

NEWS FROM THE COUNTY.

Lower Greenfield.

We have had some cold weather here lately; about a foot of snow fell Sunday which makes it very disagreeable.

Barton Kinney is recovering from a slight attack of typhoid fever.

Miss Martha Kinney went to Perth last week.

Miss Ella Kinney returned home Friday from Sprague's Mills where she has been spending the winter.

Spring is coming and the Marsh stream will soon be clear of ice and we expect to see the people from the east side of the river over here to fish.

Miss Effie Atkins was visiting in Bath last week.

Mr. Frank Elliot was visiting at Fort Fairfield the other day.

Mrs. Robt. Hovey and daughter made a flying trip to Glassville last week.

We have a picture postal agent here now, Miss Hovey.

The new Consolidated school house at Florenceville is nearly completed. We haven't quite understood whether Greenfield will join or not.

Andover.

Mr. H. Hiscock, Carlingford, has purchased a residence in town and will occupy it in the near future.

Mr. and Mrs. W. Norton Taylor, Fredericton, are spending a few weeks here. Mr. Taylor is relieving manager of the Bank of Montreal during the serious illness of Mr. Dickinson.

Alfred Tibbitts has gone on a short trip to Toronto.

Walter Stone, Woodstock, spent last Thursday and Friday at the home of S. P. Waite.

Rev. Arthur Ross, McAdam, was in town for a few days last week.

Several Andover and Perth people attended the Albani concert at Woodstock.

Miss Ethel Barker, Four Falls, was visiting friends on Friday last.

Miss Gertrude Tibbitts and Miss Myrtle Reid spent the last part of the week at St. Elmo.

Miss Margaret McGill, Houlton, is visiting her parents here.

Mrs. Harry Tibbitts entertained a few of her friends at tea on Monday evening.

Mr. Thomas Lawson was in Woodstock last week.

Centreville.

The Woman's Missionary Auxiliary meeting was held at the home of Mrs. George Reid last Tuesday. There was an unusually large number present and after the usual routine of business, etc., a quilt was made for the parsonage. At the supper a collection was taken amounting to four dollars and fifty-five cents. The Bible class readings were very interesting, at the close of which the rite of baptism was administered to the infant child of Bennie and Annie Reid by Rev. Mr. Turner.

LeBaron Moores is making a special sale in order to dispose of his personal effects before starting for the west.

A number of the people of this village are arranging to go west this spring.

Dr. Brown is offering his residence and lands at an amazingly low figure and when his business is concluded here will locate in a suburb of New York City.

The Bridgewater Concert Company played to a small house here last Friday evening owing to the very unfavourable weather, but a full house is expected to greet the Woodstock company who will play here next Friday evening unless prevented by bad roads.

Great quantities of fertilizer are being ordered this year perhaps three times greater than ever before.

The sale of New Brunswick potatoes in the Upper Provinces if continued at present price would make potato raising a profitable industry in this locality.

Rev. Jos. Cahill is packing his household goods with the intention of removing to some other field of labor.

Rev. Mr. Trafton is holding special services in the Royalton church and the indications are that some additions will be made to the church membership.

Mr. and Mrs. D. Perry Fitzgerald were in the village last Thursday and Friday and Mr. Fitzgerald told a gentleman that nine tanneries in this county had been closed down in the past ten years.

G. F. Plummer was here for a few days last week and intimated to some of the citizens here that if they could furnish him with a horse that will suit him at a price that would suit he would leave some of his Aroostook accumulations with them.

J. W. Cheney will soon be leaving the village for the "Land of the free and the home of the brave," and will then be catering to the wants of the travelling public.

Wm. McWaid has been appointed agent for the Gold Shaply and Muir Company of Ontario and will sell to those wanting to buy a windmill, a gasoline or other engine at customary prices.

The village school is making good progress under present management. It is expected that at the present session the provincial legislature will pass a vote to empower the Superintendent of Education to group schools in districts where in his opinion a better system can be brought about by so doing. When that is brought about we may expect the very best results.

