

THE WOODSTOCK DISPATCH.

CHARLES APPELBY, Editor and Proprietor.

WOODSTOCK, N. B., SEPT. 13, 1905.

Ireland-Winslow.

One of the prettiest, although quiet, weddings which has taken place in Fredericton for a long time was celebrated Wednesday at Christ Church Cathedral when at 3.30 o'clock Rev. Sub-Dean Street, in the absence from the city of His Lordship Bishop Kingdon, performed the ceremony which united in marriage Miss E. Caroline, eldest daughter of the late E. Byron Winslow and Rev. G. D. Ireland, pastor of St. Paul's Presbyterian Church at Woodstock, N. B. Rev. Mr. Street was assisted by Rev. Canon Roberts.

The sacred edifice was crowded when at sharp three thirty the bride entered the church leaning on the arm of the eldest brother, Mr. Jasper A. Winslow. She looked very charming, wearing a dress of crepe de chene over satin and trimmed with honatin lace. About her neck was a chain of gold with a heart studded with pearls as a pendant, the gift of the groom. She wore a white tulle veil with orange blossoms and carried a handsome shower bouquet of white roses and lilies of the valley.

The bridesmaids were Miss Marguerite Winslow, sister of the bride, and Miss Lenore Allen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. Carleton Allen. Miss Winslow was very pretty in white silk with a white lace coat. She wore a panne-velvet hat with white feathers and carried a bouquet of white carnations.

Miss Allen wore a becoming costume of white silk with a white picture hat trimmed with ostrich feathers. She also carried a bouquet of white carnations.

The groom's gifts to the bridesmaids, gold initial brooches with pearl settings, were worn at the ceremony.

The groom was supported by Rev. D. J. Fraser, D. D., of Montreal, while the ushers were Messrs. F. Edward Winslow, Donald B. Winslow and Charles Holden Allen.

The choir of the Cathedral rendered the hymns, The Voice that Breathed O'er Eden, and afterwards, O Perfect Love. Prof. Powell presided at the organ and at the conclusion of the ceremony played the wedding march, as the party left the church.

The Cathedral was most tastefully decorated in white and green with flowers under the supervision of Miss Ada Schleyer, who was assisted by a number of the young lady friends of the bride.

At the conclusion of the service at the church the wedding party drove to the home of the bride's mother at the corner of Church and King streets, where a wedding luncheon was served. The floral decorations at the house were very pretty, especially in the drawing room and the dining room, where sweet peas were used with beautiful effect. The drawing room decorations were in red and white while the principal colors in the dining room were in mauve and white. The presents which were received by the bride were beautiful, costly and numerous, including many pieces of sterling silver, cut glass and valuable china. The gifts included a chest of silver from the brothers of the bride; a leather upholstered chair from the Woodstock Golf Club, of which the groom is a leading player; a well filled purse from the members of the congregation of St. Paul's Presbyterian Church at Woodstock, and a silver salver from the choir of Christ Church Cathedral, of which the bride was a valued member for some years.

On the C. P. R. train for the West this evening Rev. Mr. and Mrs. Ireland are to leave on their honeymoon which will be spent at Montreal and other parts of the Upper Provinces. They will probably be absent for two or three weeks.

Invitations for the wedding were only extended to the relatives and very close friends of the happy couple. Those who were here from outside the city included: Dr. and Mrs. Holden, Miss S. Elsie Holden and Mr. C. P. Holden, of St. John; Miss Gussie Connell, of Woodstock; Miss Mary Rainsford, of Grand Falls; Mr. Henry Orr, of New York, and Lieut. E. duDomaine of the Royal Canadian Regiment.—Fredericton Gleaner.

Methodists and Presbyterians Worship Together.

During the absence of the Rev. Geo. D. Ireland, Rev. George A. Ross held union services in the Presbyterian church in the morning and in the Methodist church in the evening on Sunday last. The reverend gentleman preached two able sermons. These services will be held for the next two Sundays in the same order.

At the morning service the preacher's theme was "The human spirit's longing after God." His text being taken from Psalm 84. "My heart crieth out for the living God." The practical universality, the causes, the naturalness and the expression of the human spirit's longing for God were dealt with.

The text at the evening service was from Heb. 4:9 "There remaineth therefore a rest to the people of God." The preacher pointed out that this was not a promise of rest in heaven after death. It was among the present tenses of the blessed life. It was the pledge of the rest of faith. The writer of the text, he said, was demonstrating for the encouragement of the people to whom he was writing, that a certain promise of "Rest" made by God as long ago as the creation had, historically, not yet been drawn on to the full extent of the Divine intention with regard to it. It therefore "remaineth" as the heritage of the people to whom he was writing, if they by choice should become the people of God. The sermon was a setting forth of the meaning for the soul of that which is involved in the term "Rest," and of the further thought that faith in the God whom Jesus revealed—a faith in Him which inspires obedience to His Will, creates the best conditions under which to meet the troubles and the problems of this perplexing life.

Death of Harry L. Albright.

Victoria has been called upon time and again to mourn the loss of good citizens, men admired for their integrity, uprightness of character, and splendid manhood, but seldom has there followed a blow so deeply felt, the effect of which is so widespread and the force of which has brought the tears to the eyes of so many, as the cruel blow which took from out the midst of friends, family and home Harry L. Albright, a good man and true friend, whose love was steadfast and sterling, a loving husband a kind brother and a dutiful son. To know Harry Albright was to be his friend and in this loss there is no one in the community whose heart escapes the twinge of sorrow and regret. In this bereavement all of us must needs share the burden of grief, for surely all of us have lost a brother. For some few weeks he had been under the best of medical treatment, but during the last week or so it was evident that the care and skill of friends and medical attendants were of no effect. On Monday afternoon Aug. 21st about 4 o'clock he was seized with a sudden choking, caused by hemorrhage, and the weakened frame could no longer withstand the given conqueror of all flesh. His spirit departed, and so peacefully, that when the call came to the sufferer to "go hence, and be no more" the transition was barely perceptible to those standing near.

Harry L. Albright was born at Simonds August 22nd, 1873. When his parents moved to this place in 1878 he accompanied them. In March 1903 he was married to Miss Kate E. Dickinson of Rosedale, this county. Besides the sorrowing widow he leaves both father and mother and two brothers William H. and J. Frank Albright to mourn their loss. He was a charter member and Past Master of Burnett Davis L. O. L. No. 81 and a number of the brotherhood walked in the procession and were present at the burial to assist in working the impressive ritual of the Orange Order.

The pall was borne by brother Orangemen, members of his own lodge, they were Brothers, H. G. Olliver, T. C. Baker, F. J. Boyer and C. M. Shaw.

Interment was made at the Baptist cemetery after services in the Victoria Free Baptist church. Rev. C. T. Phillips performed the last sad rites, speaking impressively from words found in Psalms 39:13 V. Brother Phillips had visited the deceased frequently during his illness and to him as to others who were with him during the last weeks, the truth was evident that Harry had sought and found that source of strength and peace which alone can carry the faltering pilgrim triumphantly through the 'valley of the shadow' into that mysterious beyond.—Com.

THE FLEURY PLOW

There never has been a plow yet manufactured that has given the farmer the satisfaction that the Fleury has. Farmers who have bought other makes of plows have discarded them and replaced them with the Fleury. One of the greatest points about the Fleury is the lightness of the draught. A ten hundred pound team can haul a Fleury Plow more easily than a twelve hundred pound team can haul any other plow.

These plows can be bought direct from our store at Woodstock or at our branch stores at Centreville and Hartland.
