W. F. DIBBLEE & SON,

Woodstock & Centreville.

Golf.

A new and interesting game called "swat-fest" was played on the golf links on Saturday last. The day was fine and a large number of ladies and gentlemen were present. In this game the whole party start out together and at the finish of each hole the low player or players drop out and the others continue around the links until only one is left. It took the whole nine holes to decide who was the winner, when Mr. A. C. Calder, by a lucky put secured the prize, which was donated by Misses B. K. Dibblee and Miss Jessie Denison.

To Editor of The Dispatch:—

My attention has been called to a news article in the last issue of the Sentinel referring to the late golf match between St. John and Woodstock on the links of the former. This item states that "the pleasure of the game was interfered with because some of the players (presumably St. John players) refused to play a gentlemanly game."

For my own part I wish to say that the above statement is entirely uncalled for because untrue and I wish to repudiate it in the most emphatic manner. Even had anything of the sort happened the remark of the Sentinel (whose editor is the president of the Woodstock club) could not be classed other than as most unsportsmanlike. The man who cannot play golf or any other game and take a trimming and look pleasant should never enter competitive sport of any kind. The remark is, I feel sure, greatly regretted by every Woodstock golfer.

Yours, GOLFERS.

Stevens-Scott.

A quiet wedding took place at the bride's home in Glassville on Monday afternoon, September 17th, at 3 o'clock when Miss Susan Grace Scott was united in marriage to Harry T. Stevens, of Woodstock. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. L. B. Gibson in the presence of the immediate relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. Stevens will live with Mr. Stevens parents this winter and in the spring will begin house keeping. The bride was the recipient of many valuable and useful presents.

Stevens-Hutchinson.

The residence of Mrs. Matthew Hutchinson, Upper Wicklow, Carleton County, was the scene of a very pretty wedding on Wednesday 19th inst. at 10.30 a. m., when her daughter Miss Helen M. Hutchinson and Mr. Geo. S. Stevens, of Lynn, Mass., were united in marriage. The ceremony was performed by Rev. L. A. Fenwick in the presence of near relatives and friends.

After luncheon had been served Mr. and Mrs. Stevens left for a short trip to Grand Falls and other points in the northern part of the Province previous to taking up their residence in Lynn, Mass.

The New Telephone Company.

The Mutual Telephone Co., for which incorporation is asked will build and conduct a rural line, having Woodstock as a centre and running in all directions from this point. It will aim to give the farmers a perfectly satisfactory service at a lower rate than they are paying now.

A number of Woodstock men will be stockholders in the company.

A recent act of the Dominion parliament will make it possible for the New Brunswick company to admit the new company's lines to the town exchange.

Tippling in Dr. Johnson's Day.

I don't know that anyone has ever called attention to the fact that tippling waiters was a common practise in England as early at least as 1737. In that year Dr. Johnson went to London and in speaking of his early experiences there he says:—"I dined very well for eight-pence, with very good company, at the Pine-Apple in New-Street, several of them had travelled. They expected to meet every day; but did not know one another's names. It used to cost the rest a shilling, for they drank wine; but I had a cut of meat for six-pence, and bread for a penny, and gave the waiter a penny; so that I was quite well served, nay, better than the rest, for they gave the waiter nothing."

THE Presbyterians will hold an Oyster supper on Tuesday the 2nd of October in the Armoury. Refreshments of different kinds and other attractions will be provided. Admission 10 cents. Supper 25 cents. Begins at 5 o'clock p. m.

IT IS REPORTED that a sportsman from Detroit (Mich.) named Owen Scotten, is dead at George Armstrong's camp in the Tobique woods, as a result of an attack of pneumonia. Scotten was a man about 56 years of age and had been an annual visitor to the Tobique woods for some years.

Shooting Without a License.

One evening last week Al. Geddes and Oliver Hanson met or overtook Ed Faulkner in Grafton and Geddes and Faulkner indulged in some reminiscences all of which were not pleasant. The conversation became high and finally someone struck someone else and in order to keep things going in good style Faulkner produced a revolver that went off and sent a bullet into Geddes' leg. Faulkner then took a walk and Fred Bowles came along with a carriage and brought Geddes over to Neil McKinnon's hotel on Connell Street. Faulkner strolled into town on Sunday and looked up Owen Kelly, Chief of Police. He said the thing was altogether an accident and he had no desire to avoid the officers of the law. No information has yet been laid against him. It is said that when he shot Geddes he had no license.

Farnham-Palmer.

On Wednesday afternoon, at Waterville, the residence of Mrs. Charlotte Palmer was the scene of a pretty wedding when, at 2.30 o'clock, her youngest daughter, Miss Annie Palmer, was united in marriage to Mr. Henry C. Farnham, a prosperous young contractor at Fort Fairfield. At the time appointed the young couple took their places on the lawn to the strains of Mendelssohn's Wedding March, played by Miss H. True. The Rev. O. E. Steeves performed the ceremony. The bride looked charming in white silk organdie heavily trimmed with valenceinnes lace and insertion, and veil, and carried a bouquet of white carnations and maiden hair ferns. She was attended by her little niece, Miss Julia Birmingham, as flower girl. After the congratulations a dainty luncheon was served and the bride donned her travelling costume of champagne coloured ladies cloth with silk waist to match, and the happy couple drove away to Woodstock to take the train for Bangor and Boston for a short honeymoon, when they will return to Fort Fairfield. Among the out of village guests were the following: Mr and Mrs Farnham, Southampton; Mr Fickler, New Jersey; Mrs Fred Foster, Fort Fairfield; Mr and Mrs Briggs, Monticello; Mrs Esty, Presque Isle; Mr Farnham, Bridgewater; Miss Grant, Southampton; Mr Chas Ketchum, Bridgewater. The groom's gift to the bride was a beautiful gold chain; Miss Vonwart, heirloom silver napkin ring; Mr and Mrs J S Palmer, $2; Miss Lucy Grant, $1; Mr and Mrs Chas Palmer, $5; Mr and Mrs A E Farnham, $5; Mr and Mrs Fred Foster, $5; Mrs Fred Plummer, $3; silver sugar bowl, Mother; silver butter dish, Nina and Harry Briggs; silver pie knife, Dannie Birmingham; silver bread tray, Chas Ketchum; silver pickle dish Janet McMullin; one half dozen silver spoons Mrs J C Ketchum; butter knife, Miss True; berry spoon, Guy Farnham; picture, Mr and Mrs Albert Palmer; oil painting, Mr and Mrs W Birmingham; Mrs Rogers, tray cloth; one half dozen silver knives, Mrs W Hamilton; butter dish, Mr Hamilton; one half dozen napkins, Daisy Farnham; a Corean bride's Miss Esty, missionary; 50 cents, Mrs Sarah Esty.

The Rev. G. O. Gates Called to Woodstock.

The committees representing the Albert Street and Main Street Baptist churches met in joint session on Monday evening and decided to extend a call to the Rev. G. O. Gates of Montreal to preach to the congregations. Though it is hoped they will ultimately unite it has been thought better that they should remain separate for the present. It has been decided to have one minister for both.

The Exhibition is Open.

The Carleton County Exhibition opened yesterday and is now in full swing. The weather for the opening ceremonies was about the finest fall weather ever seen in this latitude.

The number of exhibits is altogether satisfactory and the quality, on an average, has never been excelled. There is a large number of strangers in town and the prospect is that the reduced rates on the C. P. R. will bring in large crowds every day. Indications all point to a grand success.
