

The New Semi-Norfolk Suit, with Extra Knickers.

Don't know of a boy who does not wear out at least two or three pairs of Trousers to one coat. An extra pair of Trousers to match the Coat is always a splendid investment. It pays well in the end to buy the extra Trousers for they make one Suit equal to about two Suits.

Try the extra Trousers proposition for the boy and you will be highly pleased with the result.

Don't think of passing this store when you are ready to clothe the boy, that is if you want the Best.

The Methodists to Have a Camp Meeting

The Methodist Camp Meeting and Summer Resort Association was organized Thursday afternoon in Centenary church, St. John.

Thirty acres of land have been purchased from Charles T. Hawker, between Grand Bay and Ingleside, nearly all of which is covered with shady groves, and is an ideal location as a summer resort. The property has a frontage on the water of about sixty rods and runs back eighty rods.

The association have in mind the holding of the annual conference there when so desired, as well as a summer school of missions, and an annual camp meeting. They propose erecting a large dormitory, an auditorium with seating capacity of one thousand. They will build about fifty cottages for renting.

The capital stock will be $15,000, and it is stipulated that the shares are not to earn more than six per cent. Rev. James Crisp was appointed provisional secretary-treasurer. E. T. C. Knowles is the association's solicitor.

Disastrous Fire in St John

Last Friday at noon fire broke out in the basement of the big retail dry goods store of Macaulay Bros. King St. St. John, and before it could be overcome it did damage to the extent of $125,000. The loss is estimated to be $50,000 over the insurance. It was one of the worst fires St. John has experienced in recent years, and to make it so the firemen were handicapped by a poor head of water, and also by the dense volumes of black smoke that made it practically impossible for them to enter the building.

Several girls employed in the upper part of the building escaped with difficulty.

The stock is valued at $192,000, and was second in value to none in the maritime provinces.

In their efforts to save the stock the firemen were forced to break a sheet of plate glass, the largest ever brought to America, and second to none in the world.

With characteristic energy Macaulay Bros. expect to resume business in a few days.

Mrs Samuel Taylor.

Mrs. Samuel Taylor, an aged and respected resident of Florenceville, died on May 8th at the residence of her son Wilbur Taylor. She leaves two sons, Wilbur, of Florenceville and Hedley, a barrister practising law in Edmonton, Alberta; and three daughters, Mrs. McNally of Beechwood, Mrs. William Jewett of Florenceville and Mrs. Goodwin of Bay Verte. The deceased was a Miss Hunter of Sheffield and came to Florenceville with her husband about 43 years ago.

Mrs Charles Kearney.

Mrs. Charles Kearney, a respected resident of Florenceville, passed away suddenly on Tuesday, May 13th. She was a Miss Doherty of St. John. She leaves two sons, John V. Kearney, at one time a member of the County Council, and Leo Kearney. Her husband predeceased her about two years and to add to her grief a beloved daughter, Mrs. John Bohan of Bath, passed away last winter.

Hat Trimmings.

In hat trimmings, ribbon is playing an important role, but the ribbon this season is somewhat heavier than for some years past. Ribbed ribbons are growing in favor. We shall probably see more of them next year. Floral Chine ribbons and velvet embossed broche ribbons have been on some of the most expensive headgear, but are not taking with the readiness that the ribbon manufacturer hoped. A novel arrangement of ribbon was seen on a hat the other day. Three or four shades ranging from grey to mauve were used in close, even folds around the front of the crown, and these were brought up and spread out at the back in big loops. Across the crown from right to left there was a band of small roses in the same colors as the ribbon.

"We may each contribute to the city beautiful," said the enthusiastic speaker; "each add a little to the adorning of the streets."

"I will volunteer," said one of the hearers, "to wear my new hat down to the matinee this very afternoon if the sun shines."

Induction of The Rev. H. G. Alder.

The Rev. H. G. Alder who was recently elected rector of Woodstock went to Fredericton last week and was duly instituted by the Bishop. A further ceremony takes place on Thursday evening when the rector will be inducted. The act of induction is by the churchwardens, acting under a mandate from the bishop, and is attended by special service, which will be conducted by the Ven. Archdeacon Newnham assisted by Rev. A. W. Teed, Rural Dean. The induction will take place in the Parish church at 7.30 Thursday evening.

Institution is the act by which the bishop gives the elected rector the spiritual control in the parish. Induction is the act of the churchwardens in giving the rector charge of the temporalities and as a token the keys of the church are handed to the rector, and he rings the bell of the church. The service will be of a very interesting character. An offering will be taken for missions.

Death of Isaac Stephenson.

Isaac Stephenson, the new United States senator from the State of Wisconsin, is a native of New Brunswick, and at one time was a resident of Hartland.

Senator Stephenson was born in Fredericton in 1829. His father, Isaac, was of Scotch-Irish stock. His mother, who was Elizabeth Watson, was an English woman. The boy spent the first eleven years of his life in Fredericton, after which the family moved to Bangor, and a year later pushed out into Wisconsin, where they cleared a farm. They were very poor, and Stephenson relates that he had to go barefoot even in the winter because his father could not afford to buy him shoes. However, when he was still a boy, young Stephenson started out for himself. By hard work and saving he managed to get possession of a tiny schooner, which he sailed himself between Milwaukee and Escanaga. As he gradually prospered, he invested, with great foresight in timber lands. As the years went on Stephenson became more and more wealthy, until he got to be one of the rich men of the nation.

