

News of Hartland and Vicinity

FRED. H. STEVENS, Reporter, and Manager Hartland Branch Office.

WOODSTOCK, N. B., APRIL 18, 1906.

Farmers Should Get Rich.

During the past few years the prices of farm produce have increased steadily, and it is interesting to compare the prices of today with those taken from a copy of the Hartland Advertiser for April 7, 1898.

Oats.....	$.23	$.40

In the spring of 1899 this item appeared in the Advertiser: "R. Lovely is loading hay for B. F. Smith. Twelve cars have been shipped this week, and the price offered is $2.50 per ton."

Big Lath Cut of Sayre's Mill.

F. E. Sayres & Co's. will finish sawing laths on Friday afternoon, after having been in continuous operation for about four months. The total winter's cut was 5,500,000 and the average daily cut was 35,000; but one day recently the crew put forth an extra effort and cut 33,000 in ten hours. Every person who knows anything about lath sawing will recognize this as a most unusual day's work. The men declare that no preparation, in the way of selecting good lumber, was made, but that the material was taken as it came to hand. The crew comprised:—Page, H. Boyer, engineer; Guy McMullin, Charles Hatch, John Noddin, Jr. and Ernest Noddin, and sawyers; George Henderson, butcher, and John H. Reid, Ludlow Stephenson and Elvesson Hallett.

LOCALS.

Mr. and Mrs. Percy Graham spent Easter at Woodstock.

The 12th of last April farmers had begun ploughing.

W. T. McArthur, St. John, spent Sunday at the Commercial.

Misses Hazel and Helen Steeves spent Easter at Woodstock.

D. W. and Mrs. Matheson have removed from Woodstock to Hartland.

Miss Jessie Porter, Woodstock, was visiting Miss Mabelle Phillips over Sunday.

The Hartland Drug Company has become incorporated under the joint stock companies act.

George H. Turton, the well-known Montreal tobacco man, was in Hartland on Saturday.

Miss Sadie Tinker, of Houlton, spent a few days with her aunt, Mrs. Frank Hageman.

Last week Mrs. I. B. Curtis was called to Woodstock by the illness of her mother, Mrs. W. A. Hayward.

Miss Mildred McGibbon, of Woodstock, was visiting Mrs. C. T. Phillips from Thursday until Monday.

Expensive new mirrors in the tonsorial shop of H. E. Gardiner give that place the air of a city establishment.

Miss Jennie Boyer, of Fort Fairfield, was recently the guest of her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Stephen McMullin.

Mrs. T. T. Hammond and sons of Van Buren have been the guests of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. D. H. Keswick.

C. Donald McCormack of the U. N. B. and Guy Sipprell of Woodstock spent the Easter holidays at their homes, Somerville.

It was the poor people's Easter. Those who could not afford new bonnets enjoyed the day far more than those who had invested.

Mr. and Mrs. G. M. Morgan, of Caribou, and Mrs. J. Sterling King, of Woodstock, were Easter guests of Mr. and Mrs. D. E. Morgan.

The prices of produce remain unchanged since last week, but it is likely eggs will decline since the Easter demand has been satisfied.

Of the 102 second-year medical students at McGill, five took honors in anatomy, one of whom was William L. Tracey, M. A., a Hartland boy.

D. M. Perkins, of McAdam, accompanied by his friend Mr. Boone, visited the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. F. Perkins, over Sunday.

The good rain of Sunday came mighty near putting the finishing touches on the longest winter on record—one that has lingered long in the lap of spring.

A. Roy Rigby who has been at his former home at St. Andrews during the winter has returned to Hartland, and has accepted a position as bookkeeper with F. E. Sayre & Company.

P. R. Hayward of the U. N. B. was the guest of his brother M. R. Hayward, during the holidays. Their father, Orrin P. Hayward, of Ashland, Me., was in town for a few days.

Mrs. G. A. Ross and daughter Mildred, of Woodstock, were guests of Mrs. E. Alexander on Saturday. Miss Marian Lindsay, also of Woodstock, spent the Easter holidays with her cousins the Misses Alexander.

John G. Dickinson, manager of the Bank of Montreal at Andover, is recovering from an attack of acute rheumatism. Accompanied by Mrs. Dickinson, he came to Hartland on Saturday to stop a week at the home of his boyhood.

The quarterly session of the Woodstock Deanery will be held in Burr's hall next week. Holy communion will be celebrated at 8 a. m., and at the evensong, at 7 30 p. m., Rev. C. E. Maiman of New Denmark will deliver a sermon.

