Williams-Denison.

The residence of the United States Consul and Mrs. Fred C. Denison was the scene of a most interesting social event last Wednesday, June 20th, when their youngest daughter Anna Triphenia was united in marriage to Mr. William Rensselaer Williams, of Schenectady, N. Y. The rooms were tastefully decorated in green and white with a profusion of roses and carnations and the stars and stripes was draped over the parlor door.

The bride was prettily attired in a dress of white silk airline cloth over taffeta, with a tulle veil caught with orange blossoms. She carried a pearl and Irish lace fan. She was attended by her sister Miss Catherine S. Denison who wore a dress of green silk muslin over white silk and carried a bouquet of white roses. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Mr. Churchill Moore, Congregational minister at Keswick Ridge.

No invitations were issued for the ceremony, but immediately thereafter a informal reception was held during which luncheon was served. The young ladies who assisted at the serving of the luncheon were Miss Jessie Carleton Denison, Miss Mary Davidson Clarke, B. A., and Miss Elizabeth Howard Neales. The bride was the recipient of many beautiful and valuable presents. Mr. and Mrs. Williams drove to Houlton where they went by the Bangor & Aroostook for a trip through the White Mountains.

During her residence in Woodstock Miss Denison made many warm friends who cordially wish her a long and happy married life.

A Youthful Preacher.

Mr. George Keirstead, of the High School graduating class, occupied the pulpit of the Tabernacle Baptist church on Sunday morning. The youthful preacher, who delivered the Latin oration at the closing exercises, and was one of the two leaders of the class, made an excellent impression on his hearers. His text was from II. Chronicles xx. 15. He has already completed a year's probationary work in the field and will spend the summer supplying at Glassville, Carleton County, after which he will go to Acadia University.—St. John Globe.

Coy-Sutherland.

A wedding of much interest to the younger social set in Brighton took place there last evening, when Miss Barbara Helen Sutherland, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John S. Sutherland, was united in marriage to Frederick Goss Coy of Saskatoon, Can. The ceremony was solemnized at the home of the bride's parents, 62 Murdock St., in the presence of a large assemblage of relatives and friends from Allston, Cambridge, Brookline, Dorchester, Somerville, Newton, Quincy, Waverley and Hartford, Conn. Rev. William A. Knight of the Brighton Congregational church officiated.

The house was beautifully decorated, the front parlor, in which the marriage vows were spoken, having a bower-like appearance, with tall palms, asparagus vine and rose clusters.

At 8 o'clock the bridal party proceeded down the broad staircase to the parlor, to the strains of the wedding march from "Lohengrin," rendered with fine effect by an orchestra, with organ accompaniment. First came the maid of honor, Miss Willamena Sutherland, sister of the bride and the latter's only attendant. Then followed the groom, accompanied by his brother, Charles W. Coy of Quincy, as best man. Last of all came the charming bride, attired in a beautiful gown of white Duchess satin, with bertha yoke of real lace. She wore a white tulle veil en traine, caught with a cluster of lilies of the valley, and carried a large bouquet of bride's roses. In her bodice sparkled a large subburst of pearls and diamonds, a gift from the groom. The maid of honor wore pale blue crepe de chine, trimmed with Irish point lace. From her neck was suspended a rope of pearls.

Immediately following the ceremony, Mr. and Mrs. Coy received the hearty congratulations of their friends and were assisted by Mrs. Sutherland. The ushers were Robert E. Thompson of Brighton and C. Lewis Burgoyne of Roxbury, both of whom received gold stickpins from the groom.

The happy couple left for a wedding tour which will include a trip to New York and Niagara Falls. They will make their home in Saskatoon, but will return to Brighton for a farewell visit before journeying thither.

Many useful and costly gifts of silver, cut glass and china were received by the couple, including a handsome candelabrum, presented by the groom's former business associates, many of whom were present at the ceremony.

The bride is one of the most popular young women of Brighton district, and her departure for her new far-away home will be greatly regretted by a large circle of friends. The groom is the son of Rev. J. H. Coy of New Brunswick, and was formerly connected with a Brookline business establishment.—Boston Herald.

BUSINESS GIRLS.

Need Rich, Red Blood to Stand Worry and Strain of Business Hours.

Business overtakes a woman's strength. Weak, languishing girls fade under the strain. They risk health rather than lose employment and the loss of health means the loss of beauty. Thousands of earnest intelligent young women who earn a livelihood away from home in public offices, and business establishments are silent, suffering victims of overtaxed nerves and deficiency of strength because their blood supply is not equal to the strain placed upon them. Fragile, breathless and nervous, they work against time with never a rest when headaches and backaches make every hour like a day. Little wonder their cheeks lose the tint of health and grow pale and thin. Their eyes are dull shrunken and weary; their beauty slowly but surely fades. Business girls and women look older than their years because they need the frequent help of a true blood-making, strengthening medicine to carry them through the day. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are actual food to the starved nerves and tired brains of business women. They actually make the rich red blood that imparts the bloom of youth and glow of health to women's cheeks. They bring bright eyes, high spirits and make the day's duties lighter. Twelve months ago Miss Mary Cadwell, who lives at 49 Maynard street, Halifax, N. S., was run down. The least exertion would tire her out. Her appetite was poor and sickle, and frequent headaches added to her distress. The doctor treated her for anemia, but without apparent results. A relative advised her to use Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and after using but six boxes she says she feels like an altogether different person. She can now eat her meals with zest, the color has returned to her cheeks and she feels better and stronger in every way.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills cure bloodlessness just as food cures hunger. That is how they cured Miss Cadwell and it is just by making rich red blood that they cure such common ailments as indigestion, rheumatism, headaches and backaches, kidney trouble, neuralgia and the special ailments which make miserable the lives of so many women and young girls. Sold by all medicine dealers or by all medicine dealers or by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

The Boys' Brigade.

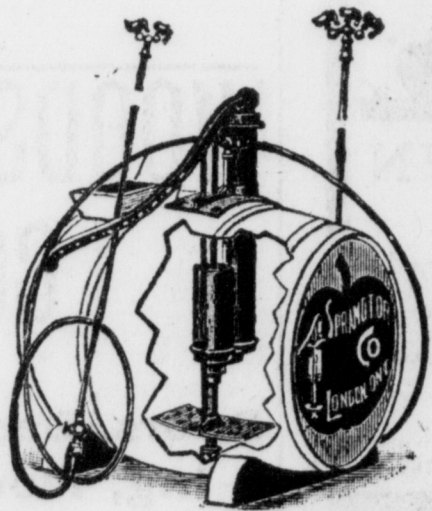

The first public demonstration of the Woodstock Company of the Boy's Brigade was given last Thursday evening. Headed by the 67th Band the Company marched from their drill hall to the opera house. An audience of some 300 ladies and gentlemen were seated in the gallery and on the stage. The Company occupied the floor of the opera house. Col. F. H. J. Dibblee presided. The Rev. Goring Alder, chaplain, delivered a statement of the objects of the organization, the high ideals set before the boys, and the efforts made to induce them to live up to these ideals. The membership, he said, was 54 and the conduct of the boys was exemplary.

The company was then inspected by Capt. J. J. Bull after which Capt. E. K. Connell put them through some physical drill.

Eloquent addresses were made by His Hon. Judge Carleton and Ven. Archdeacon Neales.

The dedication of the colors by Ven. Archdeacon Neales was most impressive. After the dedication, Capt Bull handed the flag to Mrs. E. W. Mair who presented it to the Sergt. Major Percy Simmons of the Boys' Brigade.

The entertainment concluded with "God Save the King," by the 67th Band and members of the company.
