A Shame to Tease Her.

(From the Newark News.)

Robert Watchorn, the well-known commissioner of immigration, has made a sympathetic and thorough study of the immigrant types that reach New York.

Discussing these types the other day, he said:

"The most naive are the Germans from the smaller and remoter states. They have the charmingly simple and quaint minds of children.

"A beautiful German girl disembarked here the other day. She was tall and strong, blue-eyed and yellow haired. She wanted to know at once if there were any letters for her.

"The postman at the pier, after getting her name, said, by way of a joke:

"Is it a business or a love letter that you expect?"

"The girl faltered:

"A business letter."

"Well, there's nothing here," said the man, after looking over the assortment.

"The girl hesitated. Then, blushing as red as a rose, she said:

"Would you mind just looking among the love letters, sir?"

The widow of Li Hung Chang, the famous Chinese Viceroy, who is one of the richest women in the world, is staying at Lugano, Switzerland, with her nephew, the Chinese Minister at Vienna. She is attended by a numerous suite, who are principally engaged in looking after the old lady's luggage, which consists of hundreds of wonderfully designed boxes containing priceless silks and jewels, the private cooking utensils of the party, and, last, but not least, a case of birds' nests intended for soup.

A demand is being made in Portland, Oregon, for compulsory disclosure of all unclaimed bank balances of 10 years old and over. Recently an indigent citizen was removed to the poorhouse; in his trunk was found a Bank of British Columbia deposit receipts for $1,000 given 30 years ago, and forgotten by the candidate for the poorhouse. The receipt was immediately cashed by the Portland branch of the Canadian Bank of Commerce.

The late Stanford White held more than $500,000 insurance on his life, chiefly in the "Big Three." In the Equitable Life alone he had five policies aggregating $215,000. The most recent of the policies was taken out seven years ago. The others had been outstanding many years. The beneficiary of all his insurance in the Equitable is Mrs. White, his widow. Within the past two years White endeavored to increase his insurance, but the companies declined because the medical examinations revealed the presence of kidney trouble.

Second Call for Help.

The Northwest needs more workers to assist in gathering this season's wonderful harvest. From every section comes the cry for men. The thousands who have gone from the Maritime Provinces and from Upper Canada are now hard at work, and still the demand is for more. There is work for all who can go—Work that will last well on to the New Year and that may result, if the visitor wishes it, in opening up for him opportunities of settlement on advantageous terms in the new land. This year's crop promises to be the record crop of the Canadian Northwest, and to harvest it will give employment to a mighty army. The call of the West to save its crops and help in the growth and development of Canada is a call that must be heeded. It is a patriotic duty to our brethren in the West to go to them in their hour of necessity, and every man who can should lend his assistance. Many of the Northwest farmers are from these Maritime Provinces, and they will make welcome those from the home land who go to help them. The Canadian Pacific Railway Company, in order to assist the western farmers, has decided to run a second farm laborers' excursion from the Maritime Provinces, leaving here on Wednesday, September 12. Already there have been a number of enquiries and every indication is that there will be a hearty response to the call of the West. Remember there is work for all who go and a chance to see the Great West land as well.

Skimming the Land.

A writer in the New York Post, in describing farm methods in Kansas, says that hundreds of people living in Eastern Kansas and other parts of the older settled sections of the West own wheat farms out in what is called the short grass country. They make two or three visits a year to their possessions, contract for the plowing and the seeding of their fields, and oversee the harvest in the summer. On some farms no plowing is done; a heavy cultivator stirs up the stubble ground on which wheat was grown the year before, and the new seed is drilled in to take its chances on the ground.

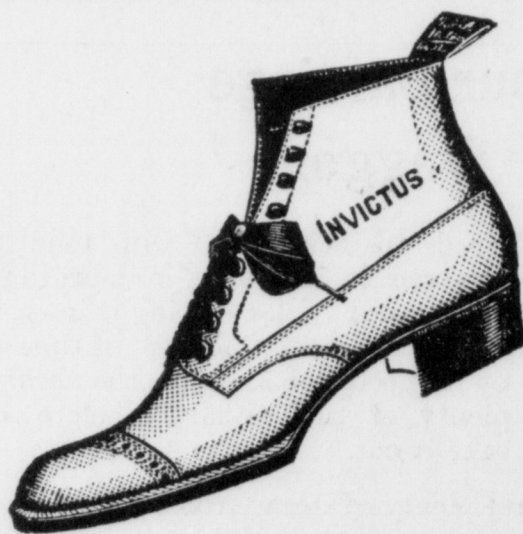

"Isn't that rather a sloppy and slovenly sort of farming?" was asked of one of these wheat-growers.

"Oh, I don't know," was the reply. "If it doesn't rain we cannot raise wheat anyhow, and if it rains we will raise wheat whether it is plowed or not."

But while wheat may be raised for some years under such conditions, the land is bound to play out in time. In fact, in Minnesota, where a similar sort of farming has been carried on, it has played out already. The average yield in Minnesota has gone down from twenty to ten bushels per acre. The exodus from the Western States to our Canadian West is largely made up of men who have skimmed from Minnesota the fertility which has been gradually stored there during centuries, and men who have done the same thing in other Western States. They are going to our West to repeat the process. What will be the position of the Canadian prairies when the skimming process is complete?

How Not to Spoil the Hair.

Don't use a comb to spread the pompadour by pulling the hair forward over the forehead.

Don't comb the hair from the forehead over backward when arranging to brush it. If the hair be long and heavy the strain comes on the front hairs with each stroke of the brush. If they do not fracture and fall out at once, they become loosened in the follicle, kink up, and drop out later.

Avoid vigorous brushing; bear in mind that one hair on the head is worth two in the brush.

Don't use curlers or kids during sleeping hours.

Don't grasp the front hair by the points or ends and comb upward from points to roots, "roughing it" in order to make a full, round pompadour. This needless abuse destroys life and lustre, fractures the hair shaft, renders it knotty, and produces a frumpy, aged appearance.

Don't use face bleach without first protecting the hair line by saturating the short hairs with sweet almond or coconut oil.

Don't scrub the hair line with a facial brush; pin a small towel over the hair before you commence operations with the facial brush.

Don't rub facial cream into the hair line when using it on the face, as it fills the follicles with fatty substance and prevents proper growth.

Don't use strong alkalis to lighten the color, or shampoo too frequently to keep the hair fluffy.

Don't linger on the beach after bathing and allow the salt to dry on the hair.

Don't take everybody's advice and do all sorts of things to your hair and scalp.

—JULIET MARION LEE in the September Delineator.

MOTHER'S ANXIETY.

The summer months are an anxious time for mothers because they are the most dangerous months of the year for young children. Stomach and bowel troubles come quickly during the hot weather and almost before the mother realizes that there is danger the little one may be beyond aid. Baby's Own Tablets will prevent summer complaints if given occasionally, because they keep the stomach and bowels from offending matter. And the Tablets will cure these troubles if they come suddenly. You may save your child's life by keeping a box of Baby's Own Tablets on hand to give promptly. Mrs. Frank Moore, Northfield, N. S., says:—"I do not know any medicine that can equal Baby's Own Tablets for curing stomach and bowel troubles. I always keep them on hand in case of emergency." Sold by all medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Lord Randolph's Leisure.
