Better Late Than Never.

Information has been laid against the proprietors of the "line stores" on the Maine side of the boundary line. The charge in every case is the maintenance of a public nuisance. The list of offenders comprises all the Yankee joint-keepers on the borders of both Carleton and Victoria Counties. The trials will be held at the September term of the Maine State Court which meets at Bath this week. Scott Act Inspector Colpitts, Deputy Sheriff Foster and Constable Woolverton, together with Scott Act Inspector McCrae of Victoria County, will appear before the Court as witnesses in these cases. The prosecutions have been made at the instance of U. S. Revenue Officer Jinks. Now that the officials on both sides of the line have put their heads together the probabilities are that the reign of terror that has too long existed along the boundary line will be brought to an end. There is a reasonable prospect that "line stores" will in the not very distant future be things of the past. Our officials have made a relentless campaign and they cannot put the lid on these hells any too quickly to satisfy respectable, law-abiding people.

At the Boundary Line.

Business is very dull these warm, dry days at the boundary line stores. None of the quencher can be secured—at least in the old, ordinary way. Last week Inspector Colpitts, ably supported by the Deputy Sheriff, together with Constable Woolverton and Customs Officer Carpenter, swooped down upon historic Bridgewater. Mr. Kennedy's premises were visited and carefully examined. A small find was made. About three dozen quarts of that good old oblivion bringer, "Red Raven," were located in an out building underneath the floor. A reference to the map of the world showed the building to be resting on Uncle Sam's soil and the mirth-maker was accordingly turned over to his officers. No other seizures have been made for over two weeks. Everybody seems to be restless. The very atmosphere at "the line" seems to be charged with some powerful, mysterious force. The chances are that before work upon the "Valley Route" is begun something will go off with a bang.

Mrs. Margaret A Merritt.

Many persons in Woodstock will hear with regret of the death, after a short illness, of Mrs. Margaret A. Merritt, in the 61st year of her age, which took place at the Turner House on Saturday morning, Sept. 2nd.

Mrs. Merritt was possessed of a cheerful disposition and was a pleasant companion and friend.

She leaves one daughter, Mrs. Marshman Brayley, Montreal, who was with her the last few days of her illness, and one son, Charles.

The funeral took place on Sunday from the residence of Mr. G. H. Harrison. The pall-bearers were; George Smith, Robert Caldwell, Wm. M. Connell and A. B. Connell. The body was taken to St. Luke's church where a short service was conducted by Rev. Mr. Alder. The hymns "Lead, Kindly Light" and "On the Resurrection morning" were sung. The remains were interred beside those of her husband in the Methodist cemetery. Many floral emblems were laid on the casket by friends.

A New Route.

A Houlton correspondent of the Waterville, Me., Sentinel writes as follows:—

"It is stated here that a party of men are surveying a railroad from Debec Junction to Mattawankeag. If this is true, the common opinion here is that it must mean that the Canadian Pacific intends to open up a line between these points.

Taking the 55-mile estimate from Mattawankeag to Debec Junction, from Debec to McAdam is 39 miles, which with 39 more to Fredericton Junction and 45 to St. John makes a total of 178 miles between Mattawankeag and St. John. Take the alternative route and reckon from Debec 11 miles to Woodstock, six to Newburg, 58 to Fredericton Junction and 45 to St. John, it becomes 197 miles from Mattawankeag to St. John.

Nobody here knows what the railroad owners think of the matter, but it is not seriously considered that the reported survey is for the purpose of securing an exclusive through line to St. John. If not that, then what is it for?"

Now They Will be Good.

The Woodstock Tennis Club, which agreed to play a return match with the Andover Club, on Labor Day has refused. The Woodstock Club may consider this lady & gentleman like conduct, but we would consider it the reverse.—Victoria County News.

Winslow-Ireland.

This afternoon Rev. George Drilio Ireland of Woodstock will be married to Miss Carrie Winslow of Fredericton, daughter of the late E. Byron Winslow, Esquire. Rev. T. W. Street will officiate at the ceremony, which will take place in Christ Church Cathedral. Rev. Professor D. J. Fraser, L. L. D., will act as groomsmen and Miss Marguerite Winslow and Miss Allen as bridesmaids. The ushers are Mr. Donald Winslow and Mr. Charles Allen.

The bridal tour will include a trip through the Upper Provinces. THE DISPATCH extends its hearty congratulations.

The Orserites.

THE DISPATCH had a pleasant call last week from Mr. Moses Orser, a highly respected citizen of Hartland. Mr. Orser is a member of the Primitive Baptist Church, whose followers are well known by the name of "Orserites." In the course of an enjoyable conversation he gave us much information regarding the foundation of that religious body. The Primitive Baptist Church was founded in 1874 by George Whitefield Orser, Esquire, whose father, William Orser, a United Empire Loyalist was the first settler at Hartland, coming from Albany, New York.

The leader of the Orserites was formerly a member of the Free Christian Baptist Church, from which body he withdrew owing to his convictions regarding methods of church organization and government. The first Primitive Baptist Church was established at Carlisle in the Parish of Brighton on the 18th day of November, A. D. 1874, and in the December of that year two more were organized, one at Hartland and another at Lower Wakefield. In that year three ministers were ordained to labour in the cause in Carleton County. These workers were Moses Parley Orser, George Elijah Orser and Charles Hammond Orser.

