A very pretty home wedding took place on Wednesday afternoon at three o'clock, June 13th, at the residence of Captain J. W. Williams, of Long Settlement, when his eldest daughter, Clara F., was united in marriage to Mr. Woodbury B. McIntyre, of Richmond, by Rev. W. Dunham, Rector of Centreville. The ceremony took place on the lawn in the presence of about one hundred and thirty guests. The bride looked charming dressed in white gloria trimmed with silk lace and applique and carried a bouquet of cream roses and maiden hair fern. She was given away by her father, and was attended by her sister, Miss Alice Williams, who was dressed in cream mohair and carried a bouquet of white carnations, also by her little sister, Mildred, and her cousin, Miss Hazel Margison, both being dressed in white organdie. The groom was supported by Mr. Wilcox Gray, of Richmond.

After luncheon was served the happy couple drove to their home in Richmond amid a shower of rich and the well wishes of their many friends. The presents were both costly and numerous, showing the high esteem in which both the young people are held. The groom's present to the bride was a gold watch and chain, to the bridesmaid a gold bracelet set with amethysts, and to Mildred a gold brooch.

Altered in Repairing.

A man in Chicago, says a writer in Judge, found himself in the chair of a strange barber, to whom his features, although unfamiliar, seemed to carry some reminiscent suggestion. "Have you been here before?" asked the hair-cutter. "Once," said the man. "Strange I do not recognize your face." "Not at all," said the man. "It changed a good deal as it healed."

An Unruffled Spirit.

A contented spirit was Mrs. Snow's, so contented that at times her neighbours found it trying, and took an unrighteous satisfaction in presenting any small thorns which might prick through her comfort.

"No, my Angie hasn't the measles," said Mrs. Snow one day. "Well, perhaps it seems strange she should escape the epidemic, but my children are unusually fortunate always in those respects. Of course I take the best of care of them, and then they inherit a tendency to throw off any germs. I anticipate no illness with Angie."

In spite of this, the redoubtable Angie came down with measles a week later, and the inquiring friend again approached Mrs. Snow.

"Yes, dear Angie has the measles at last," said the contented mother. "Now most of the other children are well, and as the doctor has plenty of time to attend to her, it really seemed an opportunity for Angie."

"I don't suppose there ever was a child on whom they came out more beautifully than on Angie! I tell the doctor I think he may well be proud of his little patient."

KEEP CHILDREN WELL.

In thousands of homes throughout Canada there are bright, thriving children who have been made well and are kept well by the use of Baby's Own Tablets. In many homes parents say this medicine saved a precious little life. Dr. A. Danais, L. D. S., Rivere du Loup, Que., says: "At the age of five months we thought our little girl dying. Nothing we did for her helped her until we gave her Baby's Own Tablets, and only those who have seen her can realize what a chance this medicine has wrought in our child. She is now about eighteen months old, eats well, sleeps well, and is a lively, laughing child, and weighs 37 pounds. We always keep the Tablets in the house now for we know their great value." If mothers wish to feel absolutely safe they should keep a box of Baby's Own Tablets in the house always. They cure all the minor ailments of children and are absolutely safe. Sold by medicine dealers or sent by mail at 25 cents a box by writing The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

On The Spot.

A New York publisher directed one of his clerks to hang out a sign, "Boy wanted." Five minutes later, says a writer in the New York Sun, a red-headed little "lad" appeared in the office with the sign under his arm.

"Say, mister," he demanded, "did you hang dis out?"

"I did," replied the publisher, sternly.

"Why did you tear it down?"

Back of his freckles the boy gazed in wonder at the man's stupidity.

"Why," he replied, "I'm de boy."
