Shiloh's Consumption Cure, the Lung Tonic, has been before the public, and this, together with the fact that its sales have steadily increased year by year, is the best proof of the merit of

as a cure for Coughs, Colds, and all diseases of the lungs and air passages. Those who have used Shiloh would not be without it. Those who have never used it should know that every bottle is sold with a positive guarantee that, if it doesn't cure you, the dealer will refund what you paid for it. Shiloh thousands of the most obstinate cases of Coughs, Colds and Lung troubles. Let it cure you.

Has Cured

"Last winter I coughed for three months and thought I was going into Consumption. I took all sorts of medicines, but nothing did me any good until I used Shiloh's Consumption Cure. Four bottles cured me. This winter I had a very bad cold, was not able to speak, my lungs were sore on the side and back. Six bottles of Shiloh made me well again. I have given it to several people and every one of them have been cured.—D. Joseph, St. Hyacinthe, Que." 601

Chandler and Gen. Streeter.

One of the brightest intellects in the State of New Hampshire is possessed by the Hon. William E. Chandler, and he never loses an opportunity to do a good turn to a friend, or, if necessary, strike a swift blow straight from the shoulder at an enemy.

Gen. Streeter, the well-known lawyer of Concord, and counsel for the Boston and Maine Railroad, has had occasion to differ with Mr. Chandler about railroad matters and some other subjects, until their relations are now such that it is enough to say here they are not the best of friends.

A short time since, a lawsuit in which Mr. Chandler was very much interested, and which is still pending, was being tried at Concord before Judge Edgar Aldrich as referee. Gen. Streeter was the lawyer opposed to Mr. Chandler, and at this trial Mr. Chandler was an important witness.

The cross-examination by Mr. Streeter was long and somewhat severe, and Mr. Chandler felt that he was abused and not fairly treated, and that to demand an answer of "Yes" or "No" to some questions was unfair, because some explanations ought to be allowed. There were several sharp altercations between them, and Judge Aldrich informed Mr. Chandler that he was entitled to explain or add to his testimony, if he wished, after he had answered Mr. Streeter's questions.

Finally, Mr. Streeter, with some remark which Mr. Chandler did not like, announced that the cross-examination was ended. Thereupon Mr. Chandler, turning to the court, said: "May I now add to my testimony what I wish to say?"

"Certainly," said the judge; "proceed." With eyes flashing fire, in his most cool and cutting manner, and with great deliberation, Mr. Chandler said: "I have often had occasion to say that Mr. Streeter is neither by birth, education, nor practice a gentleman, but I have never before had the opportunity of testifying to this fact under oath. I now avail myself of the opportunity afforded me, that it may be part of the record in this case." — [Boston Herald.

Catarrh Cannot be Cured

with LOCAL APPLICATIONS, as they cannot reach the seat of the disease. Catarrh is a blood or constitutional disease, and in order to cure it you must take internal remedies. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally and acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces. Hall's Catarrh Cure is not a quack medicine. It was prescribed by one of the best physicians in this country for years and is a regular prescription. It is composed of the best tonics known, combined with the best blood purifiers, acting directly upon the mucous surfaces. Gas 'O Line or Lene.

1. A product of petroleum, and the devil. Used for heating, lighting, cooking, power, cleaning, bug bug and fool-killing, rate-raising and general extermination. These are a few of the standard uses of the fluid. It is an expansionist in every sense of the word, with a few other senses thrown in for good measure, and its field of usefulness and destructiveness is ever widening. Among its recent undertakings is the propulsion of automobiles. This style of locomotion is said not to be unpleasant to the one propelled, but when it gets under a fellow, as it sometimes does, and gives him a swift kick into the unknown beyond it is not joy that he dies of. 2. Its chief fault is its volatility. If it were not for this it would be robbed of its hazard—and, most likely, its usefulness as well. 3. Any one wishing to risk a sudden departure over the gasoline route by harboring on his or her premises must obtain permission from the company writing his or her fire insurance if he or she wishes to leave it as an available asset to his or her estate. 4. Gasoline is a good thing to start a fire with—a big, quick fire.

Nurse Norah Deduces.

"Do ye see th' ma-an over there?" demanded Norah, suddenly.

"F'r sure," answered Flynn.

"Can ye tell me annything iv him?"

"Niver a thing."

"He's not a married man," asserted Norah, "an' he's not in love an' he don't live with his folks an' he don't live at a club an' he don't live at a hotel."

"How do ye know?"

"There's two buttons off his vest an' wan off his coat," said Norah. "If he was a married ma'an his wife w'd ha-ave thim sewed on, if only so's th' neighbors w'dn't see it an' be sayin' how careless she is an' how ha-ard a time her poor husband has. An' if he was in love," Norah went on, gratified by the look of admiration Flynn gave her, "he w'd have his clo'es brushed an' no dust on his hat. Ye can see that, can't ye?"

"I can," admitted Flynn.

"An' if he lived with his folks," continued Norah, "do you think his mother or his sister w'd l'ave him go with th' buttons off his coat, an' if they w'd, ha've ye th' idea that they w'dn't be naggin' him to death till they made him brush his own clo'es ivery day or so? An' if he lived at a hotel or a club, w'dn't th' bellboys or the porters be whalin' th' dust out iv him in th' hope iv a tip? 'Tis not much I'm givin' ye, Barney, but ye know a little iv the ma-an now, an' ye knew nuthin' iv him before. I'm new at it, too. With a little practice I think I c'd tell ye what he had f'r dinner th' day before yesterday."

"It's gr-reat," admitted Policeman Flynn, "but w'd it wor-rk whin ye wanted it to? Can ye be sure that th' felly ye want to find out about is wan iv th' kind ye can read? Ye see, I can't ta-ake me pick iv funny-actin' min like they can in daytictive shtories."—Woman's Home Companion.

For Your Stomach.

When you eat your dinner tonight take a thought about your little stomach. First you fill it with soups, then fish, meats, salads, a dozen and one other things, and wind up with ice cream, coffee, and perhaps wine. You see you are pretty hard on your stomach to make it bear all these cultivated tastes of yours, eating and drinking, morning, noon and night. Is it any wonder that it is sore, tired, painful and sour? How can it help burning, painin', giving off fermented gases? Why don't you try Hutch tablets? Get them at any drug store and give your stomach some assistance. Take it a day or two and you will have to confess that Hutch is the greatest preparation for pains in the stomach you ever came across in your life. Don't forget! Take one after each meal. This makes Hutch do the most good. A big bottle, 200 for $1.00.

His Good Point.

There is a clergyman in Richmond, Va., who enjoys telling the following at his own expense:

"On Sunday I was returning home when I was accosted by a quaint old woman, house-keeper in the employ of a dear friend of mine.

"I want to tell you, sir," said the old woman, "how much I enjoy going to church on the days that you preach."

"Expressing my appreciation of the compliment, I added that I was much gratified to hear it, adding that I feared I was not as popular a minister as others in the city, and I finally asked:

"And what particular reason have you for enjoyment when I preach?"

"Oh, sir," she answered with appalling candor, "I get such a good seat then!" — Philadelphia Ledger.
