A Quiet Time at The Town Council.

The town council met on Monday evening, Mayor Munro in the chair and Councillors Henderson, Fields, McManus and Fisher present. Couns. Dunbar and Leighton were absent.

Coun. Fisher reported for the light committee giving details of changes that it was thought advisable to be made in the position of the street lamps. It was resolved to make the changes suggested in the report.

Coun. Fields informed the council that the Alex Dunbar Co. were erecting a building on the street and on his motion the street committee and commissioner were instructed to examine the place and see that no incroachment was made on the street.

At the suggestion of Coun. Fields the town marshal was instructed to stop employees of the Alex Dunbar Co., playing football on the street.

At the request of N. Foster Thorne, President, the golf club was given permission to use the council chamber on Friday evening for the purpose of presenting to the successful competitors the medals and prizes won this season.

A communication from James Carr requesting the payment to him of the sum of $16 which he had paid for another man's curbing was received and filed.

GOLF.

St. Stephen vs. Woodstock.

The golf match on the St. Stephen links on Thanksgiving Day resulted in a victory for the Woodstock team. The weather was fine and the visitors enjoyed the trip very much. The links are beautifully situated on the banks of the St. Croix River about a mile and a half below the town. Play was finished at noon and after that the members were right royally entertained by the ladies of the St. Stephen Club in their neat little club house, from which a splendid view of the river is obtained. The St. Stephen club is only in its infancy, yet there are many promising players among its members. Following is the score:—

James Sherrad.

James Sherrad, aged 72 years, a well known and highly respected farmer of Bloomfield, died in St. Andrews on Saturday last after a few months illness. Mr. Sherrad was a staunch Presbyterian and contributed liberally to his church in his native county and in St. Andrews, where he spent the summer with his sisters for a number of years past. The remains were brought to Woodstock on Monday evening and were taken from the Aberdeen hotel on Tuesday to Bloomfield where the interment was made. The Rev. K. McKay, of Houlton, officiated.

Death of John Mallory.

John Mallory, one of the oldest residents of Carleton County, died at his home in Jackson town Tuesday morning, October 16th, at the age of 86 years. He leaves three sons William, George and John and one daughter, Mrs. Brock Vail. The funeral, which was held on Thursday afternoon, was largely attended.

John McIntosh, Sr.

John McIntosh, sr., the oldest resident of the Parish of Kent, died at his home, Beechwood, on Wednesday, aged 95 years. He leaves a wife, four sons, and one daughter. The funeral services were conducted by Rev. G. A. Giberson.

Married in Halifax.

Harry A. Bailey of the Bank of Montreal, Halifax, was on Thursday October 11th united in marriage to Miss Effie G. Holland. Mr. Bailey is a Woodstock gentleman, brother of Arthur G. Bailey, Warden of the County. His many friends congratulate him heartily.

The members of the 67th batt. band, who have been corresponding with Prof. J. J. Ansel, cornet soloist of Pennsylvania, with a view to obtaining his services as instructor, have decided to engage him.

Rev. Geo. A. Ross's Ringing Challenge to Christian Church.

Under the above caption, the Hampton correspondent of the St. John Times writes: Pursuant to a decision of the St. John District Methodist meeting, that the subject of Christian citizenship should be emphasized in the services of the Sabbath following Thanksgiving Day, the Rev. G. A. Ross preached a sermon last evening from the text, "Righteousness exalteth a nation," Proverbs XIII, 34, which was of so excellent a character and so practical in its suggestions as to warrant a wider scope being offered, at least to its leading thought, than the audience to which it was addressed, as the following excerpt will indicate. Touching the attitude of the Christian church in Canada in relation to national life and affairs, the preacher said:

"It is to be presumed that the rallying centre of the moral forces on which the future of our country is to depend is the Christian church within this Dominion, the men and women who are professedly inspired by faith in God, to whom they hold themselves responsible for the direction in which they throw their personal influence in their public and private relations. Statistically the church holds forth the promise of great possibilities, and if the serious problems which are more and more prominently to present themselves in the next quarter of a century are not successfully grappled with, the meaning of it will be that the church has been recreant to her high trust and inactive or worse in the face of her grave responsibilities. There is need that the church perceive that Christianity—real Christianity—has in it impulsion to social and national concern and endeavor over and above a hamstringing conception of individualism, the yield of which in results is so far out of proportion to what invested as to suggest the desirability of a search for a better policy. The church must pass to imperial thinking. She must organize for effort which touches immediately all phases of the social and national life. She must be baptised with the nationalistic spirit, otherwise she remains an inadequate medium for the all-potent might of the truth and power which are in Jesus Christ.

What an awful anomaly if the church should be fiddling while the country is burning? If she should be effusively busying herself, for instance, in seeking to righten the conscience of really excellent people on such questions as playing with cards, dancing and attending the circus, when she should be carrying a robust conscience into political conventions, committee rooms and polling booths in the attempt to stay the real and unquestioned evils which threaten the country, and which, when actualized, bind the limbs of the nation more and more firmly and leave her the victim of all the parasitical forces which would feed upon her body.

If the church is to fulfil her function she will need more generally to write the word "wider" upon her conceptions, upon her ambitions, and upon her hopes. Christianity is simply not comprehended when the limit of its obligation is set in the private efforts of its individual disciples to influence other individuals one by one. It is not comprehended when abstinence from certain forms of amusement is set forth and emphasized as the chief and essentially distinguished mark of a Christian. The religion of Jesus is not properly represented by the impression of the hollow-eyed and anaemic ascetic, absorbed with anxiety concerning his own state, and standing, not only uninterested in, but ignorant of the woes of society and the need of the nation. The Christianity of Christ has iron in its blood, and the fire of conscious power and holy purpose in its eye. Surely the time has come for the church everywhere to shift her point of emphasis and ring in upon the minds of the people those truths which have in them potency for the generation of a national and civic conscience."