On Thursday the death of Henry A. Bolyea occurred at the residence of his son Jarvis, at Ashland. He was one of the oldest residents of the parish, being 80 years of age. The funeral, on Friday, was conducted by Rev. T. S. VanWart.

Scott Sipprell, of Victoria Corner, intends moving to Hartland soon. He will occupy a part of the Taylor tenement on Richardson street, and will open a blacksmith shop in the H. N. Boyer building where McAdam & Son have been doing business.

A number of friends made a donation party for Rev. and Mrs. John Perry last week and left them richer by about $20 cash and an amount of household provisions. Mr. Perry is 85 years of age and has been in feeble health a great part of the winter.

Z. Orser who recently sold his livery stable business has purchased the stock of Dibble's hardware store here and will continue in business at the same stand. A. L. Baird who was manager for Mr. Dibble will continue in the same capacity with Mr. Orser.

George Nevers, the son of Orville Nevers, of Rockland, who has been long ill of the effects of pleurisy, and who recently underwent a surgical operation, died on Saturday. He was a bright young man, and in their sorrow the bereft parents have the sympathy of this community.

The last carnival of the season will be held in the roller rink next Friday evening. There are several beautiful prizes offered which are displayed in Estey and Curtis window. A new method of awarding the prizes is to be adopted, instead of the usual judges the audience will cast ballots for the winners.

So many farmers going extensively into potato raising has created a demand for the special machinery necessary to make the venture a success. Penn McMullin and Holly Smalley have together purchased a machine that will make a furrow, drop the phosphate and potato seed, cover it up, and start it growing, all at one operation. Such machines are in common use in Victoria and in Aroostook counties, but this is among the first bought in this vicinity. It is said a Yankee genius is trying to devise a contraption that will automatically plant and dig potatoes and kill bugs. The inventor should include in his idea a device for keeping the price permanently at $2.00 a barrel.

The summer timetable of the C. P. R. will go into effect on May 6, a full month earlier than usual. As far as the local running of trains is concerned the time card will be identical with that of last year. The people between Perth and Woodstock will rejoice to know that their old friend, the "Hobo" will be put on again, and it will be possible to go to southern points and return the same day. After the change, trains will depart from Hartland as follows: southbound, Plaster Rock train for Woodstock, 11 28 a. m. express, 12 29 p. m., Plaster Rock mixed, 3 88 p. m. There will also be a freight up, (leaving Woodstock at 7 o'clock) to do shunting along the line, and will return as a through freight in the evening. This train will not carry passengers. Passengers going to Woodstock may have two hours and fifteen minutes there before the train returns.

The Bristol Colt's Baseball Team.

Seeing a script about the Hartland Junior Baseball team I thought that I would scribble off a few facts about the "Bristol Colts," which by the way, just organized last summer but like the Hartland men were unbeaten.

The Bristol Colts are a different size of boys from those who belong to the "Hartland Juniors" and are in fair play a match for any team in the country of their size not excepting Hartland, Centreville or Woodstock. The pitcher and catcher especially know their job. The following is a nearly correct list of the games played last season.

Bristol vs. Florenceville 45 to 23; return game 36 to 29, the return game, 65 to 34.

Those scores are quite high and are not hardly correct but they are not far from the right ones. I omitted to say that the Florenceville team got our battery to help them in two games. Florenceville vs. Centreville and Florenceville vs. Hartland, the former game was very close but resulted in a victory for East Florenceville and the latter I regret to say was very one-sided in favor of the large boys of Hartland. Of course Hartland would have won if we did have the right Bristol Battery but we did not and defeat resulted in the worst form, score 40 to 1.

The "Bristol Colts" also challenged Centreville for a game but they would not accept it. The following is a possible line-up for the coming season:—William K. Davis, catcher; James Kelly, pitcher; Thomas Dyer, 1st base; John Simpson, 2nd base; James Boyer, 3rd base; Emery Kelly, r field; Allan McLean, l field; Eugene Dyer, c field; Raymond Farley, short stop.

No Celebration.

After all that has been said and done, it is not likely that there will be a celebration at the time of the bridge opening. Any sort of a demonstration would cost money, and most people are of the opinion the bridge has already taxed them enough, which is a quite reasonable conclusion. The season of the year is not favorable to a gala day and business men who were expected to contribute to a celebration fund were unable to see where there could be any appreciable return for the money invested and private citizens were not disposed to "chip in," so the scheme has practically fallen through. Most people will appreciate the free bridge full well without any special effort.

Millinery Opening.

Mrs. Belle F. DeLong, Bristol, announces her millinery opening for Friday and Saturday, April 20th and 21st. An up-to-date stock of all the latest creation in the millinery line.
