LAST year the price of diamonds went away up and now the government threatens to tax motor cars. All the little necessities of life of the editor are becoming more expensive every year. If it wasn't that subscribers keep rushing in so promptly to pay up in advance the editor might have to appear out at Easter in his last spring's hat.

MESSES. A. D. Dow of Knowlesville and A. R. Henderson of Armand, two Carleton County gentlemen, arrived here from their homes in the vicinity of Hartland, having driven the whole distance. They report the roads none too good. For the last twelve miles they came on the river. Both gentlemen returned to their homes today, after having visited the legislature and other points of interest.—Fredericton Herald, Feb. 27th.

STANLEY BULL, of Woodstock, who has suffered during the past four years with tuberculosis of the bones of the leg, resisting all possible remedies, was compelled to have his limb amputated at the thigh, hoping by this means to stop the progress of the disease. The operation was performed by Dr. Prescott assisted by Dr's. Baker and Grant. Mr. Bull was one of the Canadian volunteers who went to South Africa with the second contingent.

Prescriptions Filled Rightly.

The important results dependent upon physicians' prescriptions should be the first consideration of every pharmacist.

Physicians have learned that we follow their directions to the letter and that we have the success of the medicines prescribed as much at heart as they themselves. That's why they like to have us put up their prescriptions.

Our prices are always reasonable.