Bath.

During the past few days we have had several gales of wind, and the snow that fell in many places has been piled up and completely blocks the roads, in so much that the communicants of Johnville church were unable on Sabbath to reach the church from here.

The people of this place are sorry to lose Mr. McDonald from the C. P. R. Station, who went to St. Andrews to take a position in the C. P. R. offices at that town on Friday last.

The Supper recently held in G. J. Greene's

Hall under the auspices of the Union Baptist Aid Society was very successful.

Mrs. Holland Giberson of Red Rapids, N. B., is paying her father, D. M. Giberson, a visit at her old home here.

A. R. Foster, Deputy Sheriff, was a visitor in Bath on Saturday last.

John E. Kinney who has been lumbering on the Tobique River for Messrs. Donald Fraser & Sons has returned home.

Rev. G. A. Giberson was called to Windsor on Friday last to conduct the funeral services at the funeral of Mrs. William Britton an old and respected resident of that place.

Bath Evening Star Lodge I. O. G. T. is progressing well and new members are joining it at each meeting.

East Florenceville.

Last week was bound with parties here. There was two at LeBaron Moores', one at Lorne Boyers and the I. O. G. T. had a couple of surprise parties on Saturday evening.

The new span of the bridge is nearly finished so as to let teams pass.

The young folks had a surprise party at Mrs. Wm. Gallupe's Monday night.

LeBaron Moores had an auction sale of furniture at his residence Saturday forenoon.

MARRIED.

DOUGHTY-COES.—Married at Andover, Feb. 27th, 1906, by the Rev. W. M. C. Bedell, William H. Doughty and Janet E. Coes, both of Fort Fairfield, Me.

BLACK-WILLIAMSON.—At the residence of the bride's parents, Feb. 27th, by Rev. E. C. Turner, Albina R., eldest daughter of William Williamson, to Lee C., second son of Bruce Black, all of Bloomfield, Car. Co., N. B.

TO THE MEMBERS OF KIRKLAND AUXILIARY:

MY DEAR FRIENDS,—I feel that I cannot sever my connections with this Auxiliary without writing a few words of thanks to you all for the help and encouragement you have given me through the almost seven years I have held the office of President.

I am so glad that such a spirit of unity has manifested itself among us during these years, and never once did I make a proposal without getting the hearty support and sympathy of you all. I feel and I am sure you all do, that our meetings have not been without results, not to a certain measure and I hope a large measure, the object has been gained for which we meet, namely, the deepening of our interests in, and the increasing of our liberality towards the cause of missions and the extension of Christ's Kingdom throughout the world and in our own hearts. True some of our most earnest and best workers have been taken from us, taken to that home above for higher and fuller service, yet we have striven to keep the work moving on, and my earnest prayer and hope is that you will with the same diligence you have manifested in the past go on ever striving to attain to higher things; you know the promise is to the faithful ones, "Be thou faithful unto death and I will give thee a crown of life." shall we not strive to live and work that the crown may be ours.

And now as you are met together again at another Auxiliary meeting. I can see in my mind all the familiar faces gathered around and it fills me with grief that I shall not be one of the number. If it is so that I shall ever have the privilege of visiting you again some of the dear ones will doubtless be missing and things will never again seem just the same.

This world is a world of partings, it has been so ordered and we know God doeth all thing well.

Dear friends I must close this letter in which I so imperfectly expressed my feelings; although this has not been written without the tears of sorrow flowing at the thought of our coming separation. One of the pleasantest memories I shall carry away with me will be one of the true spirits with you in the work of the Auxiliary and I hope that you will pray for me that wherever my lot may be cast I may receive strength to do my duty.

Yours in the Master's work,
ANNE FOWLER.

Some people in the United States of America have been saying for years that Lincoln's favourite poem was "Oh, Why should the spirit of mortal be proud?" Personally I have never believed the yarn, but have always regarded it as the result of a scheme to discredit a great man. The piece of writing is not poetry at all but a dreary monotony of verses. It has nothing either in substance or form to commend it. If Lincoln really did like it his friends had better shut up about it and allow the deplorable fact to be forgotten.

