Farewell to Dr. Rankin.

At a special meeting of Woodstock Lodge, F. and A. M., held Wednesday evening, Aug. 16th, at which there was a large attendance, the following address was presented to Dr. W. D. Rankin, who is about to leave Woodstock and continue the practice of his profession in Vancouver, B. C.:

Brother Rankin,—Upon the announcement a year ago of your contemplated removal, we were appointed a committee to procure a testimonial of the brotherly love and esteem in which you were held by Woodstock Lodge, No. 11. Later, when it was ascertained that you had reconsidered and would remain with us it was with a feeling of gladness and relief that we, as such committee, were privileged to cancel our plans. But now that you have decided to sever the fraternal ties that bind you to us, we, acting for every brother in the Lodge, take pleasure in presenting you with this jewel as a remembrance and token of the esteem in which you are held by us. It would be superfluous for us to recall the flourishing condition of the lodge during the period that you sat in the East, a fact so well known to us all, but it has occurred to us that we hardly appreciated the sacrifices you were obliged to make in your private affairs to so successfully keep us as a body in that condition during the time you held the gavel. And now as you are about to travel West, rather than East, will you always remember, and may this remembrance bring to your mind, when far from us, that we, the officers and members of your home lodge, earnestly hope and expect continued and growing success, both masonically and financially.

Brother Rankin, will you accept this as a token of goodwill from all this lodge?
(Sgd.) FRANK C. DENISON,
(Sgd.) JOHN A. LINDSAY,
(Sgd.) E. L. HAGERMAN,
Committee.

Dr. Rankin made a suitable and feeling reply. The members then adjourned to Monahan's restaurant, where a supper was served, followed by speeches.

The utmost regret is felt on all sides that Dr. Rankin's state of health renders it necessary for him to escape the cold winters of New Brunswick.

Presentation.

Mr. Murray S. Saunders, who left on Saturday evening last for Calgary, N. W. T., on the harvest excursion, was on Friday evening last presented with the following address by the members of Carleton Lodge, I. O. O. F.:

To Murray S. Saunders, of Carleton Lodge, Lodge, I. O. O. F.,

DEAR SIR AND BROTHER,—We have heard with regret of your intended departure from our lodge and town to enter upon a new field of labor and usefulness.

During your connection with this order you have always exemplified the true spirit of Oddfellowship, and the loss to this lodge will be keenly felt.

But we take this opportunity of wishing you every success in your new home; and we believe you will always have kind memories of your brothers in this lodge.

We ask you to accept this ring as a small token of our regards.

Yours in F. L. and T.

A Close Call.

On Friday evening Mrs. Charles Bull and daughter of Northampton were the victims of what might have proved a fatal accident. They were driving to their home after the play in Graham's Opera House and, when crossing the railroad track in front of the bridge, their wagon was struck by a locomotive that was backing down toward the yard. The horse jumped and went down the steep embankment, but fortunately one of the wheels of the carriage struck a post with the result that the harness was broken by the weight of the horse and it remained upon the track. The engine carried it for some little distance along the track but the ladies were not very badly injured. Mrs. Bull was somewhat bruised and both were badly frightened. The gate that is provided for this crossing was not down and the ladies declare positively that there was no light and no person to warn them of the approach of the engine. Under such conditions the crossing is certainly a most dangerous one.

Senator Wark Dead.

Hon. Senator Wark, of Fredericton, the world's oldest parliamentarian, died on Sunday morning, Aug. 20th, in the 102 year of his age, after a short illness. He retained consciousness to the last moment and passed away without the slightest sign of suffering.

MR. GERALD LEES, the well known Canadian golfer, was in Woodstock on Tuesday and played in a foursome with Messrs. B. M. McLeod, A. C. Calder, and Rev. Geo. D. Ireland. Mr. Lees says the Woodstock links are the best natural links in Canada.

THE CENTREVILLE CARNIVAL.

A Fine Parade, A Good Programme of Sports, A Most Enjoyable Day.

Woodstock must look to her laurels. On Thursday the people of Centreville demonstrated that they have a pretty good idea of what a Summer Carnival should be. It is not too much to say that the Carnival held at Centreville on Thursday was in many respects the equal of the one held at Woodstock in July. In some respects it was better.

The object of the Carnival was the providing of substantial sidewalks for the village and judging from the attendance and the numbers who patronized the various booths the dining tables in Sherwood's Opera House, a good large fund was the result of the painstaking efforts of the Carnival Committee and the citizens in general. Every man woman and child in Centreville seemed to be doing his or her best to make the visitors comfortable and happy. The inevitable result was that everyone was thoroughly pleased, and, while all went home more or less tired, no one went away hungry.

A great many visitors were in attendance from the neighbouring towns of Maine. A large number went up from Woodstock and everybody came in from the settlements that cluster around Centreville. Probably over two thousand strangers were in town.

THE PARADE.

