Dr. Bailey to Retire.

A meeting of the Senate of the University of New Brunswick was held last Thursday morning in Fredericton.

Several communications were read, including one from Prof. Bailey, who intimated that he intended resigning from the faculty at the close of the present year, and he asked the senate to make him a retiring allowance sufficient, with his pension from the Carnegie fund, to equal his present salary of $1,600. No action was taken. Dr. Bailey, who has been on the university staff forty-six years, is to receive from the Carnegie fund a pension equal to two-thirds of his salary.

James Jordan.

The death of James Jordan occurred last Thursday at the residence of his son-in-law, C. D. Trueman, Princess St., St. John, after a short illness. Mr. Jordan, who spent a large part of his life in Woodstock, spent his last few years in Montreal and St. John. He is survived by two brothers, W. M. Jordan of St. John, and Thomas P. Jordan of Loch Lomond. He married a Miss Daniel of St. John who pre-deceased him. He leaves two sons, W. F. Jordan of Montreal and Harry D. Jordan of Brooklyn, and two daughters, Mrs. C. D. Trueman of St. John and Mrs. Cox of Billerica, Mass. The remains were brought to Woodstock for interment.

No Eastern Impurity

A dispatch to the London Times from Wellington, New Zealand, says: "It is thought some people in New Zealand, whose opinions are entitled to weight, believe that our anti-Asiatic legislation is destined eventually to bring us into serious conflict with eastern nations. Popular opinion, undoubtedly, strongly favors exclusive measures. A statement by Premier Ward last night that New Zealand will not allow the entrance of any impurity from eastern lands or races into the colony permanently was loudly cheered. That, he added, was one reason why Great Britain should maintain a navy double the strength of any other power, and why New Zealand must contribute to make that navy capable of what might be required of it."

Shopping.

Shopping is a form of cruelty indulged in by married ladies toward their husbands. It is incipient in young girls, reaches an active condition in brides, and arrives at its most virulent stage between the tenth and the twenty-fifth year of married life.

A small, delicate, slight, nervous, sensitive woman, who would faint away at an empty mouse trap, will go through the shopping district in from two to seven hours, and come out refreshed and sustained by an unflinching trust, if her husband's credit is good, while that gentleman at the end of forty five minutes has to be carried home on a stretcher. Some women are born shoppers, others achieve it, but not one of them has it thrust upon her.

Shopping is extensively practised on week days, beginning on Monday with a rush and ending on Saturday in time for the opera. It promotes industry. Without it married men would have time to rest.—The January Lineator.

A Wasted Career.

A San Francisco attorney has a new office-boy. The last boy with whom he was associated resigned a few days ago because the law business did not suit his peculiar temperament.

"How long have you been here?" asked Barnes, when the small boy made known his intention.

"Six months," replied the boy.

"And you don't like the law business?"

"Naw. It's no good, and I'm sorry I learned it."
