THE GLOBE AND THE INTERCOLONIAL.

Saturday's issue of the St. John Globe bears to the struggling taxpayer a message of sweet hope. Just when the future of the Intercolonial appears enshrouded in darkness and in doubt the rays of that great journalistic beacon-light pierce the gloom and the honest toiler learns that "Whatever may be the hopes or desires of the administration, or certain members of the administration, in regard to the Intercolonial Railway, there is one member of it whose mind is pretty well made up. The member is the Minister of Railways. Mr. Emmerson's mind is fully made up to one line of action in regard to the road. He will endeavor to manage it in such a way as to reduce the deficits which have caused so much criticism in the House of Commons and which have been so strenuously condemned by the press. All of the superfluities are to be reduced as far as it is possible to reduce them."

Upon reading this cheering bit of news one naturally asks himself the question, what are the superfluities that are going to be submitted to this process of reduction? The Globe gives the desired information. We are informed that "If the people desire to have expense and earnings bear a greater relation to each other than they have hitherto done, they must reduce their own importunities for the lower freight rates, for more trains, for cheaper fares, for increased accommodation in many places, for increased pay to the employees, for the large expenditure which in so many ways runs away with earnings. In some places along the line of the Intercolonial railway there have been demands in the past which were practically for personal convenience. Very often these were complied with by a minister who was anxious to please. Mr. Emmerson, who is as anxious to please as anybody can be, will first try to satisfy that public opinion which so loudly calls for economy, for the reduction of the charges which are so largely increased by the effort to please small localities."

Such useless and trivial things as lower freight rates, more trains, cheaper fares, increased accommodation evidently come under the category of "superfluities." Henceforth these will receive the cold contempt that they deserve.

We are shocked through all our being to learn that "In some places along the line of the Intercolonial Railway there have been demands in the past which were practically for personal convenience." This is atrocious. Thank Heaven in the future such impertinent petitioners will get the stony stare. We always thought that a request made to a railroad company for any sort of private convenience showed the maker to be possessed of supreme nerve, but a request for personal convenience is certainly the limit.

When the Globe begins to draw on its stock of razor-edge irony somebody wants to see that his lather is ready. "In passing" we might say that THE DISPATCH devil has just given us a puzzler. He wants to know what and whom the Intercolonial railroad is for anyway.

Mind the only Creator of Matter.

A workman carries some boards to the building and a horse hauls some more. Which "creates" and to which should the building partly belong, both work and both execute, but neither originate nor create any wealth whatever. Both are paid an agreed, understood and full equivalent for their services. The horse his oats, hay and water, and the workman his money. The man who sells the brick for the house creates nothing, yet the bricks are necessary to picture forth the original mental creation. The man who sells physical labor creates nothing, yet labor is necessary to the material building. The brick seller, lumber merchant, glass maker and workman who sell his labor all belong to the same class of sellers of material needed, but none of them are creators of that building. Physical labor is not a creator. Mind is the only creator. When the workman chooses to cease selling his labor to execute the designs of another and starts to originating designs himself and hiring others to execute them he abandons the arms of sellers of labor and becomes a creator of wealth by first giving birth to ideas and the buying brick, lumber, labor, glass and iron, and combining them to picture forth in material his original mind child, his creation. Let all men get these points clear and save contests on the point of incontestable ownership of property.

Pretty Church Wedding at Greenfield.

A very pretty marriage was solemnized in St. Barnaba's church Greenfield on Wednesday Aug. 16th between Mr. Charles A. Baird of Bairdsville, Victoria County, and Miss Carrie E. Kilpatrick, Greenfield. The day was all that could have been desired and the church was densely packed with invited guests and friends of the bride and groom, and a large number found it impossible to enter. The bride entered the church, while the organist Mrs. Alexander Ritchie played a wedding march, leaning upon the arm of her brother-in-law Mr. Clarence Kinney. The Rector Rev. E. W. Simonson officiated. The church was very beautifully decorated for the occasion the most of the work having been done by the young people of Greenfield by whom the bride is held in high esteem. After the ceremony a sumptuous tea was served to the guests at the brides home. The groom was supported by his brother Mr. Ed. Baird; Miss Sadie Kilpatrick the brides elder sister acted as bridesmaid. She wore a gown of white organdie over pink and little Misses Lottie Kilpatrick, Margaret Scott and Eva Hiscock were flower girls. The bride, who is one of Greenfield's fairest daughters, wore a beautiful gown of white silk organdie trimmed with lace and rushing, with veil and flowers.

Mr. Baird is a son of Mrs. Geo. Baird, Bairdsville, and the bride the second daughter of Mrs. Martha Kilpatrick Greenfield. The happy couple will reside at Bairdsville. The following is a list of the presents which the bride received:—

Discomfort After Eating.

Feeling oppressed with a sensation of stuffiness and finding the food to distend and hang like a heavy weight at the pit of the stomach, are symptoms of indigestion. With these, the sufferers will often have constipation, fullness of the blood in the head, acidity of the stomach, nausea, heartburn, headache, disgust of food, gaseous eructations, sinking or fluttering of the heart, choking or suffocation sensation when lying down, dizziness on rising suddenly, dots or webs before the eyes, fever or dull pain in the head, yellowness of the skin and eyes, pain in the side.