SUCCESS.

Success? What is this thing Success, I pray?

Is it to stand forth in the glare of day
As one who wins great battles in the wars
With regard to human souls and hearts?
Is it to strive in blindness of the right
Toward and to achieve some goal of might
Where from vast riches pour, huge stores of gold,
Into the coffers of the keen and bold?
Is it to win through trickery and phrase
And nice word polishments the poet's bays,
Or laurels of the Masters of Romance,
Not by endeavor, but by stylist's chance?
Is it to trample by sheer force of will
O'er plunders for the right, o'er halt and ill?
To snatch some high position in the state,
To principle an honor rufagat?
Is it to climb from lowly place to high
Regardless of the rungs of misery?

Or is it his who lives his mortal span
In all things striving to become a man?
To live as God hath willed, to use his brawn
To help another to some glorious dawn
To use his strength, his valor and his wit
So that, though riches small may come of it,
His fellows when his sands of life are run
Shall say of his achievement small "Well done?"
Here falls a man we never knew to shrink;
The world is brighter for his modest work!
Ah, give to me not that Success that comes
Mixed in with others' tears, with sounding drums,
But better far the laurel that depends
Upon the love and honor of my friends,
Those boys the more securely e'er will rest
That come from those who understand us best;
The only ones are they that really bless
And form the measure of the true Success!

THE ROAD TO HEALTH

Lies Through the Rich, Red Blood Dr. Williams' Pink Pills Actually Make.

Common pills purge the bowels. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills make new rich blood. Purging pills gallop through the bowels—tearing the tissues, irritating the organs and weakening the whole system. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills do not purge at all. They're tonic pills, soothing pills, strengthening pills, blood-building pills. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills actually make new blood. That's why they are the only scientific cure for all blood disease. That is why they cure headaches and backaches, kidney troubles, indigestion, neuralgia, rheumatism, heart troubles, and the special ailments of growing girls and mature women. Purging pills act only on the symptoms of disease; Dr. Williams' Pink Pills go straight to the root of the trouble in the blood—and cure. Mr. John Burke, Elm Dale, P. E. I., says: "I think Dr. Williams' Pink Pills the best medicine in the world. I had an attack of pneumonia which was followed by extreme nervousness and rheumatism. I tried some of our best doctors but got nothing to help me until I began taking Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. After taking the pills some weeks I could actually feel the new blood they were making coursing through my veins, and in the course of a few weeks more I was completely restored to health." Remember that it is only Dr. Williams' Pink Pills that can make this new, rich, health giving blood. Imitations and the so-called "just as good" medicines never cured anyone. Insist on the genuine with the full name, "Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People," on the wrapper on each box. Sold by all medicine dealers or by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 by writing The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

THE PROBLEM OF DRESS

What Fit-Reform Means to Men

Founders in Canada of Tailormade Garments Ready For Service.

Lord Strathcona—perhaps more than to any other one man—does Canada owe her present day prosperity and the brightness of her future. He believed in the country and the marvelous possibilities of proper development. With the completion of the C. P. R., the nation awoke to its resources and greatness.

To Fit-Reform—more than to any other one means—is due the fact that Canadians are the best dressed men on the continent. Fit-Reform blazed the trail in dress, as Lord Strathcona and his associates did through the trackless plains and mountains of the Northwest.

Fit-Reform was founded on three great ideas. First: to give men garments, planned by designers who could create styles, and made up by the best tailors in the Dominion. Second: to set a standard of value so high that it would be everywhere recognized as the criterion of men's dress. Third: that by a scientific study of physique, the different types of men could be graded and a system of sizes successfully devised. The reformation of men's garments came with this solution of the system of sizes. So accurate were the first calculations, and so carefully were they tested, that any man may step into any Fit-Reform Wardrobe, select the Suit or Overcoat that pleases his fancy, and have it fit perfectly—he be tall or short, large or small, stout or thin, or normal.