Circuit Court.

The Carleton Circuit Court opened on Tuesday morning October 9th, His Hon. Judge Gregory presiding. The docket was the longest of any court in the county for years. The Hon. W. P. Jones, Solicitor General conducted the prosecution in all the criminal cases.

In the King vs. Chute, an action for assault to Mrs. Minnie Sharp Adney, the grand jury found no bill.

In the King vs. Freeman Lovely, an action for assault on his brother David Lovely of Peel, no bill.

The King vs. Edward Faulkner for assault on Al. Geddes with a revolver, the grand jury found a true bill and the petit jury disagreed. The defendant was remanded and will be tried again.

The King vs. Ernest Carlisle, the grand jury found a true bill, but the case was not tried.

The King vs. R. Shannon for assault on Mrs. Clara Tapley the grand jury found a bill for common assault.

The King vs. Charles Rigby Shaw found guilty of common assault and sentenced to pay a fine of $100.

The grand jury strongly recommended that a new court house be built and advised stpendary magistrates to dispose of small assault cases themselves and not send them to the Supreme Court.

Mr. Colpitts, Inspector under the Canada Temperance Act, who was a member of the grand jury, asked the judge what help the law could give him to help him close the dens at the line stores. His Honor informed him that if the places at the line were conducted as disorderly houses he could proceed against them as such.

The differences between Mr. and Mrs. Adney on one side, and J. N. Schute on the other, arises out of a question as to title to land. After the grand jury had failed to find a bill against Mr. Schute for assault to Mrs. Adney, Mr. Adney interviewed Mr. Schute somewhat roughly. As a result Mr. Adney was arrested and taken before John McCormac, justice of the peace, charged with assault. After hearing the evidence Mr. McCormac sent the defendant up for trial. Coles Dugan and Deputy Sheriff Foster became bail.

A Great Success.

The success of the Hospital Supper on Thanksgiving night exceeded the fondest hopes of the most sanguine friends of the Carleton County Hospital. The Armoury was simply crowded from five until nine o'clock. About 1500 people had tea, but hundreds were unable to be accommodated within this time and they found it necessary to patronize the hotels. The booths were patronized handsomely and at the Fishing Pond, which was in charge of Misses Glen McQuarrie, Helen Foster, Daisie M. Hughes and Bessie McLean, $38.00 was cleared, while at the Candy Booth, which was looked after by Misses Madeline Connell, Lucy McLean and Ida Hayden $39.00 was realized. At each of these booths the young ladies were most becomingly attired in nurse's uniforms. The fortune teller's tent was also well patronized, and at the end of the evening the occupant, Mrs. George E. Phillips was able to turn in a handsome amount towards the total receipts.

Much credit is due the officers of the Ladies Auxiliary, Mrs. A. Wilmot Hay, president, Mrs. C. F. K. Dibblee, vice president Mrs. H. V. Dalling, treasurer, and Mrs. R. B. Jones, sec-treas, also to all the ladies who so ably assisted them for the success of the affair.

The tea tables were in charge of the following ladies:—

Mrs. J. T. A. Dibblee and Mrs. C. J. Tabor.

Mrs. M. McManus and Misses Gallagher. Mrs. J. McLauchlan and Mrs. A. D. Holyoke.

Mrs. Ernest Holyoke and Mrs. W. B. Belyea.

Miss C. Hull and Miss Annie Allen. Mrs. C. W. Dugan and Mrs. James Hamilton.

Mrs. F. B. Carvell and Mrs. W. Fisher. Mrs. A. G. Bailey and Mrs. T. F. Sprague

The different sports, under the charge of Warden Bailey were a marked success and netted upwards of $150.00. The different prize winners are as follows:—

Bowling alley—1st, Joseph Fewer, set of dishes donated by John Graham; 2nd, F. McLean, box cigars, donated by Mr. E. W. Mair.

Rifle—1st, B. F. Smith, umbrella, donated by Mr. John McLauchlan; 2nd, Wm. McKinney, knife, donated by J. T. A. Dibblee.

Air Gun—1st, Wm. Chapman, umbrella, donated by Geo. W. Gibson; 2nd, Avard White, Box cigars, donated by Harry Palmer; Ladies prize, Miss R. Smith, pair scissors, donated by John A. Lindsay.

Bean Toss—1st, Ernest Ryan, $5 in gold; 2nd, Miss Vanwart; 3rd, pair gloves, Clarence Ryan.

Guessing contest in bottle—1st D. Nicholson; 2nd B. F. Smith, bottle perfume each, donated by C. A. McKeen.

Guessing Contest, candy—Miss Agnes Gallagher.

Bagatelle—Miss Carrie Caldwell.

There is still quite a large amount of money not yet received so the exact receipts cannot be arrived at, but it can be safely estimated that there will be over $900.00 when all the amounts have been handed in to the Treasurer.

Mr. Bailey, who had charge of the sports, wishes to thank all the gentlemen who so ably assisted him. Messrs Sullivan Bros. for the use of balls and pins for the alleys and J. Albert Hayden for lumber.

For a Good Pickling Vinegar and Spices go to H. G. NOBLE'S.