A few doses of Hutch tablets will free the system of all the above named disorders. Purely vegetable, it acts without pain. Small and easy to take! One after each meal!

THE FRASER MILLS.

Invitation to Build at Woodstock Will Not Be Accepted.

(Fredericton Gleaner, Aug. 19th.)

Messrs. Donald Fraser & Sons today received a telegram from the Woodstock Board of Trade inviting them to rebuild their mills at that town. The invitation will not be accepted as Woodstock has not got the facilities for shipment by water.

Mr. Danbar of Woodstock and Mr. H. J. Flemming of St. John are here today appraising the losses on the mill by fire.

This afternoon Mr. Donald Fraser, jr., said that the amount of lumber burned would not be given out. He also said that no decision had been reached about rebuilding.

Effect of the War on Financial Standing of the Powers Engaged.

The effect of the war in respective standing of Russian and Japanese securities is put in a striking way by the World's Work in July. Three weeks before the war began Japanese four per cent. bonds were quoted at 77, while Russian bonds bearing the same interest were worth 98 1-2. When war began Japanese securities dropped to 65 1-2, while Russia's declined to only 89-12. Then, as the war commenced to go in favor of Japan there was a gradual change, until on the 2nd of June the two countries stood on a financial level, the four per cent. bonds of both being quoted at 87-34.

A Modern Medicine.

Dr. William's Pink Pills Cure Disease Through the Blood.

Medicines of the old fashioned kind will sometimes relieve the symptoms of disease, though they can never touch the disease itself—they never cure. Ordinary medicines leave behind them indigestion, constipation, biliousness and headache; purgatives leave the patient feverish and weakened. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, on the other hand, do direct good to the body, blood and nerves. They fill the veins with new, rich, red blood; they brace the nerves; they drive out disease by going right to the root of the trouble in the blood. They always do good—they cannot possibly do harm. Mrs. Geo. Henley, Boxgrove, Ont., says:—"It is with thanks that I tell you that Dr. Williams' Pink Pills have cured me after my doctor had said I could not be cured. I suffered from an almost constant fluttering of the heart, and sometimes severe pains. The least exertion would leave me breathless and tired out. My appetite was poor, and my head ached nearly all the time. I had lost all ambition to do any work, and felt very hopeless. I had taken a great deal of medicine without any benefit, until I was advised to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. These have made a remarkable change in my condition, and I am feeling better than I have done for years. I gladly give my experience in the hope that it will benefit others."

Now Dr. Williams' Pink Pills build up strength as they did in Mrs. Henley's case in just one way—they actually make new blood. That is all they do, but they do it well. They don't act on the bowels, they don't bother with mere symptoms. They go right to the root of the trouble in the blood. That is why these pills cure anaemia, headache, heart palpitation, indigestion, kidney trouble, rheumatism, lumbago, neuralgia, St. Vitus dance, paralysis, general weakness and the special ailments of growing girls and women. But you must have the genuine with the full name Dr. Williams Pink Pills for Pale People, on the wrapper around every box. Sold by all medicine dealers or sent by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 by writing The Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Russian Corruption.

New York Sun: The Siberian Railway does not pass through Tomsk, although this city is the capital of Siberia, its only intellectual centre, the seat of government, and of a great university. Nevertheless, the trunk line is some sixty miles distant. Why? Because the local authorities would not give the engineers who laid out the road the bribes which they demanded. The great Moscow Cathedral, the Temple of the Saviour, took sixty years to build, because during that period the funds provided for it disappeared several times over. The same thing happened in the case of the Alexander II. Memorial church in St. Petersburg. The connection of the Czar's personal land speculations on the Yalu with the origin of the present war is a matter of common gossip. Naturally the war in the Far East has offered great opportunities for swindling. At Odessa not long ago a highly decorated officer was caught with two accomplices selling exemptions from military service. At Vilna a lieutenant-colonel and a hospital doctor were convicted on a like charge. At Tomsk there was a remounts scandal after the South African model. At Irkutsk, a lieutenant-colonel was cashiered for selling contracts. In Moscow a prison inspector, who was a captain of reserves and a member of the nobility well known in society, forged the signature of the governor to bills amounting to more than $35,000.

The embezzlements committed in connection with the Red Cross Society are notorious. In Moscow, the president of the society's local committee, Mme. Vishnyevska, and her husband had to be relieved of their duties on account of "grave irregularities and disorders." Subsequently Prince Galitzin and Count Lansky failed to turn over moneys received by them for the equipment of hospitals and other instruments of relief. One day the Grand Duchess Elizabeth, startled by rumors that had reached her, decided to apply a test. A load of Red Cross supplies, which she had collected, was to leave by train for the Far East. Going to the station, she ordered some of the boxes and packages to be opened. Some were found to be empty, and others to be full of straw and bricks. The story goes that the Grand Duchess burst into tears.