At ten o'clock the parade marched through the principal streets. The following was the line of march:—

- Mounted Police
- Centreville Band
- Squad of Forty Mounted Infantry
- Float Spanish Taborine Girls
- Float the Garden of the Province
- Comical Float
- Float Indian Wigwam
- Centreville Fire Brigade
- Float Sons of Rest
- Comical Float
- Float Neptune, surrounded by Indians
- Float Purity
- Roman Chariot

The people of Centreville have just cause to feel proud of that parade. The floats were well designed and finely decorated. Miss Laura Wilkinson's float "Carleton County, the Garden of the Province" was awarded the first prize. The "Indian Camp Scene" won second prize, the Misses Bertie West and Vera Brown and Mr. C. M. King arranged this float. The Centreville Fire Brigade won the prize for the most comical representation. Miss Ennis Perkins' "Roman Chariot" won the fancy float prize.

AQUATIC SPORTS.

The aquatic sports were well contested. The rowing race was won by Tracy Brothers. Gerald Beairsto won the swimming contest Joseph Kennedy was the successful performer on the greased pole. Dr. Green was upset during the canoe race and was rescued in the nick of time.

THE HORSE RACES.

The horse races were close and interesting. The horses owned by the following gentlemen contested and furnished in the following order;

THE BAND CONCERT.

Mr. A. J. Lee, the leader of the Centreville Band, deserves to be congratulated upon efficiency of that organization. A delightful concert was furnished by the band in the evening in the Palm Garden. The following are the members: Alfred Lee, Roy Lee, Barry Estabrooks, Robert White Charles West, Charles Wilkinson, and James O'Haro.

THE BASE-BALL GAME.

A large crowd attended the baseball game at the exhibition grounds. The Woodstock Colts won from the Centreville Peblers by the score of ten to one. When the Centreville boys have had more practice and make some improvement in their team work, the Colts will find it somewhat difficult to duplicate Thursday's performance. G. L. Coboon, Inspector for the Great West Insurance Company, umpired the game. He had some close decisions to make. He did no great damage to the business of his company in the good old Parish of Wilmot.

The following is the score in detail with the players of the teams and their respective positions.

THE GRAND BALL.

The Grand Ball in Sherwood's Opera House was a most successful affair. Blaisdell's Orchestra furnished excellent music. Messrs. Austin Adams and Charles White acted as floor managers and to them a great measure of the success of the ball is due.

The ball was the last event on the Carnival programme. It terminated a day of good all-round enjoyment. Centreville must not fail to make their Carnival an annual affair.

Mr. C. M. Sherwood was the Chairman of the Carnival Committee. Mr. C. M. King was the Secretary. These gentlemen deserve a great deal of credit for the splendid success that rewarded their painstaking efforts.

The sum of $260 was made for the sidewalk fund.

Quincy Adams Sawyer.

On Friday evening the Quincy Adams Sawyer Company gave a rendition of that good old play to a fairly large audience in Graham's Opera House. Owing to the limited stage accommodations all of the company's scenery could not be used, but, nevertheless they put on one of the best plays that has been seen in Woodstock for some years.

Mr. James Thatcher gave a fine portrayal of the mysterious Mr. Sawyer. The play deals with the typical New England Village of Mason's Corner, with a mysterious, good-looking stranger who turns the heads and win the hearts of all the girls of the village, with his meeting the beautiful but blind Alice Pettengill and his wooing and winning her. Woven about the thread of the plot are the deeds and sayings of the village gossips, the eccentricities of a spiteful foster-mother and a love affair "on the side" which, after many trials and misgivings, terminates happily.

Miss Meredith, as Alice Pettengill, beautiful, beloved and blind, won the admiration of all in that difficult part. Mr. Karloway looked and acted every inch the honest, unselfish brother of the blind girl and Miss Sabra DeShon, as Mrs. Hepsibah Putnam, certainly "worried other people" to the limit. The part of Deacon Mason, the peacemaker and the father of the town, was faithfully portrayed by Mr. Burton Adams, who originated the character to the successful interpretation of which he is so essential. Mr. Floyd Briggs was the hungry Hiram Marciv to perfection and Miss Gertrude Angarde made a very "aggravatin brat."

To sum up the whole matter it must be said that Quincy Adams Sawyer is a clean, interesting play and that the company that visited us on Friday last know how to present it to the public. If the management of the opera house will persist in securing attractions of this class there need be no complaint of lack of patronage.

Some Law-Breakers Arrested.

On Friday Deputy Sheriff Foster arrested Harry Fisher of Carlisle on a warrant charging him with attempting to commit rape on the ten year old daughter of Frank Belyea of Lower Windsor. On Saturday he was given a hearing before Justice Barnett at Hartland and was committed for trial. He is now in the county goal.

One Jack Mulherrin was arrested last week by Deputy Sheriff Foster on the charge of creating a disturbance at the C. P. R. Station at Hartland. He was given a hearing before Justice Barnett at Hartland and requested to shorten his bank account to the extent of $20.00 together with the costs of prosecution. He cheerfully complied. Nearly all of the people in this county realize that the property of the C. P. R. is not to be carried away for junk and that their waiting-rooms are not to be converted into bar-rooms. The few doubters are gradually becoming convinced.
