Buy one of our Suits—put it on and pull it off 200 times—rub it against chairs—drag it over all sorts of things—soak it with rain—go to circuses, horse races and ball games in it—brush out the dust two or three hundred times with a whisk broom—then see what it looks like. It takes just such a severe test as this to prove the worth of our clothing.

In colors and effects that bear fashion's approval stamp, in styles that say 1906, with tailor shaped collars, lapels, fronts and shoulders, that make a man glad to survey himself in a glass.

Hamilton-Palmer.

The home of Mrs. Charlotte Palmer, Waterville, was the scene of a very pleasant social function Wednesday evening, June 27th. It was the occasion of the marriage of her eldest daughter, Ada Charlotte, to William J. Hamilton. The bride so becomingly attired in her bridal dress of pearl gray crepe de chene with bridal veil called forth the most complimentary expressions from all. She carried a shower bouquet of white roses and maiden hair fern. At the first sound of the wedding march, which was beautifully rendered by Mrs. Harold B. Palmer, of Sptague's Mills, Maine, the guests gathered on the lawn to witness the ceremony which was performed by the Rev. E. O. Steeves, of Hartland. The bride was given away by her brother, Harry S. Palmer. Immediately after the nuptial knot was tied the guests repaired to the dining room which was tastefully decorated in pink and white with a profusion of roses, peonies and snow balls. Those who helped in serving the luncheon was Mrs. Charles Palmer, Mrs. Albert Palmer, Mrs. Wallie Birmingham and Miss Annie Palmer.

With the good wishes of the many friends Mr. and Mrs. Hamilton drove to their new home in Jacksontown.

The many and beautiful presents showed the high esteem in which the couple was held by all. The groom's present to the bride was a gold watch chain.

Rockwell-McLeod.

Wednesday afternoon at 6 p. m. a pretty wedding was solemnized at the residence of Mr. McLeod, Wilnot, when his daughter, Eva, was married to Bartlett Rockwell. The house was tastefully decorated with flowers, the bridal party standing under an arch of greenery from which was suspended a floral bell. Rev. O. E. Steeves officiated. The bride's gown was a beautiful white silk organdie with lace trimmings and she wore a veil and orange blossoms and carried a beautiful bouquet of white carnations and maiden-hair ferns. The bride's brother supported the groom while the groom's sister attended the bride. Immediately after the ceremony the guests repaired to the dining room where an elaborate tea was served. Mr. and Mrs. Rockwell drove to their new home at Jacksontown that evening amid the best wishes of a host of friends. The gifts were elegant and costly, there being a cheque for $50.00 from the brides uncle, W. D. McLeod.

Barret-Bell.

A very quiet wedding was solemnized at the brides residence Jacksontown on Wednesday afternoon at 5 p. m., when Rev. O. E. Steeves united Jas. Barret of Hartland and Miss Laura Bell. The bride was unattended and wore a pretty blue costume with white silk waist. After the ceremony the guests consisting only of the near relatives sat down to tea. Later the young couple drove to their future home in Hartland where the band serenaded them. The bride received many useful gifts.

Seventy-Fifth Birthday.

On Saturday afternoon, June 30th, 1906, Mr. Andrew Tweedie was very pleasantly surprised by the congregating of his children and grandchildren at his home in Wicklow in honor of his seventy-fifth birthday. The family was all present with the exception of his eldest son, James, who resides in Butte, Montana. Supper was served on the lawn, after which Mr. Tweedie was presented with a generously filled purse. Mr. Tweedie is still in good health and expressed a desire that he might have such a birthday twice every year.

School for Sunday School Workers.

A school for Sunday School workers is being held this week in St. Paul's Church under the auspices of the Maritime Synod of the Presbyterian Church. The Rev. Dr. Falconer, Principal of the Presbyterian College, Halifax, is delivering a series of addresses on "The Gospels and the Life of Christ." Mr. Kennedy, Principal of the Halifax Academy, is giving a series of addresses on "The Teacher and His Work." The Rev. Gordon Dickie M. A. gives four addresses on "Jesus and His Times," and the Rev. A. H. Foster B. D. three addresses on "Israel Before the Monarchy." Other interesting and instructive talks and addresses will be delivered by competent men.

The attendance at the school is large about 60 students being present from other places. The lectures are intensely interesting not only to those who are Sunday School Teachers but to all who have an interest in the Bible and wish to understand it. The School is quite undenominational and all are invited to attend.

Mr. Carnegie's Advice.

When at Peterborough last week receiving the freedom of the city—to which he has given a public library—Mr. Carnegie publicly expressed his great pleasure at the fact that the lavish and recherche luncheon given by the Mayor (Councillor T. C. Lampligh) had been provided without any intoxicants. Later on the famous millionaire and philanthropist summed up his advice to the general public, and workmen in particular, in the words: 'Don't drink, don't smoke, and use the Free Library.'—'Westminster Gazette.'

NORMAL SCHOOL AND UNIVERSITY EXAMINATIONS

List of Those Taking the Examinations at Woodstock.—Great Increase in List at Woodstock and Andover.

Examinations for Normal School Entrance and University Matriculation began in the College building yesterday morning with Inspector Meagher in charge assisted by I. N. Draper and T. C. L. Ketchum. C. D. Richards, principal of the Grammar School, went to Andover to take charge of the examinations there. Many Carleton County students are taking the examinations at Andover. The combined number of those taking the examinations at Woodstock and Andover is very much larger this year than it has been in any year since these examinations were inaugurated. There is a marked increase in the number of those taking the University Matriculation.

Following is a list of those who are now writing the examinations at Woodstock.

Compulsory Education for Woodstock.

A special meeting of the town council was held on Saturday afternoon at four o'clock to consider the advisability of enforcing compulsory attendance at school. His worship Mayor Muuro was in the chair, all the councillors were present. A resolution was passed unanimously making operative the act of assembly providing for compulsory attendance. The meeting was most harmonious, the council was united. It was the feeling of all the members that if there were no provision in the school law for supplying books or clothes for indigent children the town council should see that such necessities were supplied. They all felt that no child through poverty should be denied some measure of education and that none through laziness or perversity should escape it.

The councillors have acted promptly and wisely and the citizens of Woodstock should heartily applaud their action in the matter.

"The Harvard Girl."

A whirlwind of fun with ludicrous situations following each other with a rapidity tiring to the risibilities combined with specialties distributed throughout the farce at opportune moments, aptly describes "The Harvard Girl," which will be seen at the Opera House Thursday, July 5th, and a contemplation of its splendid charms leaves one in bewilderment and yet with complacent satisfaction. In farce comedy colloquial, this farce goes the limit, and from what one sees nowadays, it is impossible to get more amusement and laughter out of "The Harvard Girl" than from a cycle of plain ordinary every day artistic comedies. Much of the fun depends upon the fun makers and a merrier bunch than those who cavort around the stage could not be picked up from any theatrical agency in the world.