It is not, however, simply the weight of Stephenson's money that got for him his election to the United States senate. He has ideas of his own, and although an old man and a millionaire, he is one of the leaders in the new school of politics, a radical among the radicals.

Stephenson is a railroad president, a banker, and a manufacturer. His position in regard to the great public questions is unique for such a man. For instance, as a manufacturer, the avowed principals of Stephenson are interesting. He stands for "Prompt and thorough revision of all tariff schedules, reducing duties wherever possible without reducing wages of labor."

"Strengthening the Sherman anti-trust law and imposing such additional penalties as will deter property interests from combining in violation thereof."

"An effective child labor law."

As a railroad president he declared in his platform for "strengthening the interstate commerce law, giving the commission full power to regulate rates and services."

"Legislation authorizing and equipping the interstate commerce commission to ascertain the true value of railroad property, the cost of operating the railways and the amount paid therefor."

"Legislation requiring the adoption of the best known safety appliances and prescribing strict regulations in the operation of trains in connection therewith."

Other most important changes in the national government for which Stephenson has declared are: "A constitutional amendment for the election of United States senators by direct vote of the people."

"A federal tax upon incomes."

"A federal tax upon inheritances," and legislation prohibiting the sale or entry of any public lands containing coal, lignite, oil or gas."

Certainly Stephenson will be among the Philistines when he takes his seat in the United States senate. About the only thing he has in common with Spooner, whom he succeeds, is that they are both Republicans.

But Stephenson's Republicanism is of the new sort, the Roosevelt brand. His selection indicates the great change that has come over the spirit of politics. It is looked upon of course, as another "Roosevelt victory."

Stephenson is an admirer of the strenuous president. He has also been for years the backer of the ultra-radical, LaFollette.

Senator Stephenson was elected by the Wisconsin legislature in joint session last Thursday.

The Lord's Day Alliance Holds a Public Meeting in the Reformed Baptist Church.

A largely attended public meeting was held in the Reformed Baptist church last Sunday afternoon in the interests of the Lord's Day Alliance. Besides the president, Col. D. McLeod Vince, who presided, there were present on the platform the Revs. Messrs. Kearney, Fulton, Ireland and Dr. Kierstead. An address explaining the general nature of the act which is now in force in New Brunswick, as well as the history of Sabbath observance was given by the Rev. Mr. Kearney. He urged the importance of observing the day in a manner fitting a christian nation. Messrs Fulton, Ireland and Dr. Kierstead also spoke briefly on the Sabbath day, its history and the need of its better observance. A collection was taken up at the close of the meeting in behalf of the Lord's Day Alliance. It was proposed to hold another public meeting in September.

Dr. Kierstead Accepts.

The Rev. Dr. W. C. Kierstead, M. A., of Woodstock, has accepted an invitation to preach the baccalaureate sermon in connection with the Eccelesia proceedings at the University of New Brunswick this year. It is expected that the sermon will be delivered on Sunday next at the Brunswick street Baptist church, this city. The Rev. Dr. Kierstead graduated from the University of New Brunswick in 1898 with the B. A. degree and in 1900 he took the degree of M. A. He afterwards attended the Divinity School in connection with Chicago University and has been mentioned heretofore in connection with positions on the faculty of the U. N. B. It will be with great interest that Rev. Dr. Kierstead will be heard on Sunday next.—Fredericton Gleaner.

Prices of Creamery Production in Norway.

Prices of creamery products in Norway have not been so high in 40 or 50 years as they were during 1906, says C. E. Sontum, Commercial Agent at Christiania, in the reports on Canadian Trade and Commerce. The average price of creamery butter in Christiania was about 23 3-4c; the lowest price 20 1-2c; and the highest 30 1-4c. Ten years ago it was about 2 1-4c lower, and that year was considered very good at the time.

Cheese prices were good also, especially for the finer grades, being from a half-cent to a cent and a half higher in price than the next preceding years.

The Postage Nuisance.

(Hamilton Spectator.)

It seems that the United States post office authorities entered into the new newspaper postage arrangement simply to oblige the Canadian postmaster general. The United States postmaster general says:

"We did not want the convention at all, and we stand ready now to return to the old conditions or to arrange for the postponement of the operation of the new amendment until Jan. 1, or any other date."

The best thing the Canadian postmaster general can do is to sit down, pen in hand, and write to the United States postmaster general, acknowledged that he (the C. P. M. G.) had permitted himself to be the victim of a little clique of Toronto publishers of "literary" periodicals who played the "patriotism" game upon him and deluded him; and that he is ready and anxious to undo the harm he has done, and declare the foolishness off. The loss in money to the newspaper publishers is not the only bad feature of the new arrangements. The obligation to handle and weigh every package and plaster postage stamps upon it constitutes a first class nuisance.

DRUGGING CHILDREN.

All so-called "Soothing" syrups and most of the powders advertised to cure childhood ailments contain poisonous opiates and an overdose may kill the child. When the mother uses Baby's Own Tablets she has the guarantee of a government analyst that this medicine contains no opiate or narcotic. They can be given with absolute safety to a new born baby. They cure indigestion, constipation, colic diarrhoea and the other minor ailments of children. Mrs. G. Collins-Hirkella, Man. says:—"Baby's Own Tablets are the most satisfactory medicine I have ever used for the minor ailments of children. I always keep the Tablets in the house." Sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Cholly (enthusiastically)—She is forever smiling upon me.
She—Awfully polite girl! Everyone else laughs outright.—Puck.
