AT the home of F. R. Cookson, Palo Alto California, his wife was just recovering from a critical operation when some friends sent in some clams of which the family all ate and seemed to enjoy, but a few hours after the meal Mrs. Cookson was taken violently ill. The nurse and doctor had to be sent for and when he came he pronounced it a case of poison. Her life was despaired of for a few days but at last account she is improving.

NELSON BOYER, one of the oldest residents of East Florenceville, died on Tuesday after an illness of some weeks. He was seventy-nine years of age and was a son of the late Charles Boyer, one of the first settlers in the upper part of this county. He leaves a wife, and two sons, George H., of Bristol, and Oakman, Red Rapids, Victoria County, and one daughter, Mrs. Joel Hartley, of East Florenceville. Two brothers and three sisters also survive him. The railway company kept them at Debec Junction over five hours and at last landed them in Woodstock some time after four o'clock in the afternoon. The conductor was asked to and might easily have sent them in to Woodstock in the morning, but he did not and the ladies had to wait for the express which was very late. Perhaps the heavy fall of snow, amounting almost to half an inch, kept the express over four hours late.

ON Friday evening last the Bishop of Fredericton administered confirmation to a class of some thirty candidates in St. Luke's Church. There was a large congregation and the service was very impressive. The Bishop before administering the rite explained the doctrine of the church regarding confirmation, and spoke to the candidates on the responsibilities devolving upon them. He urged them to follow the will of daily prayer, of the reading a portion of scripture every day, and the making of their communion regularly. The Bishop, who during his stay was a guest at the rectory, returned to Fredericton on Saturday.

In the last issue of THE DISPATCH reference was made to the desecration of a grave at Bath on Hallowe'en, stating that the friends of the deceased person were much incensed by the act and etc. It is true that the friends of the deceased person, who was an estimable young lady were deeply grieved by the outrage. Had it been the act of some thoughtless boys, as the paragraph suggests, no notice would have been taken of it, but when the teacher of a public school, who is old enough to know better, accompanied by a number of "village girls" claiming to be young ladies will be guilty of such contemptible acts, it is but proper that right thinking people should denounce them publicly.
