We are having fine weather at present a large number of people are engaged ploughing, some are having their threshing done others are getting their hay pressed.

North Lake took their rifles and started to visit a lumber camp occupied by Henry Anderson and Joe Hall who are doing an extensive business on the Golden Ridge, about the same time the camp crew started for home when they met and all became lost in the thick forest. It was a week ago and very wet and snowing, they fired their rifles and shouted but wandered all night without help. Mr. McCluskey becoming weary lay down beside a log until morning when he made his way to James Davidsons. A party of searchers found Hazen Hall in an unconscious state and chilled very much, his state was so critical that Dr. George O'Donnell was summoned who has completely restored his patient. Mr. Hall is the teacher in Kirkland and was absent a week from his school.

Centreville.

Robert Reed has sold his farm to E. M. Hawkins & Sons and will go to the north west some time within a year. It is understood that three thousand dollars was the consideration. Mr. Reed will be much missed in the community and in the church. His family are all in the west excepting his youngest daughter who is soon to enter college.

Samuel Connier is sick with typhoid fever but Dr. Peppers who is attending him thinks his present condition quite favorable.

The harvest supper supplied by the ladies of the Baptist church on Saturday evening was a great success, about eighty dollars being realized.

Masonic circles are a little moved over events which are to take place during the present week. A new Hall at Andover will be taken over by the order according to usages in such cases provided. The Grand Master will also be present at the meeting of the Florenceville lodge on Wednesday evening of this week and a very interesting session is expected.

Mr. George Briggs is to have the control of the Johnston farm for the coming year and as Mr. Briggs is a very practical man good results may be expected under favorable conditions.

Joshua Margison who had his buildings burned this fall is preparing to build again.

The home of Robinson Hartley has been gladdened by the arrival of a young son. This is the first blessing of this nature bestowed upon Robinson in the eighteen years of his married life and he naturally feels proud of it.

Mr. A. C. Gibson is now engaged in putting up the steel ceilings and other work which has been furnished through him for the church and as far as finished it is considered to be very handsome. It is now arranged that four memorial windows will be put in the church some of them perhaps the most expensive in the county. Resolution of Condolence.

At a regular meeting of Wiggins L. O. L. No. 74 held Friday evening November 10th, 1905, the following resolutions were adopted:

WHEREAS it has pleased Almighty God in His infinite wisdom to remove to a better home our beloved brother Rev. Amos H. Hayward.

THEREFORE RESOLVED, That we beg to tender you our warm and heartfelt sympathy in the afflictions through which you have recently passed in the removal by death of your affectionate husband, who had been a true and worthy brother in our Lodge for a great many years. You have indeed lost a kind husband and our lodge a worthy and respected member, and while it has pleased our Divine Master to call him home from his sphere of usefulness here, doubtless causing many a heartache to those who loved him dearly yet we must humbly bow to the will of Him who doeth all things well believing that He who has promised to be the Widows God will still protect and comfort you in this your hour of trial.

FURTHER RESOLVED, That we drape our Warrant for a period of three months in token of respect for our departed brother and

FURTHER RESOLVED, That a copy of these resolutions duly signed by our Worshipful Master and Recording Secretary with the seal of our lodge attached, be sent to the widow and a copy sent to THE DISPATCH, Sentinel, and Press and a copy spread on the records of the lodge.

The Land of Thrifty Women.

A thriftless wife is practically unknown in France. The poorer the husband the thrifter the wife, perhaps, but no middle or upper-class Frenchwoman who respects herself is ever guilty of wasting even a son. The great lady of the Faubourg St. German and the humblest working woman alike look after the purse-strings, and the preliminary step of securing the purse-strings is taken, as a matter of course, a week after marriage. Not one Frenchman out of one million resists, says a Paris correspondent of the London Telegraph.

