To Celebrate Free Bridge.

There is much enthusiasm among the local business men concerning a celebration for the day the bridge tolls are lifted. The idea of an ox-roast, as suggested two weeks ago, has gained somewhat in favor, and the prospect seems pretty good for the enactment of this unusual though time-honoured ceremony. However, definite plans are not yet formulated. One man's idea is to have the ox roast, and to serve the public with juicy hunks from the flesh-pot, the same to be devoured in a spirit of thanksgiving and joyous appreciation of the great boon about to be delivered unto them. Also to have in the Forester's hall a free basket social, to which "all are welcome to come and bring a basket," and to those who do not come thus equipped baskets of dainty food to be offered at a nominal price by some of the ladies interested in one of the local churches, and the days festivities to close with a public meeting addressed by the government members.

The foregoing, as stated, is only the suggestion of one individual interested in the matter. That other, and perhaps better, ideas may be advanced, and the whole affair talked over and definitely arranged, a meeting of every person in Hartland and the surrounding country who is interested to the extent of a willingness to help is called for Thursday evening, April 5th, in the hose house.

Death of James Frost.

The death of James Frost, a well known farmer of South Knowlesville, occurred very unexpectedly on Wednesday afternoon. He had been ailing for two weeks, or so, but was not considered dangerously ill. He passed away while asleep. He had been suffering from neuralgia, and it is believed the affection involved the heart, causing his sudden demise.

Mr. Frost was 52 years of age and a highly respected man. His death will be a loss to the community, as well as a heavy blow to his family, which consists of his widow and six children. The children are Sanford, who lives in Boston, and who came home on hearing the sad news, Albert and Arthur, at home, Mrs. Ernest Sewall of Rockland and two unmarried daughters.

The funeral was held on Friday; services conducted by Elder G. A. Gibson; interment at Knowlesville.

Death Mrs. Hovey.

Mrs. Rebecca Hovey died at the residence of her daughter Mrs. Asa D. Kennedy on Friday morning March 30th, after an illness of paralysis extending over several months. She was 65 years of age and was a daughter of the late Nathaniel Rideout of Somerville, and the oldest of a large family. She had been twice married, first to Samuel McKee, by whom she had several children of whom two are living, Mrs. Kenney, of Hartland, and Mrs. John Buxton of Deerville. Mrs. Samuel Hallett is a sister. Her second husband was George Hovey of Grafton who died soon after their marriage a few years ago.

Mrs. Hovey had been distressingly ill for two months prior to her death. She was a much respected, sympathetic, kindly Christian woman.

The funeral services were held on Sunday at ten o'clock, conducted by Rev. C. T. Phillips.

Rev. Burton E. Stockford preached at Centreville on Sunday.

James Rogers little four-year-old son has been very ill of congestion of the lungs.

Miss Jory, demonstrator for Vim Tea Co. St. John, is at H. R. Nixon's store this week.

Mrs. Bessie Doherty of Blaine (Me.) has been visiting her brother, Asa D. Kennedy.

W. W. Estey of Keswick Ridge was the guest of his father-in-law Judson Currie, last week.

W. R. Gillin has returned to Hartland after having spent the winter stock-buying in Ontario.

C. S. Osgood, of Houlton, formerly of this town, was a passenger on the Express on Thursday.

People interested in Hartland and vicinity can get all the local news by subscribing for THE DISPATCH.

Rev. O. E. Steeves has been holding a series of revival meetings at Avondale with appreciable results.

That soul-stirring drama "Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde" will be given in the Forester's hall on Friday evening.

There will be an oyster supper in Burt's hall tonight to raise funds for the school library. Admission 25 cents.

E. Perkins went to his home at Milltown on Monday. He had been a valued employee at Sawyer's mill for eleven years.

Miss Edith Kennedy has been in an improved condition during the past week and her recovery is confidently looked for.

Allison W. Clark has bought the building and livery stable business of Ziba Orser, lock stock and barrel and has been taken possession.

The Hartland Rifle Association met for the election of officers and for other business on Tuesday evening, at Dibble's hardware store.

If you are interested in celebrating the free bridge opening, don't neglect the meeting in the hose house to-morrow evening at 8 o'clock.

A public missionary concert was given by the Reformed Baptist mission band on Monday evening, when a delightful program was rendered.

