar, asking alms, who exclaimed: "A little penny, brother, in the name of Christ!"

A police officer approached; he was young, martial and wrapped in the regulation sheepskin. At sight of him the beggar fled, hobbling away in fright and haste.

"It is possible," said Tolstoi to himself, "that people are forbidden to ask charity, in Christ's name—in a Christian land?"

"Brother," he said to the policeman, "can you read?"

"Yes," said the officer, politely, for Tolstoi has a grand air.

"Have you read the Bible?"

"Yes."

"And do you remember Christ's order to feed the hungry?"—and he cited the words.
The policeman was evidently troubled; he turned to his questioner, and asked:

"And you sir—you can read?"

"Yes, brother."

"And have you read the police regulations?"

"Yes, brother."

"And do you remember that begging in the main street is forbidden?"

The prophet found no answer ready.

Rhinoceros Charges a Train.

A 'collision' recently occurred on the Uganda Railway, British East Africa, that would be possible nowhere else on earth. A huge bull rhinoceros rushed out of the bush and charged at full speed the so-called 'up mixed' train, which was slowing down as it approached the station Sultan Hamond, 218 miles from Mombasa. The train was stopped, and the 'rhino' was discovered about 100 yards down the track. Slowly he returned to the jungle and was lost to sight. He did not escape unharmed, for pieces of his thick skin were found adhering to the train. But the fierceness of his assault smashed the engine step and splintered the inch and a half foot-board of the first carriage.—'St. James Gazette.'

Novelist's Life in a Nutshell

Maxim Gorki, the Russian novelist, was asked by his publisher recently to supply a biographical notice of himself, and this is what he wrote:

"1878, apprentice to a shoemaker; 1879, clerk in a draughtsman's office; 1882, scullery hand on board a steamer; 1883, baker's assistant; 1884, master baker; 1886, chorister in a traveling opera troupe; 1887, street apple-seller; 1888, a candidate for suicide; 1889, clerk in a lawyer's office; 1891, tramped through Russia; 1893, porter in a railway station; 1894, my first book was published.— Maxim Gorki."

Anna Katherine Green, the well-known novelist, discussed the servant question at a recent dinner party in New York. "Servants, as a class," she said, "are excellent. I have no sympathy with those women who say it is impossible to get good servants. I admit, though, that now and then an impossible servant turns up. An impossible servant, a cook, turned up at the house of a friend of mine last week. This cook was from New Hampshire, a State noted, I believe, for the haughty pride of its inhabitants, he they rich or poor. She came to my friend with a high recommendation from an employment agency, but as soon as she entered the house she began to ask the most impertinent questions. My friend answered her questions with civility, but in the end they reached a point where civility would no longer serve.
'I see you have a daughter. What is her name?' said the new cook. 'Margaret,' my friend answered. 'Margaret?' said the cook.
'Dear me! I guess you'll have to call her something else while I'm here, for my name's Margaret, too.'"

EARN A Comfortable Living
WITH A
Chatham Incubator

Poultry raising with a Chatham Incubator is a very profitable and easily managed occupation. Unless you want to go into it extensively it need take but very little of your time.
Government reports show that the demand for chickens in Canada is greatly in excess of the supply and Great Britain is always clamoring for more. That means a steady market and good prices for chickens.

You cannot raise chickens successfully with a setting hen. She is wasting time setting when she should be laying. While she is hatching and brooding a few chickens she could be laying five or six dozen eggs. The percentage of chickens she hatches is much less than that produced by the Chatham Incubator.

It will pay you to own a Chatham Incubator.
Chatham Incubators contain every improvement of importance in Incubator construction that has been produced. They are made of thoroughly seasoned wood, with two walls, case within case. Between these walls mineral wool is packed forming the very best insulation. Each piece of the case is mortised and grooved and screwed, making the whole as solid as a rock. Chatham Incubators are equipped with scientifically perfect regulators which are an infallible means of regulating the temperature.

No cash to pay until October, 1905.

We will start you raising poultry for profit with a Chatham Incubator without one cent of money from you until next Fall. That means that you can take off seven or eight hatches and make considerable money out of the incubator before the first payment becomes due.

We couldn't make this offer if we were not certain that if you accept it you will get complete satisfaction, if we were not positive that the Chatham Incubator will pay you a handsome yearly income.

This is a straightforward offer. We make it to show our supreme confidence in the Chatham Incubator. We want you to accept this offer as we are sure of the satisfaction our Incubator will give. Every machine we have put out so far has made other sales in the same neighborhood.

*Dur offer is to send you a Chatham Incubator at once, freight prepaid by us without one cent of cash from you.
You make your first payment in October, 1905. The balance to be paid in October, 1906, or if a Cash Buyer you get it cheaper. Could any offer be fairer or more generous?*

SMITH FALLS, ONT., November 19th, 1904.
The Incubator and Brooder that I bought from your agent, on time, I wish now to pay the whole amount this fall, if you will give me a discount. I am very much pleased with both Incubator and Brooder, and would not be without them, because I cleared this season, more than the Incubator and Brooder cost me.
Yours respectfully,
MRS. W. HYSLOP.

We write to-day for full particulars of our offer and mention this paper.
Don't put it aside for another time as this special proposition may be withdrawn at any time.
