NEWS FROM THE COUNTY.

WOODSTOCK, N. B., NOV. 7, 1906.

East Florenceville.

Hallowe'en the young boys enjoyed themselves with the usual capers of shifting signs and gates. There was a party at B. F. Smith's where a most enjoyable time was spent, and Mrs. D. Semple had a chicken supper for the hungry at her place.

B. F. Smith's big sale commences Wednesday morning. Bargains you never heard the like of.

The farmers here are ploughing for a big plant of potatoes next year, from 10 to 60 acres.

The annual meeting of the East Florenceville R. A. Association will be held in Semple & Haugh's tinshop Friday night. A good crowd is expected.

The concert crowd that were at Bath last Tuesday night were given a warm reception. The hall was full with a total of gate receipts of forty-three dollars. The members of the Methodist church in that vicinity had ice cream and cake which was sold through intermission.

Jack McIsaac had this fall one of the finest yields in potatoes in the county. Out of a field of twelve acres he sold 1700 barrels and kept 100 besides the little ones. We don't see how the farmers will have any chance to talk hard times this winter.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Tompkins was the scene of a pleasant event on Saturday evening, Oct. 3rd, when a large number of friends were present to participate in celebrating the 25th anniversary of their wedding. The evening was very pleasantly spent. An interesting feature of the program was the appearance of the bride and groom dressed as they were twenty-five years ago. Mr. and Mrs. Tompkins in their splendid home made their guests feel glad to be present. Among the elegant presents was a solid silver tea service presented by—Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Hatfield, Mr. and Mrs. H. F. Grosvenor, Mr. and Mrs. Geo. S. Ingraham, Mr. and Mrs. F. C. Brown, Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Grant, Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Hillman, Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Grant, Mr. and Mrs. John Brooks; check to bride, W. S. Tompkins; silver berry spoon, Mr. and Mrs. Turner; silver bon bon dish, Mr. and Mrs. M. Patterson; one half dozen silver knives and forks, Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Smith, Florenceville; silver coffee pot, Mr. and Mrs. T.

Centreville.

George Wilkinson came home from Millinocket a few days ago sick with typhoid fever. Esty Hartley who was very low with the same disease is reported to be somewhat better.

The funeral of Elijah Cosman was held at Tracy Mills and was largely attended.

The missionary meeting in the Methodist church last Friday evening was very interesting. The singing being a special feature of the meeting.

C. M. Sherwood has a large gang of men working at his new mill and it is expected by the time there is good hauling on snow the mill will be ready to start. A number of persons having lumber lands have been to see Mr. Sherwood in regard to selling the land. There are some quite valuable tracts of lumber lands within a short distance of the new mill. The Boiler for this mill weighs over ten tons and is to be hauled from Woodstock and preparations are being made to strengthen the steel bridge here in order that there would be no danger in crossing.

White Bros., of Charleston, have bought a very valuable farm in that place from S. A. Perkins.

Three members were added to Court Centreville Canadian Order of Foresters a few evenings ago and a number of other were expected to join in the near future.

E. L. West had the misfortune to be thrown from his carriage on the evening of Oct. 28th and had his collar bone broken.

Hallowe'en was observed as usual by the boys, who were evidently much dissatisfied with the manner in which the citizens store their movables and perhaps thought a lesson as to the care of these articles would be of some value to those interested.

The land suit of Orlando Graves and Nehemiah Gray is now before the court in Woodstock.

Elisha Page is sick at his home with rheumatic fever. A daughter of Mr. Page's is also quite ill.

Miss Ethel Perkins passed away peacefully on Monday morning at six o'clock. She had been a great sufferer for many months and although everything was done that could be suggested the complication of diseases had gained such a hold upon her weakened constitution that the best medical skill that could be procured could not restore her waning vitality and she kept gradually sinking till death came to her relief.

Andover.

Mrs. J. T. Garden and Miss Jean Garden have returned home after a visit of two weeks with Mrs. J. A. Perley.

Mrs. Holland Brewer and Miss Pearl Waite were visiting in Fort Fairfield last week.

Mrs. James Tibbits gave a delightful little whist party on Wednesday evening, 31st. Among those present were Mr. and Mrs. Benj. Beveridge, Mr. and Mrs. Lee Bedell, Mr. and Mrs. G. T. Baird, Mr. and Mrs. S. P. Waite, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Perley, Mr. and Mrs. D. R. Bedell, Mrs. T. F. Allen, Mrs. Bertha Waite, Miss Jennie Watson, Alex. Stratton, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Manzer. The ladies prizes were captured by Mrs. R. Bedell and Mrs. Waite, and the gentlemen's by S. P. Waite and J. C. Manzer.

