Grand Thanksgiving Tea.

The interest in the coming Thanksgiving Tea, in aid of the Carleton County Hospital, is increasing daily and it promises to surpass anything previously given in that line. The large and spacious Armory is excellently adapted for anything of this kind. The tea tables will be in the gun room at the back of the building and the people will only be allowed in as vacancies occur at the different tables. In the drill hall itself the candy booth, fish pond and bowling alleys will have place. The shooting galleries, for both rifle and air guns, as well as the bean toss, are immediately off each side of the drill hall. Then there are rumors of a mysterious fortune teller, who will have her booth in one of her many rooms upstairs. For all the games suitable and valuable prizes will be given the person holding the best score at the end of the evening.

The doors will be open at 4 o'clock, with the 67th Reg. Band in attendance, tea to commence at 5.

As it is a holiday it is to be hoped that everyone that can possibly do so will attend and make this Thanksgiving Tea one long to be remembered in Woodstock.

The candy booth is in charge of Misses Madelene Connell, Lucy McLean, Ida Hayden and Hazel Welch.

The fish pond will be looked after by Misses Daisie Hughes, Stella Dailing, Helen Foster and Bessie McLean.

The chairman of the Board of Trustees for the hospital, Rev. Fr. McMurray, has appointed Warden Bailey to look after the sports in connection with the Tea.

All persons who are willing to help along the Thanksgiving Tea are earnestly requested to do so and be prepared when the solicitors call upon them.

The solicitors appointed for the different parts of the town and country are:

Miss Nellie Dent, Main and Richmond streets.

Mrs. Day, Main street from bridge to Railway Crossing.

Mr. Bedell from Railway Crossing down.

Mrs. Crighton and Mrs. A. W. Hay in Grafton.

Miss McLean, Upper Woodstock.

Mrs. R. B. Jones, Stores in Woodstock.

Mrs. C. Dugan and Mrs. R. B. Welsh, Miss L. McCormac, and Mrs. W. Hamilton, from Connell street to St. John street.

Mrs. B. Cluff, Northampton.

Mrs. Lindow from Upper Woodstock to Jacksonville Corner.

The people throughout the County have shown so much interest and have exhibited such a strong desire to help along the Thanksgiving Tea, that the following have been authorized to receive contribution either in the way of food stuff or money:

Meeting of Provincial Government.

At the meeting of the provincial government last week Messrs. J. M. Stevens, K. C., and J. H. Barry, K. C., were heard in reference to the dispute over incorporation of the town of St. Leonards, Mr. Barry, who appeared for the opponents of the incorporation, showed by affidavit that some of those who signed the petition for the act did not know the nature of the document. At the request of Mr. Stevens, action was deferred until next meeting.

Mr. Barry was also heard in regard to the incorporation of the town of Perth. He declared that the presiding officer had allowed irregularities to be committed and that the small majority vote in favor of the act had been obtained as the result of irregularities. The government decided to defer action for a month so that all parties could be heard.

Knight-Mowat.

A romantic wedding occurred in Trinity church, Boston, on Monday last at noon, the principals being Percy Knight, electrician for the Westinghouse Company, Pittsburg, Pa., and Miss Marion Mowat, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Mowat, of Edmonds, Wash., formerly of Charlotte County. The bride was nurse in the hospital at Seattle, when Mr. Knight was brought in as a patient, having lost both his hands in an electrical accident. He had not been under Miss Mowat's care long before he discovered that he had lost his heart also. His affection was reciprocated and on Monday it culminated in the wedding of the two at Boston. Mr. Knight though somewhat handicapped by the loss of his hands, holds a responsible position at Pittsburg, and is a leader in his profession. The bride's many friends in Charlotte wish her and her husband the fullest measure of happiness.—St. Andrews Beacon.

[The bride is a niece of Mrs. John S. Leighton, Woodstock.]

A Big Farm.

The Brookston Herald gives a column space to a detailed description of a 6500 acre farm owned by G. G. Hartley, of Duluth. There has been expended in buildings alone on this farm $35,000. Mr. Hartley is a nephew of the late G. T. Hartley and a cousin of J. Chipman Hartley of this town. G. C. Grant of Shogmoc, is also a cousin. It is a number of years since Mr. Hartley left this part of the country.

No Private Game Preserve.

The newly organized New Brunswick Fish and Game Club, which proposes to tie up 1,700,000 acres of land in Victoria and Madawaska counties, will not be able to exclude the general public from the enjoyment of hunting rights on their lands, if the government of New Brunswick can prevent it. On Wednesday night, at a meeting of the executive, Premier Tweedie, acting Surveyor-General, stated that the matter had been brought to his notice by several leading newspapers and game protective organizations that the New Brunswick Railway Company's lands will be transformed into a large preserve. He said that the understanding was that the general public was to be excluded from hunting on such lands. The feeling has been strongly expressed that such action would be detrimental to the public interest, and the acting Surveyor-General was instructed to inform the company that such action as they proposed will be looked upon with great disfavor by the government and legislature. So far as hunting rights are concerned, legislation would undoubtedly be sought to thwart them in such action. It is the view of the government that the wild lands of the province, whether owned by private individuals or by the Crown, should all be in the same position in regard to the hunting and taking of game. While it is true that the vast area unfortunately granted to the New Brunswick Railway Company thirty-five years ago has always been treated as wild lands, and not subject to taxation, it is open to the government, if an effort is to be made to use the property in a manner detrimental to the public interest, to impose a tax in proportion to the value. The government is fully alive to the great importance of the question, and will take all possible steps to protect the public interest.