The roads on the river ice are breaking up. A few more warm days of sunshine and rain will soon relieve the river of that frozen-up appearance.

The Baptist people of Victoria Corner are making plans for the erection of a new parsonage in connection with their church property there.

Keith & Plummer are building an addition of 14 x 26 feet to the rear of their store. One half will be for the millinery department and the other portion for an office.

The Band which has not been coming along very well for some time is to be reviewed and a meeting was held last night for the purpose of inspiring it with new life.

George Nevers, upon whom a delicate surgical operation was performed two weeks ago is making a successful recovery, and will this week be removed to his home at Rockland.

H. N. Boyer's visage is bearing an expansive smile which shows no tendency to come off. The cause of his unusually cheerful countenance is the arrival of a little girl at his home.

Last Friday evening a party of young people drove to Pembroke to spend the evening with friends there; and on Thursday evening a party went to Middle Simonds, spending a pleasant evening.

The Easter opening of C. Humphrey Taylor's millinery department will take place next Wednesday and Thursday, with Miss Banks in charge. A splendid display of this season's goods will be made.

Caleb Foster, of Mainstream, the unfortunate man who had his thumb torn off the other day, was in Hartland on Friday and said his maimed hand was doing well, and that the physician assures him that further amputation, as was first feared, will not now be necessary.

The snow roads held out well this spring and those who had hauling to do had a splendid time to do it in. There were a great number of teams in the village every day last week, and on several occasions the streets were actually blocked for a time.

The supply of butter seems to be none too plentiful, while eggs are being brought in quite freely. There is a good demand for beef cattle and prices go as high as seven cents a pound, live weight. Beef steak is retailing at 12 cents, fresh pork at the same figure, while smoked ham sells for 16 cents.

Estey & Curtis Co. Ltd. do an extensive business in the refining of spruce gum. Within a week they have received large orders from jobbers in London and Kingston (Ont.) and Amherst (N. S.) which, however, is only a part of an established trade with these and other distant cities.

H. H. Smalley has bought the Aaron McMullin farm, having sold his place at Upper Brighton to Mrs. Secord of Bristol. Mr. Smalley has moved his family into the H. N. Boyer building, below the bridge, there being no house on the farm, although it is his intention to erect one next season.

James E. Barter, head of the firm of Barter Bros. of Avondale, whose woodworking factory was recently burned, was out in the Miramichi country at the time of the fire and did not know of it until nearly a week afterwards. Passing through Hartland on Thursday he expressed the opinion that they would probably not rebuild.

A well-equipped woodworking factory stands idle in Hartland and affords a very good chance for a couple of practical workmen to start up business. This was once a thriving industry and there is no reason why, if properly managed, it should not be made to pay again. Providing Barter Bros. of Avondale, do not rebuild, the opening here will be better still.

Rev. W. Burton Morgan, son of D. E. and Mrs. Morgan, who is finishing his educational course at Queen's University, Kingston (Ont.) has in the Daily Whig of that city a delightfully entertaining account of his trip to Nashville (Tenn.) with the Student Volunteer Movement. So interesting and well written is the article, that doubtless the editor would reprint it for the edification of Mr. Morgan's many friends here, but for its considerable length.

THE CATHOLIC young people of Woodstock are diligently practicing the drama, Among the Breakers, which will be put on in St. Gertrude's hall, for the benefit of the new crib fund, in the near future. Among the talented young people in the cast are Misses Daisy M. Hughes, Mary Milmore, Carrie Caldwell, Belle Fewer, and Messrs Lewis Milmore, A. O. McKinney, R. F. Waddleton, Leo Brown, Bernie Kelly, Marshall Kelly and Joseph Fewer.—New Freeman.

SAFETY FOR CHILDREN.

Baby's Own Tablets is the only medicine that gives the mother the guarantee of a government analyst that it contains no poisonous opiate and is absolutely safe. This is worth much to every mother who cares for the future welfare of her child. The Tablets are good for the tenderest baby or for the well grown boy or girl, and cure the minor troubles that are inseparable from childhood. Mrs. W. J. Macintosh, Clam Harbor, N. S., says: "I have used Baby's Own Tablets for constipation, vomiting and colds and have found them a splendid medicine. I give the Tablets all the credit for the splendid health my little one now enjoys." The wise mother will always keep a box of these Tablets on hand. They can be got from any druggist or by mail from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont., at 25 cents a box.