This is what Fit-Reform meant at its inception. This is what it means to-day. It was a success at the start. It is a far greater success to-day. Men were eager to test the promise of tailormade garments, ready for service. And be it to the credit of Fit-Reform that every promise of quality and satisfaction has been faithfully kept.

Fit-Reform tailors are a trained corps of specialists. Each tailor is an expert on one part of the work. He moulds collars, lapels, shoulders—puts in sleeves—shapes trousers. But does just that one thing. Naturally he acquires a skill and dexterity that no custom tailor ever does.

Few men realize how vitally important is the question of workmanship. Only painstaking expert handwork can give permanent shapeliness to a garment. No matter how a coat looks, it cannot and will not hold its shape nor retain its grace unless the inside has been properly moulded and held in place. It is because the foundation is right, that Fit-Reform garments not only impress one favorably at first glance, but also retain their shapeliness.

Of equal importance to wearers is the quality of cloth. Here the exceptional values offered by Fit-Reform may be instantly noted. The richness of the patterns, the air of quiet elegance and perfect taste, would never be possible with cloths of doubtful grades.

Every wearer of Fit-Reform garments feels the security of the Fit-Reform label. They know it is the garments behind the label that make the label stand for all that is best in tailoring.

To the man who does not know values, it is a guide to satisfaction. To the man, who is unacquainted with tailoring, it is a hallmark of perfection. To the man who does not have the time to keep abreast of the fashions, it is the surety of correctness. To all men, it is a guarantee of a great commercial business, ready to make good any fault in materials or workmanship of any garment bearing this label.

Fit-Reform has been one of the substantial successes of new Canada. Fit-Reform garments are demanded by well dressed men all over Canada. Fit-Reform Wardrobes are in all the leading cities from the Atlantic to the Pacific, for once a wearer of Fit-Reform garments, always a wearer.

Something About Separator Medals and Diplomas.

In a late issue of the Sentinel one of our competitors published the statement that they had received a first prize and medal at the Fredericton exhibition.

Read the facts about the award given by the Exhibition manager, then draw your own conclusions concerning his other statements.

FREDERICTON, March 6th, 1905.

J. F. TILLEY ESQ., SUSSEX,

Dear Mr. Tilley,—I have your esteemed favor of the 5th instant, and in reply beg to say that you are aware that the Fredericton Exhibition in the past has been only open for competition to the Maritime Provinces and no Cream Separator being made, to my knowledge, within the territory, hence no competition was held, or reward given, to that line in either 1903 or 1905. In 1903 a local manufacturer was asked to visit the several booths in the Industrial Building and note the taste displayed in arrangement of the various exhibits, and advise the Executive if the excellence of display was worthy of an award of a Diploma, should the Executive see fit to give one. The gentleman who was asked to do this went very carefully over all the exhibits of every description in the building and among the recommendations made by him was that a certain firm exhibiting Cream Separators deserved recognition for the excellence of their display and the unusual taste displayed in trimming and decorating their booth. This recommendation came to the ears of the exhibitor and as far as we could learn their representative here at once wired his firm, and had published the fact that their machine had been awarded the first prize over all other machines at the Exhibition, and in some papers, I believe, named the other machines with which they were supposed to have been in competition. This gave me a heap of trouble and the Executive, feeling that the firm who had sent broadcast the idea that they had won first prize over all other competitors on the merits of their machine when it was simply on the merits of their display, refused to make any reward whatever in fairness to the other makers whose machines had been exhibited. This being our experience in 1903, in 1905 we would not touch it with a ten foot pole, hence no judges were appointed in the Industrial Department at all. As most all the Separators entered in 1903 were done through local agencies it is impossible for me to give you the names of the machines on exhibition that year—exhibitors buying space and showing different articles with the separators.

Yours very truly,

W. S. HOOPER, Secretary,

NOTE.—The separators on exhibition at Fredericton in 1903 were the Magnet, Empire and Melotte.