A. F. GARDEN will move into his new store on Main Street this week. He has one of the brightest and best appointed drug stores in the country. It is large and well arranged. The walls and ceiling are of steel, painted white and all the woodwork is white. The spacious front admits enough light to make the store very bright by day and by night it is lighted by a great number of incandescent lamps. The wiring was done by Harry D. Baird. The back shops opens on a street so that no goods need be delivered at the front store. Beside the large amount of space down stairs Mr. Garden has a great deal of room in the cellar as well as on the second floor.

THE Rev. George M. Campbell has resigned the pulpit of the Queen Square Methodist church St. John, his resignation to take effect next June. He will retire from the Methodist ministry and devote his time to the work of the Canadian Bible Society.

A Lawyer Enters the Ministry.

Archibald C. Calder, Barrister-at-Law, left last evening for Lennoxville, Que., where he will take a course in divinity at Bishop's College. Mr. Calder is a Campbell man. He took a course at the Provincial Normal school and taught school in Charlotte County about two years. He later studied law with Judge Cockburn of St. Andrews and with Dr. Silas Alward of St. John and after taking lectures in Arts and Law at Dalhousie College, Halifax, and being graduated in Law there, he was admitted to the New Brunswick Bar. He practised law in St. Andrews a year and a half when he came to Woodstock in May 1904 and entered into a law partnership with the late J. R. Murphy. Since Mr. Murphy's death he has practised law alone.

Since coming to Woodstock Mr. Calder has been very active in every department of life and has been very popular. He is a vestryman of Christ's church. He has been an active member of the golf club and of the golf bowling club and took rank among the best players. For six months he added to his other duties those of editor of THE DISPATCH. He showed a great aptitude for newspaper work. He has been an active member of the conservative party and is secretary of the Conservative Association. In election campaigns his ability as a speaker was a most welcome acquisition to his party. He had a good knowledge of law and was recognized among his professional brethren as one who would rapidly rise to the top of the ladder.

Mr. Calder has felt for some months that his place was in the ministry and he has turned his back on the bright prospects that opened before him in the law to take up the work of a priest of the Anglican church.

He has many warm personal friends in Woodstock who were sincerely sorry to bid him good-bye and who will all heartily welcome him back again some day.

Hereditary Free Masonry.

It is not often one will see together for certificates of Free Masonry issued to the members of one family in four consecutive generations, yet four such certificates are in the possession of James A. Gibson of this town. They were issued as follows:—

Woodstock Lodge No. 11 to James A. Gibson, 11th Oct. 1897.

Woodstock Lodge No. 11 to John C. Gibson, father of James A. Gibson, 9th Jan. 1880.

Woodstock Lodge No. 11 to Alexander Gibson, grandfather of James A. Gibson, 12th April 1867. At this time Woodstock Lodge was under the Grand Lodge of Scotland, Earl Zetland Grand Master.

St. Barchan's Lodge No. 208 situated at Kilbarchan, Scotland, to Robert Gibson, great grandfather of James A. Gibson, 27th Dec. 1796.

The time intervening between the making of James A. Gibson a Master Mason and the making of his great-grandfather was just a little more than a century.

George W. Gibson is also a Mason in the fourth generation. He was made a Master Mason in October 1893 and is now serving his second year as master of his lodge.

If any brother mason can produce four masonic certificates related to each other in this way we shall be glad to hear from him.

Notice.

There will be a meeting of Woodstock Board of Trade in the Council chambers, this Wednesday, evening at 8 o'clock sharp, to consider the action of the C. P. R. in regard to our train service. As this is a matter of vital importance to the business men of the town, everyone should attend.

A. E. CRABTREE, of Blackpool, the popular young man who was in the employ of the Imperial Packing Company, some two years ago, and returned to England, came back to this town last Monday and has re-entered the service of the above company. Mr. Crabtree, whose many friends are glad to see him, came over on the steamer Empress of Ireland and had a quick passage.

THE Rev. G. O. Gates of Montreal was unable to accept the call of the two Baptist churches to come to Woodstock and they have issued a call to the Rev. J. W. Kierstead Ph. D., who is now preaching in Illinois. The committee has had a reply from Mr. Kierstead and there is fair reason to believe he will be able to accept the call.

THESE COOL mornings make you think of an Oil Heater. Dibblee & Son sell the B. & H. The only first class Oil Heater made. Every one warranted not to smoke or smell.