A novel "progressive dinner party" was given on Hallowe'en by the young ladies to ten of their gentlemen friends. At 8 p. m. each young lady called at the home of the one she was to accompany and escorted him to the home of the Misses Curry where the first course of fruit was served at several tables in the dining room which was lighted with candles. Then, much to the surprise of the young men, each lady marched off with another partner to the home of Miss Pearl Waite, where the second course was served. The house was in darkness save for several jack-o'-lanterns, candles and a jack-o'-lantern lady who greeted the guests at the door. Soup was served from a big boiler hung over an open fire. From here they went to Miss Gertrude Tibbits, where a course of meat and vegetables were served, the dining-room was lighted by candles. Then down the street to Miss Lena Baird's, where seated on the floor in the library, which was lighted only by an open fire, salads were served to the guests. The next course of hot rolls, tea and coffee was at the home of Miss Ethel Armstrong, where the rooms were also arranged for Hallowe'en. The sixth course, puddings and cakes was at the home of Miss Mae Waite. Here in the dimly lighted dining-room, two weird figures clad in white, served the good things and caused much merriment as they were unknown to those present. The last course of nuts, fruit and candy was served by Miss Florence Porter in Porter's hall, which was artistically trimmed. Here the guests bobbed for apples, danced, got their fortunes told and played Hallowe'en tricks. At the close each and all voted it one of the merriest parties of the year. Those present were Misses Janet and Bessie Curry, Mae and Pearl Waite, Gertrude Tibbits, Lena Baird, Ethel and Mildred Armstrong, Laura Hopkins and Florence Porter, and Messrs. Gilbert Peat, Guy McAdam, Herbert Baird, Herman Turner, Charles Elliott, Harold Waite, Guy Porter, Cecil Merritt, Frank MacCollom and Harry Hopkins.

Harold Waite came home from Fredericton on the 31st instant and left for Montreal on November 5th to enter the Sovereign Bank. His many friends wish him success in his new position.

Mrs. Harry Tibbits is visiting her parents at "The Barony."

Kirkland.

It is our painful duty to write the death of John Bunting, aged fifty-three years. He leaves a wife and seven children the youngest being about five years of age, also a father and mother, one sister, and four brothers residing in the West. He was a temperate man of fine character and very highly esteemed in the settlement where he resided. He was a member of the Episcopal church in this place and secretary of the school in his district. Mr. Bunting went out hunting on Thursday and lost his way. He was lost three days. When found his dog was sitting beside him watching him though cold and hungry and could not be coaxed away until its master was removed.

Frazer Veness, agent from Benton, was here on Saturday.

We have had terribly stormy weather. The roads are snow and mud mixed together. James Arbour is visiting his family at present.

Over-Speculation in the West.

Mr. Byron E. Walker, general manager of the Canadian Bank of Commerce, who has just made an extensive tour in Western Canada, says: "The West was never more prosperous, having regard to settlement and business. The present danger, though, is the huge speculation in real estate in all towns and cities. I am not referring, of course, to farm lands." Mr. Walker adds that the speculation is not confined to those who would ordinarily deal in real estate, but people go into it, because it is the big business. With the example of Winnipeg in its early days before them, the people of the western plains ought to be alive to the danger behind a "boom." There is no question that values are too high in the west, altogether too many people are neglecting their legitimate business (including that of paying their creditors) in order to speculate in land and incidentally to artificially stimulate values to a dangerous degree. With the immense areas of land still available for settlement, it is impossible to maintain land at famine prices. Mr. Walker's advice is most seasonable.—Montreal Chronicle.

ENTHUSIASTIC MOTHERS.

When mothers become enthusiastic over a medicine for little ones, it is safe to say that it has high merit. Every mother who has used Baby's Own Tablets speaks strongly in praise of them, and tells every other mother how much good they have done her children. Mrs. Alfred Marcouse, St. Charles, Que., says: "I strongly advise every mother to keep Baby's Own Tablets in the house always. I have used them for teething troubles, colic and other ills of childhood and found them the most satisfactory medicine I ever tried." These Tablets are guaranteed to contain no poisonous opiate and no harmful drug. They are equally good for the new born baby or the well grown child, and are a sure cure for all their minor ailments. Sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box by writing The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Love is Blind.

Mrs. Newed—"And do you really and truly love me, George?"

Newed—"Of course I do, my dear."

Mrs. Newed—"But some people are saying that you married me just because my uncle left me a fortune."

Newed—"Now don't let that worry you, dear, for there isn't a word of truth in it. I'd have married you just the same even if some other relative had left you the money."

—Chicago Daily News.

Patrick Murphy, while passing down Tremont street, was hit on the head by a brick which fell from a building in process of construction.

One of the first things he did after being taken home and put to bed was to send for a lawyer.

A few days later he received word to call, as his lawyer had settled the case.

He called and received five crisp new $100 bills.

"How much did you get?" he asked.

"Two thousand dollars," answered the lawyer.

"Two thousand, and you gave me $500? Say, who got hit by that brick, you or me?" Boston Herald.

"What day was I born on, mother?"

"Thursday, child."

"Wasn't that fortunate? It was your day at home."—Harper's Weekly.