In 1897 the Primitive Baptist Denomination of New Brunswick, Maine and Nova Scotia was duly incorporated. It has now fourteen ministers, upwards of fifty Churches and a membership of nearly three thousand persons.

Presentations to Rev. G. D. Ireland.

On Monday evening the members of the Board of Trustees of Saint Paul's Presbyterian Church called upon Rev. G. D. Ireland and presented him with a purse of gold. Mr. W. F. Sutton, Chairman of the Board, made the presentation in a neat speech.

The gentlemen members of the Woodstock Golf Club on Monday evening presented Mr. Ireland with an armchair. Mr. H. Paxton Baird, who acted as spokesman for the donors, referred to the fact that Mr. Ireland introduced the game of golf in Woodstock and that he has always been ready and willing to give to beginners all the assistance in his power. Mr. Ireland briefly expressed his thanks and appreciation.

Success in the West.

In a recent dispute between the United States Government and the North West Irrigation and Alberta Railway Company over the diverting of the course of the Milk River by the latter company Mr. Herbert Connell was the arbitrator agreed upon by the disputants. That Mr. Connell has been selected to discharge such an important duty is strong evidence that he has won a reputation of the right sort in his chosen field of work. He is a son of William Connell Esq., Barrister, of this town, who has four sons in Alberta, all of whom are meeting with good success in their respective vocations in that province.

Wedding at Bath.

The marriage of Mr. Robert H. Clarke, the popular C. P. R. station agent of Andover and Miss Daisy Smith, formerly of Bath, occurred at the residence of the bride's brother, Mr. Hewlett Smith, at Bath, on Wednesday last, in the presence of a large number of friends and relatives. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. L. A. Fenwick, B. A., pastor of the Free Baptist church, Bath. Mr. and Mrs. Clarke went to St. Andrews on their honeymoon trip.

GOING TO JOHNVILLE.

Rev. Father Coughlan to Assume Work in The Church of St. John the Evangelist.

Rev. Richard J. Coughlan will assume work in the church of St. John the Evangelist on Tuesday of next week. This energetic young priest was ordained at the Cathedral four years ago and since then has been attached to the Cathedral parish, as well as doing the work of the different missions depending on it. In all of these charges he has proved himself a zealous missionary and Apostolic worker. He has attained increasing success as a preacher in these different fields and his sermons are always pleasing and instructive. Father Coughlan's zeal has particularly manifested itself in one of the most needy fields of missionary labor—soliciting the return to their duty of unfortunate who have for a long time neglected their spiritual interests. In this excellent work his zeal has known no bounds and has been accompanied by notable and comforting success. While there will be general regret at his departure from St. John and the missions he has attended, many will be the good wishes and sincere prayers for his success in his new field of labor.

Father Coughlan has been chaplain of the Father Mathew Association for some time past, and the news of his departure from the city will be very severely felt by its members, to whom he has especially endeared himself.—New Freeman.

Dibblee Goes to Madison.

Mr. LeBaron Dibblee planned to start tonight for his home in Woodstock where he will spend a short vacation. After his vacation he will go to Madison as shipping clerk in the manufacturing department under Superintendent Ingleton Scheneck.

Mr. Dibblee is W. M. of Nollesemic Lodge F. & A. M., is prominent in the work of the Episcopal church and has many friends here. Millinocket is sorry to lose Mr. Dibblee because of his sterling qualities as a man, his interest in social affairs, and his attitude as a generous and disinterested friend.—Millinocket Journal.

Fowler-Morse.

The home of J. R. Fowler was the scene of an interesting event on Wednesday, August, 30th, 1905, when his third daughter, Lottie, was united in marriage to Mr. Edward Morland Morse, of Presque Isle, by Rev. J. E. Flewelling, in the presence of forty relatives and immediate friends of the contracting parties. The bride was unattended, and wore a cream Paris de chene dress trimmed with lace and natural flowers, and the ceremony took place underneath an arch of willows and bride's bouquet on the lawn. Many beautiful gifts were received including several pieces of furniture and cash presents. Mr. and Mrs. Morse left that evening for St. Stephen and other towns of Southern New Brunswick. On their return they will reside in Presque Isle Maine. The bride will be much missed in Lakeville, and best wishes of many friends go with the young couple to their new home.

A Woman's Advice.

(From the New Yorker.)
A woman who has had a very unhappy married life gives this advice to young women.
Don't marry a man to reform him. It can't be done unless he is under twenty two.
The woman who permits her heart to rule her head makes a sad mistake.
If a girl loves a man no matter how dissipated or selfish he may be, she plunges into matrimony with her eyes closed.

No woman should ever depend entirely on her husband for happiness. It is folly and leads always to heartache. A married woman should have a life apart from her husband.

Let her keep sweet and true and lovable, but beyond a certain point she should not venture, lest she lose her individuality in her husband's with the result that he will impose upon her.

Beware of a man with an ungovernable temper; and almost all men are endowed with this quality.