Among the wealthy monsieur has his allowance. Among the fairly well-off, he keeps back cash for his three evenings a week at the cafe, for the restaurant dinner and theater outing once or twice a week, and for his tailor. Among the working classes, he endeavors, not always successfully, to withhold five francs on Saturday evenings. But in all class, without exception, he hands the bulk of the household money over to the "missus" or to Madame la Marquise.

It is a fact that the finances of France are in the hands of the women of France. They are worthy of the trust. They devote their acute brains and their genius for the practical life to two ends of existence—to look well and to eat well. The rest will take care of itself. It must not be supposed that the Frenchwoman devotes her time, energy and intelligence merely to looking well. She is really well dressed. A Frenchwoman would rather stay in bed than go out with an undarned hole in a garment, however impossible it may be for the outer world to see the blemish. And neatness is not confined to the ladies. The poorest apprentice girl is a paragon also, and it is her pride that were she ever to be run over and taken to a hospital to have a broken leg set, not an undarned hole would be found in garments or stocking.

A French lady once lived in London in a flat. She had two servants; a maid, and a general cook, who was English—in fact, cockney.

The cook's ham and eggs were excellent, her boiled dumplings supremely good. Beyond that science was dim. The French lady took the cook in hand on the second day, and made an omelet before her eyes. The astonished full moon. She said it made her "that nervous to see madame whisk the eggs about so." The omelet was done and ready to serve before the cook had recovered.

The next morning madame stewed up the mutton of the day before. She made some auburn-colored sauce. She conjured with herbs, she juggled with condiments, she kept the pot on the move over three flames of the gas-stove all the time. The cook sat mopping her forehead for a while. Then she reached for her bonnet and put it on. When the dish was done, she tied her bonnet-strings, which had hitherto been dangling, and shook the dust of the kitchen from her feet.

"Hi'm a cook, mem," she said, at the door. "Hi'm not going into service at my time o' life to do them black hart tricks!"

As a matter of fact, the French lady was not a necromancer nor much of a cook in her own opinion. She merely knew the hundred simple tricks of cookery which the humblest Frenchwoman knows.

BAD KIDNEYS

Can Only be Cured Through the Blood.

Bad bad—aching backs—come from bad kidneys. Bad kidneys come from bad blood. Bad blood clogs the kidneys with poisonous impurities that breed deadly diseases. And the first sign of that fatal trouble is a dull, dragging pain in the back. Neglect it, and you will soon have the coated tongue, the pasty skin, the peevish temper, the swollen ankles, the dark-rimmed eyes, and all the other signs of deadly kidney disease. Plasters and liniments can never cure you. Kidney pills and backache pills only touch the symptoms—they do not cure. You must get right down to the root and cause of the trouble in the blood—and no medicine in the world can do this so surely as Dr. Williams' Pink Pills because they actually make new blood. This strong, rich, new blood sweeps the kidney clean, drives out the poisonous acids, and heals the deadly inflammation. That is the only way to rid yourself of your backache and have strong, sound kidneys. Mrs. Paul St. Onge, wife of a well known contractor at St. Alexis des Monts, Que., says:—"I suffered for upwards of six years from kidney trouble. I had dull, aching pains across the loins, and at times could hardly go about. I lost flesh, had dark rims below my eyes, and grew more wretched every day. I was treated by different doctors, but with no apparent result. I despaired of regaining my health, and was becoming a burden to my family. I was in a deplorable condition when one of my friends advised me to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. I began taking them, and after using three or four boxes, I began to feel better. I continued the treatment for nearly three months, when every symptom of the trouble had vanished and I was again a well woman. I feel justified in saying I believe Dr. Williams' Pink Pills saved my life."

New blood—strong, pure, rich blood which Dr. Williams' Pink Pills make, cure not only kidney trouble but a host of other ailments such as anaemia, indigestion, rheumatism, erysipelas, St. Vitus dances, locomotor ataxia, paralysis, and the secret ailments women do not like to talk about, even to their doctor. But only the genuine pills can bring health and strength, and these have the full name, Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People printed on the wrapper around each box. If your dealer does not keep the genuine pills you can get them by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 by writing The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.
