GEO. McELROY, Wallace Gibson, Everett Colwell and Wm. Anderson returned Thursday evening from Miramichi, where they had spent ten days hunting the lordly moose. They brought home a fine specimen of their good work. It was a large bull-moose, dressing over 900 lbs, with the most elegant set of antlers that has been captured on Miramichi for many years. They measured 52 inches across the horns and have 22 tips, eleven on each side. One very remarkable feature about this head, is that the fenders have four tips on each one, which old hunters say they have never seen before. In fact it is a perfect uniform head and is no doubt of great value. The boys report bull-moose very scarce, but say the cows are very plentiful. A great many of their friends enjoyed a nice piece of steak. They also report partridge very scarce.
