

News of Hartland and Vicinity

FRED. H. STEVENS, Reporter, and Manager Hartland Branch Office.

WOODSTOCK, N. B., NOV. 1, 1905.

Next Sunday's Services.

In Hartland and adjacent districts there are more than half a dozen ministers of the gospel each having large circuits. The appointments for services among the churches interweave in such fashion as to be very confusing. In his former local newspaper work THE DISPATCH reporter made the publication of these appointments a regular feature and it was much appreciated by the people. In the initial issues of this department the pastors were invited to hand in their appointments, not later than 4.30 p. m. on Monday, and they would be gladly published free of charge, but so far, by reason of the apathy or indifference of the pastors, a complete calendar of services has not yet been arranged. It is too much work for no pay for the reporter to call upon each pastor for the desired information and if the announcements are sometimes incomplete or omitted, the many readers of THE DISPATCH who have asked to have the appointments regularly published will understand that it is no unwillingness of the reporter to publish them, but, strange as it may seem, the failure of the pastors to supply the needed information. As far as the material at hand permits THE DISPATCH is able to announce services next Sunday as follows:—

Methodist:—Preaching services at Coldstream at 10.30 a. m., at Lansdowne at 3 p. m., at Hartland at 7.30 p. m. Rev. H. H. Marr, pastor.

United Baptist:—Lower Brighton at 10.30 a. m., Victoria at 3 p. m., and Hartland at 7.30 p. m. Rev. C. T. Phillips, pastor.

Baptist:—Hartland at 11, preaching by Rev. Mr. Beatty, evangelist, Peel at 3 p. m., Rockland, at 7 p. m. Rev. O. F. Steeves, pastor.

Reformed Baptists:—Lower Brighton at 10.30 a. m., Victoria at 3 p. m., Hartland at 7 p. m.

Dedicated.

What was formerly the Free Baptist church at Upper Brighton has recently undergone extensive repairs. It has been repainted outside and inside and now is really more attractive than when it was new. The work was done by Nathan Cox, Allen Day and Addington Pearson. The latter deserves special credit for the work he has done, being nearly a month's labor done gratuitously.

The rededicator services were held on Sunday last and were largely attended. Rev. J. B. Daggett preached the rededicator sermon and conducted the services in the morning. Rev. J. H. A. Anderson, Presbyterian, conducted the services in the afternoon and Rev. J. N. Barnes in the evening. Each service was attended by a great number of people.

The edifice now belongs to the United Baptists but no arrangements have yet been made for regular services there. Rev. J. H. A. Anderson, Presbyterian, preaches there once every month, however.

The Primitive Baptist church at Middle Simonds has been thoroughly repaired and renovated, and on Sunday last was rededicated. Three services were held and all were attended.

Jonathan Bridges who was recently thrown from his wagon and killed near Aroostook Jct. had many friends in Hartland and vicinity who regret to learn of his sad end. Mrs. Bridges is a daughter of Samuel N. Estabrooks of Rockland.

H. F. Perkins principle of the high school, who was last week reported to have shot a deer, was unfortunate enough to secure a second one a day or two afterwards. He saw four others at the time but as he had taken all the law allowed he had to let them go for some one else to shoot.

J. T. G. Carr has begun the erection of a wooden building adjoining his brick block on the north. It will be 22x60 feet in size and two storey's high. The front portion will be fitted up as a sample room for commercial travellers and the rest of it will be utilized for the storage of surplus stock. L. E. McFarlane is the workman in charge.

It was an oversight that no mention was made last week of the eloquent address on "Temperance and judgment to come" delivered in Burt's hall by Albert Orser, Esq. The Squire was in good form and highly pleased his audience which was of fair size. He intends giving his lecture, along with some original poetry, at other villages during the fall.

F. E. Sayre & Co., who own the mill at the mouth of the Becaguine, had several rafts of deal and lath stranded in the vicinity of Hartland on account of low water in the river. The prospect of a raise of water being so doubtful it was deemed advisable to haul the lumber up to the railway sidings, which work is now being done, giving employment to several men and teams.

Baird & McFarlane, the well-known young firm comprised of Arthur L. Baird and Solomon McFarlane, who ran a lath mill in connection with W. W. Shaw's saw mill until it burned last winter are now busy building a lath mill on the Little Presque Isle stream about two miles west from Hartland as the crow flies. They intend to use the stream as a motive power and have secured land timbered with lath-wood sufficient to run them for several years.

George S. McLaughlan has removed what was formerly the Advertiser plant from the quarters on the ground floor of the Commercial hotel building to the house near by, owned by J. T. G. Carr. He also intends moving his family into the same building which is the commodious one that formerly stood on the site of Mr. Carr's brick block. Mr. McLaughlan intends continuing in the job printing business and it is said he intends to soon attempt the publication of a new newspaper.

Rev. J. B. Daggett of Fredericton Junction was in Hartland the last few days. He was for several years pastor of the Free Baptist church here, and there are many who were pleased to greet him again. This year he has not been appointed to any church but instead is employed by the United Baptists as field secretary in the interests of the young people's societies. Work in this connection is the occasion of his visit here, a meeting being held on Monday evening for the purpose of organization. A report of this will be given next week.

Potatoes in Aroostook are now bringing from $1.50 to $1.75 per barrel. Both the B. & A. and C. P. Railways have carried away more than during the corresponding period of last year. It is said that the C. P. R., where it competed with the rival road, is getting more potatoe business than the B. & A., and both roads are unable to furnish sufficient cars.
