

WHY IS IT?

WHY IS IT THAT SOME PEOPLE THINK THAT
Royal Household Flour
WON'T MAKE PASTRY

and others say it makes the best pastry they ever ate?

The answer is that some people are progressive and some people are not.

The best pastry cook in Montreal today is using ROYAL HOUSEHOLD with excellent success.

From Dorchester to Fairville.

Ellen Crowley, a wayward brunette, whose progenitors toled gold dust over the sands of far away Africa, returned on Saturday from a two years visit at Dorchester. Ellen's return was ordered by the Minister of Justice, who had been satisfied by the officials at Dorchester that the dusky lady's cerebrum had got out of working order. While in Woodstock she was the guest of Sheriff Hayward who preserved a watchful care over her until Monday morning, when she was placed on the early express en route for Fairville. Rooms have been secured for her accommodation at the Hospital for the Cure of Nervous Diseases. It was only by the exercise of extreme force judiciously applied that Ellen was persuaded to enter the palatial car provided for her accommodation. After a brilliant struggle, however, she was safely deported and for a while her troubles are over.

Outside Comment.

(Fredericton Gleaner.)

St. Stephen people are the first to bring charges against the judges stand on the maritime circuit. In speaking of the Woodstock races, the St Croix Courier said: "Wilkes Boy, J. R. Sederquest's speedy horse, who captured second money in the races at Springhill and Moncton, with the judges' stand and drivers arrayed against him, and where it was a wonder that he secured anything, will start at Woodstock again on Saturday, and quite a lot of border people will be there to see him go."

Those who have been following the Woodstock races closely have probably noticed that their entry lists were very large. On the other hand they had very few starters. This state of affairs is due, so far as can be learned, to the track accepting conditional entries. This allows a big list of entries to be used as an advertisement and nobody can really be blamed.

Glorious Twelfth at Kirkland.

The Loyal Orange Lodges of Debec and Kirkland celebrated the Glorious Twelfth at Kirkland in a royal manner. A fife and drum band was in attendance and to its enlivening strains the united lodges made an imposing march. John Graham of the Parish of Canterbury, the oldest living Orangeman in the Province, was in the procession. Mr. Graham has reached the good old age of 106 years, and he is as enthusiastic an Orangeman today as ever.

At the conclusion of the march a very enjoyable dinner was held, after which stirring and appropriate addresses were made by Rev. Mr. Archibald, Presbyterian, and Rev. Mr. Atkinson, Baptist. It was a day long to be remembered in the good and staunch old settlement of Kirkland.
